NEW YORK REDS ORGANIZING FOR CAPITAL MARCH

SEATTLE CONTINGENT OFF WITHIN 48 HOURS

Benjamin, Leader of Unit, Predicts 3,000 Will Be Here by Dec. 4.

The prospect of a radical contingent of bonus seekers among the "hunger march" of unemployed and disgruntled farmers which is scheduled to descend on the Capital on December 4 for the opening of Congress appeared imminent last night as organizers began work in New York.

Two so-called leaders of the former service men's forces—Emanuel Levin and Samuel J. Stember, who were driven from billets of the regular bonus army last June because of their dissemination of Communist propaganda—are fostering the formation of a former service men's contingent.

Meanwhile, the first unit of "hunger marchers" is assembling in Seattle, Wash., according to an Associated Press dispatch, and will start within 48 hours for the Capital, according to Chief of Police L. L. Norton.

Meeting in New York.

In New York, Stember presided at a meeting of veterans, and announced that similar conferences, designed to form units of former service men for the Capital march, are being held throughout the country. He predicted that from 500 to 1,000 former service men would leave New York on November 28 or 29 with the Capital as their destination.

During the occupation of the Capital by the bonus army, the outfit headed by Stember and Levin were barred from the billets occupied by the regular veterans because of the dissension it created. Several of them were beaten for fostering communism.

"We know we'll meet with resistance as we did on the last march," Stember said. "We don't call this a bonus; we call it back pay. A bonus is something you haven't earned. A bonus is what the bankers are getting from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation." He attacked what he called the misleaders of the last bonus march.

March Discouraged.

Levin said: "The enemy is doing everything to discourage our march. They say it will be cold in Washington in December. It will be just as cold anywhere in the United States."

The group starting from Seattle will be small in number and will be composed of 30 marchers from Washington, 20 from Oregon, 10 from Idaho and 50 from California, with other State delegations joining them on the way.

This element of the march is under the direction of Herbert B. Benjamin, of New York, a widely-known Communist, who staged the "hunger march" on the Capital last December. In this march, according to his plans, will be six columns, all of which will meet here on December 4.

In all, Benjamin predicts, there will be 3,000 "hunger marchers" here

W. S. Brock, Famous Ocean Flier, Succumbs

Chicago, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—William S. Brock, 36, transatlantic flier, who, with Edward F. Schlee, of Detroit, attempted a record round-the-world flight in 1927, died tonight from cancer at Presbyterian Hospital, where he had been a patient for four months.

18 Killed in Collapse Of Brewery in Poland

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Eighteen persons were killed and about a score were injured this morning when a wall of the Haderbusch & Schiele Brewery collapsed and a huge quantity of barley buried a small adjoining wooden house.

It being Sunday, all 31 tenants of the house were asleep. When victims were extricated it was found only two were killed by the masonry and sixteen were suffocated by the barley. A dog, cat and squirrel were found in the debris, still alive, although surrounded by dead persons.

Premier Denies Spain Seeks War Alliances

Valladolid, Spain, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Premier Azana denied today that Spain is seeking warlike alliances with France or other countries, in an address before several thousand of his constituents.

The premier said that Spain "has an international destiny which she can not and should not escape fulfilling" and that this country seeks her proper place in international affairs.

Horton Smith Winner Of Capital Open Purse

By DAVE HERMAN.

With the magic that lies in his putting blade and the power that propels his woods and irons to their objective, Horton Smith, Missouri's famous contribution to golf, yesterday bounded back into the class of champions, staging a rousing 18-hole comeback for a dazzling sub-par round of 69 to eclipse the brilliance of Denny Shute, of Cleveland, and win the National Capital Open sponsored by the Kenwood Golf and Country Club.

Smith, representing the Oak Park Club of Illinois, reached the rainbow's end with a 54-hole total of 216, and left last night for Pinehurst, N. C., to participate in the Mid-South event with the $700 first prize money safely tucked away.

The broad-shouldered Missourian, whose boyish manner struck the fancy of a gallery of 1,500 spectators, beat out the 135-pound Shute, recent winner of the Glenn Falls, N. Y., open championship, by two strokes, after tying for sixth place with two others at the end of the first day, and trailing third by two shots going into the final 18-hole stretch yesterday.

Shute, one stroke back of the opening day's pace-setters—Francis

CHEST GROUPS TO MAKE FIRST REPORT TODAY

Meeting Will Be Held in Willard Ballroom at 12:15 P. M.

GRAHAM IS PLEASED BY DRIVE PERSONNEL

He Points Out That Workers Give Much of Their Time to Solicit Funds.

Representatives of the army of 5,000 persons now engaged in a campaign to raise $2,419,787 for the Community Chest will make the first report on the success of their efforts at a meeting in the ballroom of the Willard Hotel at 12:15 p. m. today. These report meetings will be held daily except Sunday until the campaign closes on November 23.

Brief talks by E. C. Graham, president of the Community Chest, and Newbold Noyes, campaign chairman, will feature today's meeting. This and all other report meetings will be broadcast through the courtesy of Station WJSV.

No intimation of the results attendant upon the work of these 5,000 persons, some of whom started to work last Thursday, were available last night. It was known that some fairly large contributions had been received, some of them by mail, but no idea could be obtained as to the amount that would be reported today.

Graham Is Enthusiastic.

President Graham was enthusiastic about the personnel of the Chest "army" this year. He pointed out that every worker has started the campaign by making a gift in proportion to his or her ability, and in addition each worker is virtually giving up two weeks of business and other duties to serve the cause of suffering humanity through work for the Chest.

"These people are even paying for their own luncheons and dinners when they meet to report," President Graham said. "Every person present at the special gifts meeting paid for dinner, half the cost of which was contributed by the Mayflower Hotel. Through boxes placed on the table, the workers present at the other organization meetings helped to pay for their dinner, and this method will be used in handling all luncheons, or dinners necessary to bring together the workers for reports. Further than that any deficit incurred on this account is made up by special contributions so that every contributor can feel that every cent he gives is

Gas Well Blows Up After Being Capped

Spouts 20,000,000 Cubic Feet Daily; Equipment Is Shattered.

Coudersport, Pa., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—A gas well which blew up after being capped is spouting 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, on the Hebron Dome project near here today, as plans move forward to halt it.

The well roared in yesterday and was capped at 3 o'clock. Two hours later it blew up, shattering new steel rigging, five 30-foot joints of 26-pound casing, the master gate and other equipment. A short time earlier twelve men were working near it. No one was near when it blew.

New rigging will be needed to cap the spout which has not caught fire, officers of the Tyoga Oil & Gas Co., of Jersey Shore, Pa., said. Ten days will be required to do the work.

Geneva Recalls Troops As Disorders Subside

Geneva, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Troop reinforcements brought from Lausanne returned home today and Geneva calmed down after three days of excitement, following the killing on Wednesday night of 11 persons in an anti-Socialist demonstration. The armed battalions disappeared from the streets and the typical Geneva street scene reappeared.

The 24-hour strike called yesterday by the trade unions to protest against the killings, passed off quietly, although police were forced to disperse a large crowd last night with a fire hose.

Kamchatka Earthquake Is Recorded at G. U.

(Associated Press.)

The seismograph at Georgetown University recorded an earthquake of varying intensity early yesterday lasting almost two hours

The observatory staff reported it began at 11:39 p. m., and continued until 1:45 a. m., reaching its highest intensity at 12:40 a. m. Its distance was estimated at 5,500 miles from Washington in the Northern Pacific in the vicinity of Kamchatka.

4 SUSPECTS JAILED IN FOILED ROBBERY

Gasoline Stations' Collector Fights Off Bandits and Saves Cash.

Less than 24 hours after four bandits attempted to hold up and rob Benjamin Burch, a collector for the Lord Baltimore Filling Stations, as he entered his company's office at 133 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, early yesterday, four Washington men, arrested by United States Park Police, were alleged to have been identified as participants in the attempted robbery.

The holdup was frustrated when Burch fought off his assailants and shouted for help. He was returning to his office with a large amount of money collected from various gas stations throughout the city.

Burch, who has been robbed of large sums on several occasions as he made collections from the company stations, told police that as he was about the enter his office, four men, apparently unarmed, approached and proceeded to grapple with him. As he fought to protect himself, Burch said,

Flier Killed in Crash When Plane Hits Wire

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Lieut. Walter Andrew Oglesby, 23, of the Eighth Attack Squadron, Fort Crockett, was killed by the crash of his plane into a high tension power line about 5 miles from Randolph Field today.

The flier apparently was maneuvering low when the wheels of his landing gear hit the wire. The motor of the high-powered attack ship was thrown 40 feet from the remainder of the plane. Electric service in San Antonio was cut off several minutes. Lieut. Oglesby is survived by his mother, Mrs. B. J. Oglesby, of Charleston, S. C.

ENGLAND TO BLAME STALIN, SAYS SOVIET

Plans to Charge He Directed London Hunger March, Paper Declares.

Moscow, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Izvestia, organ of the central executive committee of the Soviet republic, today published accusations that the British intelligence service plans to fake "proofs" that Joseph Stalin directed the London "hunger march" and is organizing a civil war in India.

The newspaper asserted that the recent breaking of the Anglo-Soviet trade agreement by the British government "opened all flood gates for anti-Soviet propaganda" and that British leaders hoped to dissuade the United States Government from taking action to improve its relations with Soviet Russia.

The paper said: "A fact which we shall not deny is that Stalin is not only the leader of the Soviet proletariat, but that scores of millions of workers and peasants throughout the world see in him their leader. Can this mean, however, that Stalin is therefore responsible for the closing of Ford's plants and the bankruptcy of Insull or for the expulsion of the British textile industry from the Indian market by Japanese competition?"

It added, "Such a conclusion is the delirium which the British intelligence service is able to present the British foreign office only in the hope of purposeful gullibility."

A report by the London Izvestia correspondent was published stating the British intelligence service, in preparation for parliamentary interpellation against the Soviet government, ordered its agents in Riga, Latvia, this month "to fabricate documents and materials testifying that the Comintern (the Third Internationale), under the personal direction of Stalin, organized the unem-

4,000 Plan to Ask Freedom If Dry Law Change Is Voted

Counterattack on Wets Is Launched by Organized Dry Forces.

(Associated Press.)

The organized drys launched into counterattack yesterday on the anti-prohibitionists, who, while jubilant over the election outcome, studied seriously the obstacles in the path of their first objective—quick legalization of beer.

While prediction piled upon prediction that real beer would be had after the winter session of Congress, the Antisaloon League came out with a warning that prohibition still is the law, and that every sworn officer still is bound to uphold it.

"The way the wets are now starting off," said the Antisaloon League statement, "is a good indication that they have learned nothing and that the eighteenth amendment will have to be retained as the only solution of the liquor problem. * * *

(Copyright, 1932, by United Press.)

Four thousand Federal prisoners convicted of liquor law violations are preparing to make a united demand for freedom in the event the prohibition act is repealed or modified.

Officials of the Prison Bureau here told the United Press such a movement already has made considerable progress in the various Government penal institutions.

Liquor law violators comprise 36 per cent of the entire population of Federal prisons. Sentences range from a few months to seven years. Most of these prisoners are first-term offenders. Many are women and youths.

"It is a fair assumption that more than half of these prisoners never would have committed other federal offenses," Director Sanford Bates of the Prison Bureau said.

It costs the Government about $240 a year to maintain each prisoner.

ROOSEVELT INVITED BY PRESIDENT TO CONFER HERE ON BRITISH AND FRENCH MOVES FOR DEBT RELIEF; GOVERNOR EXPECTED TO ACCEPT

Silent, But He Has Favored Plan Previously.

Cold Is Almost Gone; to Meet Leaders in Congress.

Albany, N. Y., Nov 13 (A.P.).—While Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaccessible at the executive mansion tonight, his recent telegram to President Hoover and expressions he has given friends since his election gave rise to the belief that he would accept the invitation of the President to a conference at the White House next week.

The President-elect, recuperating from a cold and behind a mandate of public silence for the last two days, said on the day after his election that he would take up the matter of such a conference when it came to him in definite shape. He did not indicate that he would be unfavorably inclined toward it.

Cold Almost Gone.

While the cold has almost completely disappeared, he spent the day quietly in his room, resting and reading. Mrs. Roosevelt remained in Albany during the morning, but after worshiping at the All Saints Cathedral she returned to New York to resume her teaching duties tomorrow.

On a somewhat smaller scale, the President-elect will resume Tuesday after another day's rest a work that is similar in many respects to one of the major problems that will confront him when he goes into the White House next March.

Plans Trip to Georgia.

Virtually the entire week of the President-elect will be given over to consideration of State affairs, with most of it devoted to work on the budget in preparation for his departure at the end of the week for Warm springs to attend the annual Thanksgiving dinner of the board of directors of the Warm Springs Foundation.

Afterward he will meet with numerous members of Congress to talk over with them the course that the Democrats will follow through the short session of Congress.

Roosevelt Is Felicitated By Manchukuo Leader

Changchun, Manchuria (Monday), Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Foreign Minister Hsieh Chieh-Hsih today telegraphed congratulations to President-elect Roosevelt in which he hoped that the new American administration would "understand the real situation in Manchuria."

The foreign minister added that Manchukuo offered renewed pledges that an open-door policy will be observed and pledges of welcome to American trade and investment, in return for American sympathy.

United Air Offices In Chicago Held Up

Gunmen Pose as Employes With Police Near and Get $400.

Chicago, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Three robbers took over the operations of the United Airlines ticket offices for a half hour this afternoon and issued information to a number of passengers and inquirers while rifling the safe and cash drawers. They escaped with $400.

Appearing as prospective customers, the men displayed revolvers, forced three employes into a rear room of the office, bound and gagged them, and taking off their coats, proceeded to usurp the roles of their victims.

They accomplished their looting and drove away in an automobile. The employes extricated themselves and summoned police. The ticket offices are located on Michigan avenue, thronged with the usual Sunday afternoon strollers. Less than 20 feet away a policeman directed traffic during the robbery.

Cooperation of Italy Asked in Insull Case

Rome, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Confident that extradition proceedings in Athens will turn in their favor, Charles A. Bellows and Andrew J. Vlachos, assistant States attorneys of Chicago, arrived here today to ask the Italian government's cooperation in the transportation of Samuel Insull to Chicago. Insull is wanted there in connection with the failure of his public utilities companies.

The attorneys said they believed it might be necessary to touch Italian ports on their way from Greece or to travel in an Italian boat. They wanted to make sure that no complications would develop.

Hoover Telegram Inviting Roosevelt to Conference

On Board Presidential Special en Route to Washington, Nov. 13 (A.P.). The full text of the telegram sent today by President Hoover to Franklin D. Roosevelt, inviting the President-elect to a preinauguration conference, follows:

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Albany, N. Y.

The Secretary of State has informed me that the British Ambassador, on behalf of his government, has handed him a note stating that "they believe that the regime of intergovernmental financial obligations as now existing must be reviewed, that they are profoundly impressed with the importance of acting quickly and that they earnestly hope that the United States Government will see its way clear to enter into an exchange of views at the earliest possible moment."

The British government further asks for a suspension of the payments due by the British government to our Government for the period of the discussion suggested or for any other period that may be agreed upon.

This last suggestion clearly relates to the payment of $95,000,000, which will fall due on December 15, 1932. I have requested the Secretary of State to transmit you a full copy of that note.

The Secretary of State has also just been informed that similar requests are to be made by other debtor governments which likewise are obligated to make payments to the United States on December 15 next. One debtor nation defaulted on a payment due November 10 and another debtor nation served notice on our Government of its incapacity to make a payment due in December. Thus, our Government is now confronted with a world problem of major importance to this Nation.

The moratorium which I proposed a year ago in June—that is, the year's postponement of intergovernmental debts and the spread of the deferred

BRITAIN HOLDS MOVE AID TO WORLD TRADE

United European Front on Debts Again Is Denied; Accord Predicted.

London, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The British proposal for suspension of British war debt payments due to the United States on December 15, made public in Washington, was described by Government officials tonight as a businesslike move in the interests of the whole world.

The British government considered that an announcement that Britain has started negotiations with the United States for final settlement of the war debts and that, until these negotiations are concluded, no further payments will be made, would have the salutary effect of stabilizing world confidence and promoting recovery of trade.

While taking this world viewpoint, British sources were emphatic in professing that no united front has been formed by European debtor nations for pressing the war debts issue with the United States.

It was admitted that Britain will keep close touch with other debtor nations, but that the movement of presenting its note to Washington was guided entirely by the American political situation. Without desiring to raise a question which might have been a campaign issue, it was said in British circles that the government waited until the election was over and then made its overture at the earliest possible moment. It was assumed in London that the French took the same view.

The note was presented without awaiting President Hoover's return to the Capital, it was said, because with only five weeks before payment was due, quick action was needed, particularly if Congress needed to prepare for the question before meeting in December.

In Government quarters there seemed little doubt that the British

SESSION ON DEBTS FAVORED BY WALSH

Opposition to Readjustment Predicted by Swanson; Borah Is Silent.

(Associated Press.)

Senator Walsh (Democrat), Montana, said last night that "if the debts question is urgent enough and it becomes necessary to dispose of the matter at once, a special session of Congress should be called."

"I think the debt suspension proposals ought to be most carefully considered by Congress," Walsh told newspapermen in commenting on the requests received from Great Britain and France for an extension of the moratorium and for reopening of the debt question.

Senator Swanson, of Virginia, ranking Democrat on the foreign relations committee, of which Walsh also is a member, said:

"The American people would be loath to relieve the tax burdens of foreigners and impose them on themselves. Many of the nations involved in the debt question are superior to the United States both industrially and financially. Congress in the past has dealt most generously with Europe in debt settlements. I do not care to say anything further about the future."

Anti-Semitic Rioters Dispersed in Poland

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Both the Wolff and Telegraphen Union news agencies reported anti-Semitic rioting today in Lwow, Poland, and said police with clubs dispersed 1,000 Nationalist students who marched on the city and smashed hundreds of windows in Jewish stores.

Eight students were reported injured and 40 arrested.

Giant Blast Diverts River For Hoover Dam Excavation

Water Rushes Through Hole 50 Feet in Diameter, Marking First Step in Project to Harness It Definitely; 24 Hours Required for Outflow.

Boulder City, Nev., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Man turned the muddy waters of the mighty Colorado River through a hole in one of its mile-high canyon walls today—a man-made hole burrowed in one year to remove the river from the bed it had been carving deeper, year by year, for more ages than man has known it.

The diversion of the river is the first step in the $165,000,000 project to harness it definitely, through the construction of the Hoover Dam, to work for the good of man.

Turned from its "Grand Canyon" through a black hole in the Arizona wall—a bore 50 feet in diameter—by a blast of dynamite at 11:30 this morning, the river plunged underground to skirt the site of the greatest dam ever planned by man, to permit excavation, first, for the dam foundation, and, later, its construction.

As the waters surged into the tunnel to a 5-foot depth, great power shovels bit away the debris from the blast and hurled it into the river bed.

Other big steam shovels were on the trestle bridge across the river busily engaged in completing an earthfill dam so all of the flow would be forced into the diversion tunnel.

This work was expected to take 24 hours, with the complete diversion of the river being effected by tomorrow noon.

Meanwhile, other shovels were completing a second earthfill dam down near the lower outlet of the division tunnels, to prevent any backwash from the river.

Thus, after a year's work, the engineers will succeed in turning the river from its bed for nearly a mile, pipe-lining it through the canyon walls, entirely around the dam site.

Crisis Is Seen by Hoover in Stand of Powers.

Internation Meetings May Be Decided on at Parley.

Intergovernmental debt negotiations crystallized in the following significant events yesterday:

1. President Hoover, speeding across the continent, invited President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt to confer with him at the White House this week regarding the formal request from Great Britain and France for a postponement of their December 15 debt payment.

2. Great Britain and France have requested the United States to postpone payment of their war debts installments until the entire debt question could be reviewed.

3. The President also invited his erstwhile political adversary to bring to the White House conference any Democratic leaders from Congress or other advisers he may desire.

4. Great Britain emphasized the necessity of beginning the debt conversations at the earliest possible moment. Indications from London were that Stanley Baldwin might come over especially for the meeting, although the British Ambassador announced his government is prepared to negotiate through him.

5. France made the same request in the same tone and asked for "a spirit of frankness and true friendliness" in the discussion.

By HAROLD J. T. HORAN.

President Hoover yesterday telegraphed an invitation to President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt for a conference at the White House this week on the proposal of the British and French governments to postpone their December 15 debt payments until the entire war debt problem is reexamined in the light of present-day world conditions.

In the telegram to his erstwhile political adversary, President Hoover quoted some pertinent paragraphs of the British note which was made public here last night. The United States is "confronted with a world problem of major importance to this Nation," the President said.

President Hoover reiterated his opposition to cancellation but left the door open for tangible "compensatory proposals" from the debtor nations. President-elect Roosevelt in his Albany speech last July hinted at a similar solution but from another approach, the rehabilitation of international trade as a means of creating the wherewithal to make payments possible.

Notes Studied by Hoover.

Upon the Democratic majority in both houses of the new Congress rests the responsibility for the solution of the debts. Since President-elect Roosevelt is the leader and fountain-head of the Democratic parliamentary chiefs, President Hoover indicated his desire to exchange views with him on this and "other important questions."

The text of the British and French notes had been forwarded to the President in California and he has been studying them en route here. The decision to confer with the President-elect came after Mr. Hoover had reviewed the suggestion contained in both notes. The two governments desire to reopen the debt question by a series of conversations here in Washington. It is believed possible that out of the

PRESIDENT HURRIES TO REACH CAPITAL

Few Stops Scheduled as Hoover Special Roars Eastward.

On Board Presidential Special En Route to Washington, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—While his train rolled swiftly eastward across the Arizona desert, President Hoover today made public a telegram to Franklin D. Roosevelt, asking the President-elect to confer with him at the White House on pressing international debt questions.

Mr. Hoover's telegram was dispatched to the New York Governor at Albany yesterday and, though the conference was suggested for next week, the President hopes to see Mr. Roosevelt within the next five or six days.

High administration sources reported late today the President had not yet received a reply from the President-elect, but intimation was given that moratorium matters might be discussed.

Decision Sudden One.

The Chief Executive's decision to ask Mr. Roosevelt into conference apparently was a sudden one, for Lawrence Richey, one of his secretaries, has told newspapermen aboard the train on several occasions that Mr. Hoover had not made any such decision.

Almost two hours behind schedule, because of the President's protracted inspection of Hoover Dam last night under the combined illumination of a full desert moon and floodlights, his special train today hurried to make up time through Arizona and New Mexico. Most of the day's travel was through dry and mountainous country.

It was disclosed authoritatively aboard the train today that one of Mr. Hoover's reasons for the nearly 24-hour journey to the big dam project was to seek better coordination of the Federal and private agencies at work there under a schedule that has been revised to speed up the work greatly.

Few Stops Scheduled.

Mr. Hoover, it was said authoritatively today, now plans to make the fewest possible number of stops until he once more reaches the White House.

In addition to his annual message to Congress and his following budget message, he hopes to send to Capitol Hill detailed plans for reorganizing the Government.

It was stated by an administration source today that the Chief Executive intends to have no more to say about international debt matters until his conference with Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. Hoover held a brief press conference in the motor car of the train today, but declined to speak about debt questions or the lines along which his conference with Mr. Roosevelt will be laid.

Federal Economy Put Up to Hoover

Senator George Says Real Savings Can Be Made by President.

Atlanta, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, issued a statement here today saying substantial savings and progress toward reorganizing the Federal governmental machinery will be made within 60 days after Congress convenes in December, if President Hoover will vigorously exercise powers given him by the economy bill.

The ranking Democratic senator of the joint committee on economy in veterans' affairs created by the last session of Congress was en route to Washington. He said the committee will take up its work early this week.

"The way to real economy in Federal expenditures is pointed out in a bill prepared and introduced by me at the last Congress and now embodied literally in the economy bill, giving to the President power to merge, consolidate and abolish outright all executive agencies, boards, bureaus and commissions," Senator George said.

Tax Strike Seen In Philadelphia

Former Mayor Calls Wage Levy Picking Pockets of Workingman.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—A "tax strike"—combining Gandhi's passive resistance with direct action—loomed tonight as councilmanic leaders indicated they would rush the income tax measure through council.

Called a "pick-pocket" tax by former Mayor Harry A. Mackey, the new levy would take one-half of 1 per cent from the pay of every Philadelphian. Incomes from investments, however, are exempt under provisions of the act, which was presented by the Chamber of Commerce.

"It is nothing more or less than placing the city in the position of picking the pockets of the workingmen," Mackey declared. "It is such measures that lead to violence and revolution." Despite the rising opposition of an aroused citizenry, which swept over the city like a tidal wave today, President of Council Edwin Cox said it "was fair and equitable."

Sir Auckland Geddes Arrives at New York

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Sir Auckland Geddes, former British Ambassador to the United States, arrived on the Brittanic today.

Sir Auckland, who is chairman of the Rhokana Corporation, a British copper firm, said his business was purely private. He declined to discuss foreign debts, politics or business and denied that he had come to attend a conference on copper prices. It has been reported that such a conference is to be held in New York soon.

Dead Spitz in Pajamas Upsets Murder Theory

Chicago, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Armed with shovels, police squads yesterday afternoon hurried to a vacant lot on the northwest side. A man's body, they were told, had been buried there.

Four feet down, a small coffin was unearthed. The wooden lid was lifted, revealing the body of a spitz dog, clad in pajamas and lying on a pillow. A wreath of flowers was around its neck. The coffin was reburied.

Text of British and French Notes on Debt Situation

(Associated Press.)

The French and British notes to the American Government on the war debt question follow in full text:

British Embassy,
Washington, D. C.
November 10, 1932.

The Hon. Henry L. Stimson,
Secretary of State of the United States,
Washington, D. C.

Sir: It will be remembered that on June 22, 1931, his majesty's government in the United Kingdom subscribed whole-heartedly to the principle of the proposal made by the President of the United States on the preceding day for the postponement during one year of all payments on intergovernmental debts.

The object of this proposal, as stated at the time, was to relieve the pressure of the difficulties resulting from the fall in prices and lack of confidence in economic and political stability, and to assist in the reestablishment of confidence.

2. The hopes which were early raised by the President's initiative have unfortunately not been realized, and the economic troubles which it was designed to alleviate have not come to an end. Indeed in October of last year the communique published at Washington on the occasion of M. Laval's visit already recognized that "prior to the expiration of the Hoover year some agreement on intergovernmental obligations may be necessary covering the period of the business depression. The initiative in this matter should be taken early by the European powers principally concerned within the framework of the agreements existing prior to July 15, 1931." Today many thoughtful men throughout the world are convinced that if the depression is to be overcome, further remedial measures must be sought.

3. It was in accordance with the recommendation quoted above that in June last the European creditor powers met at Lausanne to agree on a lasting settlement of the problem created by intergovernmental payments in respect of reparations. The series of agreements reached on July 9 aims at the ultimate termination of all reparations payments. It represents the maximum contribution in the field of intergovernmental finance which the governments concerned have so far been able to make toward that early restoration of world prosperity in which the people of the United States, no less than those of the British commonwealth of nations, have so deep an interest, and for the achievement of which the cooperation of the United States is essential.

4. On the nature of the remedial measures that may have to be adopted it is not proposed now to say more than that, in the recent past, his majesty's government in the United Kingdom have frequently expressed their view, and that neither in the realm of theory nor in that of fact are they able to find any reason for amending it. They believe that the regime of intergovernmental financial obligations as now existing must be reviewed. They are profoundly impressed with the importance of acting quickly; and they earnestly hope that the United States Government will see its way to enter into an exchange of views at the earliest possible moment.

5. The immediate objective of the present note, however, is of a more limited nature. On December 15 the next installment of the British war debt is due to be paid. It is not possible to hope that agreement can be achieved in five weeks on matters of such vast scope. Confronted last summer with a similar difficulty the conference of Lausanne found it necessary, in order to allow its work to proceed undisturbed, to reserve, during the period of the conference, the execution of the payments due to the participating powers. His majesty's government in the United Kingdom hope that a similar procedure may now be followed, and ask for a suspension of the payments due from them for the period of the discussions now suggested or for any other period that may be agreed upon.

6. His majesty's government in the United Kingdom believe that the proposed discussions could best begin in Washington and if this suggestion meets with concurrence, they are prepared to provide me with the necessary instructions. On this point, however, as well as on the other points touched upon in the present note, they await an expression of the views of the United States Government.

I have the honour to be, with the highest consideration, sir,

Your most obedient, humble servant,
(Signed) R. C. LINDSAY.

The State Department announced the views of the French government were contained in a memorandum, the translation of which follows:

Paris, Nov. 10, 1932.

Memorandum of the French Government.

The French government, seriously concerned with the effect that the problems arising from the intergovernmental debts are having on the world-wide depression, deems it of vital importance to approach the government of the United States, asking it to cooperate in examining this question in a spirit of frankness and true friendliness.

During the months of June and July last the governments of Europe assembled in Lausanne with a view to averting to the very best of their ability the difficulties arising from the payments which these debts entail.

Basing its action upon the principles which were expressed in the joint communique issued on October 25, 1931, by President Hoover and Mr. Laval at the conclusion of their discussions, and which were the logical development of the proposal made by the President of the United States in June, 1931, the French government, certain of being in close accord with the ideas of the American Government, voluntarily agreed to very heavy sacrifices at Lausanne, hoping thereby to appease resentment existing among nations, and at the same time to make a contribution toward economic recovery and toward the consolidation of peace.

Important as were the effects of the Lausanne conference, it must be said that the economic and financial difficulties which stand in the way of a resumption of normal relations between nations are still present, and that a further effort must be made to put an end to them in the interest of all.

The attitude which France displayed at Lausanne and at Stresa is proof of the active interest which she attaches to the prompt economic recovery of Europe and of the effort which she still contemplates making toward fulfilling this task. France is no less anxious to cooperate in bringing about the success of the world-wide economic and monetary conference.

It is in this very same spirit that the French government today proposes to the Government of the United States to join with it in a further study of the debt question. Inasmuch as such a study will, by virtue of circumstances, require too much time for a speedy conclusion to appear probable, the French government asks that, in accordance with the process followed at Lausanne, an extension of the suspension of payments may be granted to the French government in order that the study of the present serious problems now under discussion may be continued and completed in the necessary atmosphere of mutual trust. The French government is further convinced that such a step would have the most helpful effect on the monetary crisis which threatens so many nations.

Trusting in the high wisdom and the spirit of justice of the American Government, the French government is convinced that its point of view will be understood and that the request contained herein will be favorably received."

SLOAN COMMITTEE ASKS DEBT REVISION

Economic Group Is Also for Moratorium Extension, Report Shows.

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—An extension of the moratorium on international debt payments and "reconsideration and readjustment of the intergovernmental debt-funding agreements" are urged in a report made public today by the Committee for the Consideration of Intergovernmental Debts.

The committee is headed by Alfred P. Sloan, jr., president of the General Motors Corporation. The report was drawn up by a group of outstanding economists.

It was indorsed, the announcement said, by 51 business, farm and labor leaders, including Alfred E. Smith, former New York Governor; Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University; George W. Wickersham, former Attorney General, and James M. Cox, former Governor of Ohio.

Return Would Pay U. S.

"A reasonable readjustment of intergovernmental debts," the report said, "promises far greater material benefits to the American people than the direct income which would be received if payment could be made in full."

Pointing out that an increase of 1 per cent in the Nation's annual income would amount to more than twice the current annual debt payments, the economists maintain that "a readjustment of these debts, in the light of present world conditions, suited both to the capacity of our debtors to pay and to our ability to receive—especially if it involved favorable concessions to American trade—would go far toward the stimulation of world-wide and American economic recovery."

"Employment and the earnings of American labor would be increased," the report continues. "The profits of agriculture and industry would expand.

Aid to Bond Market.

"Security of private American investments in European countries, and of foreign bonds now held by American investors, would be strengthened.

"Furthermore, through this improvemint in business, tax revenues would automatically increase, while the burden of taxation upon the people would be reduced."

The report is signed by James W. Angell, Columbia professor; Ernest Minor Patterson, University of Pennsylvania professor; Edwin R. A. Seligman, Columbia professor; Frank W. Taussig, Harvard professor; Rufus S. Tucker, a consulting economist; Jacob Viner, University of Chicago professor, and John Parke Young, Occidental College professor.

Harry A. Pratt Dies At Corning, N. Y., Home

Corning, N. Y., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Former United States Representative Harry H. Pratt, who served from the thirty-seventh New York congressional district from 1915 to 1919, died here today. He was 68.

He was editor and publisher of the Corning Daily Journal from 1906 to 1919, and later managing editor of the Erie Railroad magazine.

Hoover-Laval Debt View Referred to in 2 Notes

(Associated Press.)

Here is what the joint statement of President Hoover and Premier Laval, issued after their conference here on October 25, 1931, had to say about intergovernmental debts. It is referred to in both the British and French war debt notes made public yesterday.

"Insofar as intergovernmental obligations are concerned, we recognize that prior to the expiration of the Hoover year of postponement, some agreement regarding them may be necessary covering the period of business depression, as to the terms and conditions of which the two governments make all reservations. The initiative in this matter should be taken at an early date by the European powers principally concerned within the framework of the agreements existing prior to July 1, 1931."

NAZI INFORMATION UNIT FORMED HERE

Kurt G. W. Ludecke Placed in Charge of Bureau; Task Is Two-Fold.

Germany's National Socialist Party—the Nazis—has established an information bureau here with the announced purpose of supplying "authentic information" about the character and aims of the organization.

Kurt G. W. Ludecke, former representative of the party in Rome, will be chief of the bureau and has taken up permanent residence here. Mr. Ludecke arrived about ten days ago and has been busy ever since setting up the new bureau.

Called by a reporter last night, the American press representative of the National Socialist Party immediately set him straight as to the derivation of the appellation "Nazi."

In German, he said, the name of his party is National Sozilistische Deutsch Arbeiter Party, and a contraction of the first syllables of the first two and principal denominators of the party produce "Nazi"—pronounced "Nahzee." The Anglicization of the party name is, of course, National Socialist German Workers Party.

The information bureau will have a two-fold task, said Mr. Ludecke. First, he declared, it will function as a news agency for the entire Nazi press in Germany. Second, it will "supply the American press and public with authentic information about the character and aims of the National Socialist movement and its relation to the Germany of today."

Actively engaged in the Nazi movement since 1921, Mr. Ludecke is no stranger to the United States. In 1927 he married an American women and has lived in this country much of the time since.

Dissemination of information about the Nazi movement in Mexico and Canada will also be a function of the bureau, Mr. Ludecke said.

PRESIDENT'S MOVE BREAKS PRECEDENT

(Associated Press.)

Pages of history were thumbed and memories searched in vain yesterday for an exact precedent for President Hoover's surprising action of inviting his successor to help share in framing policies of state before he takes office. The move recalled plans considered by Wilson and Lincoln, but find its only similar action on record in the confidential information on conditions in Mexico sent to Wilson by President Taft after his defeat in 1912.

A search of available records showed:

That President Wilson planned to clear the way for an immediate succession by Charles E. Hughes in 1916 had he been defeated, by making him Secretary of State and having the Wilsonian regime resign so that he would take office automatically.

That President Lincoln, at the end of his first term, thought defeat possible, and proposed to call in his successor for cooperative efforts during the final months of his tenure of office during the dark days of the Civil War.

As neither lost, their contemplated actions remained in the embryonic stage.

President Taft, aside from supplying Mr. Wilson with information, refrained from committing the country to any decisive Mexican policy, leaving this to the man who would carry the burden.

In connection with Mr. Hoover's action, his congratulatory message Tuesday night to his Democratic conqueror, was recalled.

"In the common purpose of all of us I shall dedicate myself to every possible helpful effort," he wired then.

The message yesterday said: "If there is to be any change in the attitude of Congress it will be greatly affected by the views of those members who recognize you as their leader and who will properly desire your counsel and advice."

Defeated Presidents for the most part have confined their last months in office to preparing to step aside gracefully—some, like Andrew Johnson and the two Adamses, displaying temper as they left without doing full honors to their successors.

Reynaud Says Election Death Blow to Tariffs

Le Havre, France, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Paul Reynaud, vice premier in the last Tardieu cabinet, on his return here today from the United States said the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt to the Presidency of the United States permitted Frenchmen to envisage favorable debt arrangements and retightening of traditional Franco-American friendships.

M. Reynaud said, however, that it would be an illusion to believe that the war debts will be cancelled in the near future. "The American election is a condemnation of prohibitive tariffs now in force in the United States," he said.

proposals would be accepted. The view was expressed that such action was desired as creditor powers took at the beginning of the Lausanne reparations conference, so negotiations for final settlement of the whole debts problem could be carried on in an atmosphere of "cool detachment."

It was not expected that a formal debt conference would be convened in Washington, but that the United States would negotiate with individual debtor countries. No plans have been made for Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, to go to the United States on such a mission, but he would be available, as was Stanley Baldwin, lord president of the council, for the original funding negotiation.

The official view was taken that Britain's note and any negotiations arising therefrom were not expected to affect in any way the forthcoming world economic conference, at which the United States does not desire the debts to be discussed. The London view is that the debt negotiations at Washington and the economic conference in London could proceed concurrently.

he felt "very strongly" on the debt question and viewed the proposals of Britain and France "as an effort to saddle the United States with the burdens which properly belong to the European governments."

Senator Borah (Republican), Idaho, chairman of the committee, said he did not care to comment until he had studied the French and British notes.

Senator Swanson said he looked forward with keen interest to the conferences proposed by President Hoover.

Senator Reed expressed himself as "heartily in accord with the proposals for conferences between the two parties."

"I certainly do not regard the debt question from a partisan point of view at all," Reed said.

"The outgoing and the incoming administrations, as well as the Democrats and Republicans in Congress ought to work in complete harmony in considering the European proposals."

WATER IS DIVERTED IN BIG DAM PROJECT

Dam work, to keep all water from seeping into the dam site, the excavation for the dam foundations will be started.

This excavation is expected to extend to a depth of 130 feet below the present river bed to bare the rock structure upon which the dam will be built. Four hundred thousand cubic yards of rock will be excavated for the dam foundation.

The dam itself will contain 3,400,000 cubic yards of material, including some 5,000,000 barrels of cement. Three years, it is estimated, will be required for the placing of concrete in the dam.

Four on Supreme Bench Eligible for Retirement

2 More, Hughes and Butler, Will Join Van Devanter, McReynolds, Brandeis and Sutherland on List in Roosevelt Administration.

(Associated Press.)

Two-thirds of the members of the United States Supreme Court will have become eligible for retirement by the end of the Roosevelt administration and the Democratic President-elect, during his term, may have occasion to make appointments to that august body.

Four justices—Van Devanter, McReynolds, Brandeis and Sutherland—are eligible for retirement now, and during the next administration Chief Justice Hughes and Justice Butler will become so.

A member of the Supreme Court, although appointed for life, may retire on full pay after having reached the age of 70 and served 10 years on the Federal bench.

Only Congress, however, can force a justice to take off his judicial robes and then only for malfeasance in office or because of physical or mental disabilities.

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, the last member of the court to resign and go on the retired list, served as long as his physical strength would permit and quit at 91 when he found he could no longer discharge his arduous duties to his own complete satisfaction.

Justice Brandeis has remained on the bench sixteen years and shows no disposition to lay aside his judicial duties. Justice Van Devanter became eligible for retirement two and a half years ago and Justice McReynolds last February. All of these are enjoying good health.

Justice Sutherland became eligible October 2 and has not been in the best of health, although his physical condition is better than a year ago.

No one in the confidence of the four justices now eligible for retirement will attempt to forecast their plans.

The present membership of the court consists of five Republicans—Hughes, Van Devanter, Sutherland, Stone and Roberts; and four Democrats—McReynolds, Brandeis, Butler and Cardozo.

HOOVER INVITES ROOSEVELT TO PARLEY ON DEBT PROBLEM

presidential meeting may come plans for a series of meetings here in Washington to end definitely the debt problem and its attendant ills.

The British note is in the form of a letter from the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, to Secretary Stimson. The French demarche is in memorandum form which was presented without comment by French Ambassador Paul Claudel to Col. Stimson at his Woodley home last Friday.

The aim of both letters is synonymous: postponement of their December 15 payments until the entire debt question can be reopened. The British Government is evidently prepared to discuss the question immediately.

Ambassador Lindsay announced that his government is prepared "to act quickly" in providing him with the necessary instructions. The French memorandum was not as specific as the note from Whitehall. Sir John Simon and Philippe Berthelot, who were most concerned in the drafting of the messages, took great pains to conceal the similarity of intent in order to avoid creating the impression in American circles that they had made a united front.

The United States has reiterated its intention of examining the individual debts of foreign governments instead of a consideration en masse of the problem. The obvious implication in both notes was that the United States should deal with the debt problem in a very general way without settling with each individual debtor, as was done at the moment the various debt accords were ratified.

British Debt Stand.

The British note declared:

"His Majesty's government believes that the regime of intergovernmental financial obligations as now existing must be reviewed." Then with an almost whimsical turn, as if the writer had suddenly bethought himself of the primary object of his note, the letter continues:

"The immediate objective of the present note, however, is of more limited nature. On December 15 the next installment of the British war debt is due to be paid. * * * His Majesty's government * * * ask for a suspension of the payments due from them for the period of the discussions now suggested, or for any other period that may be agreed upon."

The British payment due on December 15 is $95,550,000. France owes $19,261,438. A total of $123,641,698 is due from these two countries and Italy, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Esthonia, Lithuania, Poland, Latvia and Finland.

The British diplomatic missive was a carefully inductive piece of reasoning which reserved the plea for postponement to the end of the letter. The French memorandum plunged right into the problem in the first paragraph.

"The French government deems it of vital importance to approach the Government of the United States, asking it to cooperate in examining the question of intergovernmental debts in a spirit of frankness and true friendliness.

"Inasmuch as such a study will, by virtue of circumstances, require too much time for a speedy conclusion to appear probable, the French government asks that, in accordance with the process followed at Lausanne, an extension of the suspension of payments may be granted to the French government in order that the study of the present serious problems now under discussion may be continued and completed in the necessary atmosphere of mutual trust."

Gentlemen's Agreement.

Both notes referred to the Lausanne conference and to the benefits derived from its agreement. No reference, however, was made to the gentlemen's agreement which formed the appendix to the main document, and upon which the fate of the entire agreement depended. This was a proviso that the termination of Germany's reparations was contingent upon favorable action by the United States regarding debts from England, France and the other allies. The exact language of the agreement was as follows:

"This ratification will not be effected until a satisfactory settlement has been reached between them (England, France, Italy, &c.), and their own creditors."

Quick Action Urged.

However, the French note yesterday, indicated the permanence of the Lausanne agreement so far as her payments due from Germany are concerned, for the note states:

"The French government, certain of being in close accord with the ideas of the American Government, voluntarily agreed to very heavy sacrifices at Lausanne, hoping thereby to appease resentment existing among nations."

Both notes took their theme from the communique issued at the conclusion of Premier Laval's visit here last year. The British note developed the achievements at Lausanne, "where the maximum contribution in the field of intergovernmental finance" was reached.

The importance of acting quickly was stressed. Probably Great Britain, faced with a severe fiscal problem in the decline of the pound sterling and economic distress, feels this necessity. "His majesty's government are profoundly impressed with the importance of acting quickly; and they earnestly hope that the United States Government will see its way to enter into an exchange of views at the earliest possible moment."

Anglo-American War Debts Balance Sheet

London, Nov. 12 (A.P.).—Concise Anglo-American war debts balance sheet as given out by official quarters tonight:

Payment due the United States December 12, $95,500,000. (£20,000,000 at par; £28,000,000 at the present rate).

Of this amount, $30,000,000 represents payment on capital and $65,000,000 represents interest.

Total British debt funded is $4,600,000, of which $202,000,000 has been paid on the principal of the debt and $1,149,700,000 has been paid as interest.

The total amount paid by Great Britain to the United States thus far is $1,351,700,000.

These are official British figures.

Big Nose Blamed In Man's Suicide

Most Definite Inferiority Complex on Record Seen in Student's Death.

St. Louis, Nov. 13 (U.P.).—Washington University is mourning the death of a popular student—Theodore Hofman, 24, who killed himself because he had a big nose.

While students wondered if their teasing had been the cause of his death, professors analyzed the motives of the dead man, and decided he was the victim of the most pronounced inferiority complex on record.

"It comes down to this," said Prof. John P. Nafe, head of the university's psychology department, "to live with a big nose one must have spunk. It's too bad young Hofman never read 'Cyrano de Bergerac.' If he had, he wouldn't have killed himself."

Hofman left a note saying that his big nose had been the subject of teasing throughout his life. "I feared the world, but not death," he said.

Empire State to Put 5,000 Idle to Work

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Approximately 5,000 men are to be put to work as soon as possible by State and county authorities as the initial step in making use of the $30,000,000 bond issue for unemployment relief, which was approved by Tuesday's general election.

The State temporary emergency relief administration made this announcement today in authorizing the allocation of $541,500 to the State conservation department for park improvement and Gypsy Moth control projects.

Tokyo Peace Body Meets Su Ping-Wen

Conference on Manchukuo Rebellion Is Held in Siberia.

Moscow, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—A Tass News Agency dispatch received from Chita, Siberia, near the Manchurian border, announced that a Japanese-Manchurian commission had arrived at the Soviet border station, Machevskaya, Saturday to negotiate with Gen. Su Ping-Wen for peace in northwestern Manchuria and the release of Japanese residents held prisoners in the vicinity of Manchuli.

Gen. Su Ping-Wen is a former Manchurian officer who rebelled against the newly credated Manchukuo state and who now holds in his grasp the territory adjacent to Manchuli.

Permission to negotiate on Soviet soil was granted by Moscow at the request of the Japanese government, which desired to talk with Gen. Su on neutral territory. The Japanese commission is headed by the chief of the Japanese military commission in Harbin.

Gen. Lester Dies After Operation

Appendicitis Attack Fatal to Retired Officer at Saratoga Springs.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—James Westcott Lester, retired brigadier general and a former commander of the New York State National Guard, died late last night at Saratoga Hospital after an operation for acute appendicitis. He was 73 years old. He retired in 1923 after 39 years in the Army and the National Guard.

In 1916, five years after he became a brigadier general in the National Guard, the Third Brigade, under his command, was the first to be sent to the Mexican border in the troubles of 1916. Later he was put in command of all New York State troops there. In 1918 he was commissioned a brigadier general in the National Army and commanded the Fifty-fourth Infantry Brigade, which he trained for warfare.

In civilian life he was a lawyer. A sister and four sons survive. His wife died six weeks ago.

Hoover Telegram Inviting Roosevelt to Conference

payment over ten years—was approved by Congress.

It served a great purpose in staying destruction in every direction and giving to Europe a year in which to realize and so modify their attitude on solely European questions as to support their credit structure from a great deal of further destruction. They have made very substantial progress during that year in financial adjustments among themselves and toward armament reduction.

Commission Created By Act of Congress.

Practically all of our World War debt settlements were made not by the Executive, but by the commission created by act of Congress, and all were approved in the form of legislation enacted by both Houses.

A year ago in recommending to the Congress ratification of the moratorium I presented a statement of my views as to the whole of the relationship of ourselves to our debtor countries and pointed out that debts to us bore no relationship to debts between other nations which grew out of the war.

At the same time I recommended to the Congress that a new debt commission be created to deal with situations that might arise owing to the temoprary incapacity of any individual debtor to meet its obligations to our country during the period of world depression.

Congress declined to accede to this latter recommndation. It passed a joint resolution reading in part as follows:

"It is hereby expressly declared to be against the policy of the Congress that any of the indebtedness of foreign countries to the United States should be in any manner canceled or reduced, and nothing in this joint resolution shall be construed as indicating a contrary policy or as implying that favorable consideration will be given at any time to a change in the policy hereby declared."

The limitation to purely temporary and individual action as to those incapable of payment during the depression, expressed in the communique referred to in the British note and in my recommendation to the Congress, was evident in these documents.

The refusal of the Congress to authorize even the examination of this limited question, together with the above resolution, gave notice to all debtor governments of the attitude of this Government toward either cancellation or reduction of existing obligations. Therefore, any commitments which European governments may have made between themselves could not be based upon any assurances of the United States. Moreover, the tenor of negotiations asked for by the debtor governments goes beyond the terms of the congressional resolution referred to.

Should Be Receptive To Debtors' Proposals.

I have publicly stated my position as to these questions, including that I do not favor cancellation in any form, but that we should be receptive to proposals from our debtors of tangible compensation in other forms than direct payment in expansion of markets for the products of our labor and our farms. And I have stated further that substantial reduction of world armament which will relieve our own and world burdens and dangers has a bearing upon this question.

If negotiations are to be undertaken as requested by these governments, protracted and detailed discussions would be necessary which could not be concluded duirng my administration.

Any negotiation of this question on the basis of the requests of these governments is limited by the resolution of the Congress, and if there is to be any change in the attitude of the Congress it will be greatly affected by the views of those members who recognize you as their leader, and who will properly desire your counsel and advice. This outlines where the question stands at the present moment.

I am prepared to deal with the subject as far as it lies in the power of the Executive, but it must be our common wish to deal with this question in a constructive fashion for the common good of the country. I am loath to proceed with recommendations to the Congress until I can have an opportunity to confer with you personally at some convenient date in the near future.

Economic Stability Of Great Importance.

There are also other important questions as to which I think an interchange of views would be in the public interest.

The building of world economic stability is, of course, of the greatest importance in the building up of our recovery.

As you know, a world economic conference will be held during the course of the coming winter. Already two American experts have met with the technical experts of other governments to prepare tentative agenda. While this conference may be begun during my administration, it is certain that it will not complete its labors until you have assumed office.

Parallel with this, of course, is the disarmament conference in which the United States has taken a leading part. This also has a great economic purpose as well as the advancement of world peace.

Time is of great importance in all these questions and I understand that you are planning to come through Washington some time during the latter part of next week, and I hope you will find it convenient to stop off long enough for me to advise with you.

I should, of course, be only too glad to have you bring into this conference any of the Democratic congressional leaders or other advisers you may wish.

DEATH TOLL REACHES 2,500 IN SANTA CRUZ

Cuban Government Is Asked for Gasoline to Use on Funeral Pyres.

Camaguey, Cuba, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The number of dead in the city of Santa Cruz del Sur, which was virtually wiped off a sand spit on the southeast Cuban coast by a tidal wave last week, was placed at 2,500 persons tody by Secretary of Interior Zubizarreta.

Due to its open position, Santa Cruz was the most severely stricken of the many points where a tropical hurricane left a trail of wreckage from the north coast of South America, more than a week ago, to the Bahamas, where it was spending its force today.

(At least 80 persons were reported killed and more than 300 injured when the hurricane struck the Cayman Islands. Jamaica and the Bahamas were less seriously affected.

Gasoline Sought for Pyres.

Gasoline was sought by the Cuban government for cremation of more than 1,000 bodies, reported piled in pyres at Santa Cruz. Dr. Zubizarreta said more than 700 bodies were buried there Friday.

Many others were believed carried out to sea by the 10-foot wall of water. Only a few telephone poles were reported still standing upright in the city which had a population of 3,500.

A number of deaths were reported in other parts of eastern and central Cuba.

Refugees have been pouring in here from Santa Cruz and relief work was being rushed in the area. A small army of physicians from Havana and elsewhere was inoculating thousands against disease and ministering to hundreds of injured.

Hundreds Given Food.

The train which carried Dr. Zubizarreta on an inspection trip delivered food at every hamlet for hundreds of persons scattered in the wasted fields. Miles of cane fields were leveled and it was estimated the 1933 sugar crop from Camaguey Province would be at least 400,000 bags under what was expected.

Dr. Anibal Penia, health officer of Santa Cruz, issued the appeal for gasoline for cremation of the bodies there.

Scattered wreckage of the city served as the funeral pyre for the dead. Hundreds of cremation fires were already burning.

The sailboat Eulalia Pinero arrived here yesterday with twenty sailors who had been shipwrecked on the coast. Another sailboat, the Nueva Concha Santa, also had foundered and only one of its crew of nine was saved.

Oklahoma Official Count Completed

Roosevelt Polled 328,303 More Votes Tuesday Than Hoover.

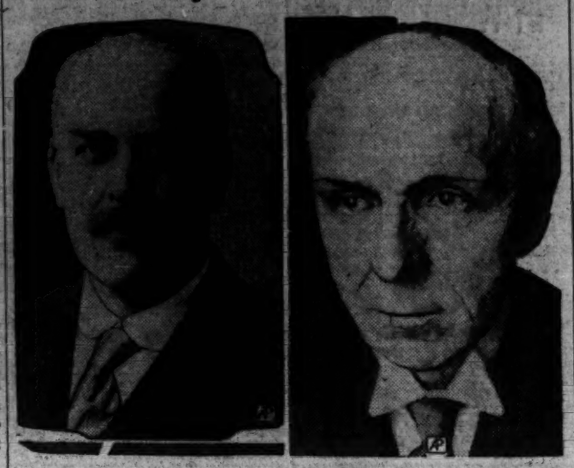
Oklahoma City, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt polled 328,303 more votes last Tuesday in Oklahoma than President Hoover, the State election board's official count, completed tonight, revealed. The vote was: Roosevelt, 516,468; Hoover, 188,165. The Socialist party candidates' names were ruled off the ballot by the State election board.

The total number of ballots cast was 704,633, as compared with the previous high of approximately 618,500 in 1928.

Including the "silent vote," Gov. W. H. Murray's bill for revision of State tax laws to increase the levies on large incomes was defeated by about 40,000. Complete official returns showed the measure also was defeated on the straight "yes" and "no" vote, 327,620 to 321,254.

The electorate declined by 77,108 votes to repeal the law placing a 10-cent a pound tax on oleomargarine. The vote: For repeal, 265,890; against, 342,998.

English Leader Sees Dire Results If U. S. Stands Firm



Sir Josiah Stamp, left, who puts upon the United States the responsibility for results of war debt payment insistence, and Viscount Cecil, believes the British note may be a great influence for world peace.

Further Payment Called Menace to World by Sir Josiah Stamp.

(Copyright, 1932, by the United Press.)

London, Nov. 13.—Sir Josiah Stamp, famous economist and former head of the Bank of England, today said "the United States and not Great Britain has got to take the responsibility," for possible serious results if America insists on continued payment of war debts.

Further payment is particularly dangerous at present, he claimed, "on account of the exchange and tariff situation, and this just as the world is struggling to improve things."

Sir Josiah said that he anticipated England's request for postponement of the December 15 payment three months ago. He opined that the Lausanne agreement abolishing all Germany's debts and reparations in exchange for a comparatively small lump payment by Germany was probably the best guide to the British viewpoint on any further negotiations.

He said that Britain had not asked for the postponement before on account of the United States elections, and to avoid embarrassing the candidates. He explained this as being "merely the polite manner of a man who owes me 100 pounds on December 15 explaining today because he has just found out today that it is inconvenient to pay on December 15, therefore he requests a delay."

He said that Britain did not take advantage of the suspension rights of the Hoover moratorium, because this applied to the interest only.

"But it means that Britain feels that in view of the disaster which so far has followed international payment, she could not pay without further upsetting the financial situation of the world which, incidentally, affects the United States as well as Britain.

"The United States can not have both ways; it can not take gold while maintaining tariffs," he said.

"It must be realized," he concluded, "that it is not actually making or not making war debts payment which count. It is a combination of, firstly, an obligation to pay; secondly, the effect of receiving payments in gold; and thirdly, the influence of tariffs on those payments. Certainly something must be done urgently."

A. V. Alexander, former first lord of the admiralty, said that Britain gradually was being forced to adopt the twelve-year-old labor party policy to abolish debts.

"The course proposed to the United States is inevitable," he said. "It is a pity that it was not done long ago. If sympathetically received and a satisfactory settlement achieved, it undoubtedly will be a big step in clearing the channels of world trade."

Viscount Cecil said that the British note might be a tremendous influence for world peace. He said:

"From the interantional viewpoint, the settlement of this question would be of immense value, but no doubt it would have to be considered with other international questions such as disarmament, which must be dealt with in that connection."

CREW SAVED, SHIP SALVAGED IN CRASH

American Vessel Takes Men From Dutch Boat in North Sea Wreck.

Flushing, Holland, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The American ship City of Alton today rescued part of the crew which abandoned the Dutch steamer Rosenburg, after it collided with the Greek ship Mount Helikon in North Sea waters and brought them here. A few hours later the stricken ship was towed into Flushing Roads, and apparently was still afloat.

Most of the Rozenburg's crew was picked up by the Mount Helikon, which limped into Dunkirk after abandoning its voyage from Rotterdam to Buenos Aires.

The Rozenburg survivors were astonished when told their badly damaged ship was still afloat. The City of Alton had picked up the master, chief engineer and several members of the crew before daylight, a few hours after they abandoned the ship as doomed.

The Rozenburg, however, was located by the Belgian tug Goliath and the German tug Heros and was towed into Flushing Roads.

The crew reported the collision occurred in a dense fog, which made it impossible to see navigation lights.

Little Sisters' Pound Party Is Next Sunday

The annual pound party for the Little Sisters of the Poor will be held next Sunday afternoon by the Washington General Assembly of the Knights of Columbus at the home of the order at 220 H street northeast.

Anthony J. Scullen, past faithful navigator, is directing the party, at which contributions of food, clothing and tobacco for the aged inmates will be received. Aiding him are William H. Murray, James A. Sullivan, Henry W. Cord, James B. Flynn, Dan J. Ryan, Walter I. Plant, George E. Howell, Dr. George Ellis, Michael B. Casey and J. F. Brady.

Young Democrats Name Reception Committee

Inauguration of a social and educational program, now that the election is over, was announced yesterday by the Young Democrats Club of Washington.

A special reception committee to greet new members and visitors was appointed last night at a meeting of the social committee. It includes Miss Betty Mattingly, Miss Marianne Harrison, Miss Mary Frances Ward, Miss Mary Cullen, Russell Rowell, Homer Tatum, Ernest Branham and Gordon Wilkins.

Painter Here Winner In Frigidaire Contest

Furman A. Johnson, of 2252 Twelfth place northwest, a sign painter, was notified last night that he is one of the 45 prize winners in the Nation-wide sentence-building contest of the Frigidaire Corporation.

Mr. Johnson will receive a prize of $10. He said it was the first contest he had ever entered.

Tait Deserts Dry Ranks to Indorse Beer

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 13.—Galen L. Tait, chairman of the Republican State central committee for more than 25 years, who heretofore has been regarded a dry—both personally and politically—today revealed that he favored "such a beer as would intoxicate only the immoderate and such as the Supreme Court would approve."

His colleague in the management of the Republican affairs of Maryland, Senator Goldsborough, also dry both politically and personally, declined tonight to comment on whether he also favored a legalized beer.

Asserting that the main cause of the Republican defeat at the polls last Tuesday was the depression, Mr. Tait added that "then came the cross-currents of prohibition."

"Hard times defeated Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, a Republican wet leader," he said, "and elected the dry, William G. McAdoo, of California. Many claim the election a liquor and beer mandate. Our party through its platform and the acceptance speech, is committed to this program, provided there be no invasion of State lines nor an open saloon.

"My personal view is, give the people such a beer as would intoxicate only the immoderate and such as the Supreme Court would approve. We legislate for the common moderate run of people."

Mr. Tait's expression of his views on the legalization of beer was given incident to his comment on the results of the election and in connection with a call for reorganization of the Republican party in Maryland.

MANY CITIES WANT BAD CHECK SUSPECT

61-Year-Old Baltimore Prisoner Says "Races Were My Downfall."

Baltimore, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Investigating the record of Wolsey Hadden Dollar, 61, who was arrested last Wednesday on three charges of defrauding and passing worthless checks, Sergt. Matthew Dunn, of the Baltimore detective bureau, today said Dollar is wanted in nearly a score of cities of the United States and Canada.

Sergt. Dunn said the following cities have been searching for the prisoner during the last five years:

Washington, Richmond, Syracuse, Hartford, Worcester, Buffalo, Montreal, Toronto, Columbus, Ohio; Hamilton, Ont.; Providence, Boston, Harrisburg, Louisville, Fond du Lac, Wis.; Cleveland, Birmingham, Knoxville and Philadelphia.

Dollar was take into custody in a hotel lobby here. Remarking the "races were my downfall," he was lodged in the city jail in default of $1,500 bail. Sergt. Dunn found 250 blank checks, bearing the name of a Philadelphia publishing company, in Dollar's room shortly after the latter's arrest.

The detective sergeant said the prisoner not only represented himself as an agent of the publishing company in tendering their checks, but did the same thing in tendering similar fraudulent checks drawn on the Philadelphia office of a sewing machine company and on a mail order house.

Washington police last night said they had no charges against Dollar under that name and knew nothing of his arrest.

Death of Stalin's Wife Is Laid to Appendicitis

Moscow, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—With an official explanation still lacking, Moscow today had accepted generally the story that Nadya Alleuieva, 30-year-old wife of Joseph Stalin, died last Wednesday from acute appendicitis.

It was said she suffered three different attacks, the first occurring this summer. Physicians at that time, it was reported, advised her to undergo an operation, but she refused. Rumors were that she suffered another attack a few months later and still declined to be operated upon. The fatal attack was said to have come during Tuesday night. It was not known whether an operation was performed at the last moment.

Traffic Safety Signs For Minnesota's Deer

St. Paul, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—They're not quite ready to escort personally wild deer across Minnesota's main north woods highways, but State game officials today moved to do the next thing. The deer will be given the same protection as live stock, which proceeds across the principal thoroughfares on paths marked by "cattle crossing" signs.

Similar signs saying "deer crossing" were ordered posted today to protect both animals and motorists from collisions. Motorists will be expected to drive slowly.

Officer Fatally Hurt In Chicago Collision

Chicago, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Maj. Frederick Kensel, 52, former United States Marine Corps officer, was fatally injured today when crushed between an automobile and a truck.

Police held John Owens, Negro, while they investigated the accident. They said that Owens, intoxicated, swerved his car into a parked automobile and the latter car careened against the truck, pinioning Kensel.

Kensel, his relatives said, at one time was judge advocate general at Norfolk, Va., for the Marines. He is survived by his wife, the former Betsy Clark, of Biddeford, Me.

Europe's Bankers Back Gold Standard Return

Basel, Switzerland, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Governors of Europe's central banks, who met today at the Bank for International Settlements, expressed the unanimous opinion that the gold standard is the only basis on which the world economic situation can be bettered.

The bankers discussed financial problems to come up at the World Economic Conference, which will probably be held next year.

MRS. SABIN DOUBTS EARLY REPEAL VOTE

Is Hoping for Modification, However, at This Session; Hails Wet Gains.

(Associated Press.)

Claims to a definite gain in the wet strength of the old Congress, soon to meet in its final session, were made yesterday in a statement by Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, national chairman of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, but she expressed doubt it would submit repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Mrs. Sabin said that since adjournment of the last session, the anti-prohibition cause had enlisted 13 additional senators and 71 members of the House, giving "a possible wet vote of 54 in the Senate and 265 in the House."

"Furthermore," she said, "with the great sweep for prohibition repeal from all over the country, I think we can expect that many of them (members of the present Congress), will climb on the band wagon and rush to become identified with the wet cause."

"I doubt," she continued, "whether we can hope for repeal in the present Congress. * * * Whether or not this Congress will vote for immediate modification of the Volstead act remains to be seen. I hope they will. In this day of economic distress and unemployment, modification would help to alleviate the depression and provide much-needed revenue."

Mrs. Sabin said that her organization, in view of the antiprohibition gains in the new Seventy-third Congress, would not be satisfied with anything but submitting straight repeal to the States. She said all believers in repeal would, if the next President calls a special session, "immediately bring pressure to bear upon their respective congressmen to support such a resolution."

At the same time, she said, it is not too soon to prepare for the State constitutional conventions to which such a resolution—would be submitted.

Gained votes for repeal or submission claimed by the organization in the present Senate are those of Senators Black and Bankhead, of Alabama; Hayden, of Arizona; Robinson, of Arkansas; Fletcher and Trammell, of Florida; George, of Georgia; Barkley, of Kentucky;; Harrison, of Mississippi; Smith and Byrnes, of South Carolina;; McKellar and Hull, of Tennessee;; Glass, of Virginia, and Dill, of Washington, all Democrats, and Couzens, of Michigan; Steiwer, of Oregon; Smoot, of Utah, Republicans.

Bank Holdup Risk Rates Are Raised

Data Shows Robbery Loss Larger Each Year Since 1922.

New Yok, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Losses from bank robberies have been increasing steadily since 1922, the National Bureau of Casualty & Surety Underwriters said today in announcing a new set of rules and rates on this type of risks. Ten years ago, the announcement said, bank robbery losses to the companies allied with the bureau averaged 16 per cent of the premiums received.

"In 1931 this ratio had jumped to 104 per cent," the statement continued; "and in 1930 it was 122 per cent. Last year the earned premium income of the companies was $642,080 on policies issued in 1931, but there were actual losses of $668,043."

The statistics indicate, the bureau said, that bank burglaries are more numerous in the Southern and Middle Western States than in any other section of the country.

Dr. Butler Sees G. O. P. Death Unless Reformed

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Unless the Republican party is reorganized under constructive and courageous leadership, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler said today, it will soon pass out of existence and be replaced by a "truly liberal party."

Declaring the hope of the Republican party of tomorrow lies in its youth, the president of Columbia University said in a formal statement that if the younger members will "exert themselves to seek and to produce constructive, forward-facing and liberal leadership, the party, despite its overwhelming defeat, may be quickly reorganized and given new strength, and new spirit for another generation of public service."

Paul-Boncour Is Ready To Present Arms Plan

Couffy, France, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Joseph Paul-Boncour, minister of war, in an address here today said the new French arms plan, which is scheduled to be revealed in its entirety at Geneva tomorrow, "indicates for the first time clearly and loyally before the world what we are ready to do" if the organization of peace called for in the plan is realized.

He said the plan brought great hope to the disarmament conference, "whose failure would be a signal for a rearmament race, which sooner or later would be a race toward war."

World Peace Unit Honors Col. Robins

Missing Dry Leader Again Named to High Post by Friendship Group.

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Col. Raymond Robins, economist and prohibition worker, who has been missing since September 8, was reelected a member of the executive committee of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the churches.

In reelecting him a member of the executive committee, a post he has held for seven years, delegates to the alliance meeting expressed a belief that he might still be alive.

Dedication Tonight For Hearst School

Senator Copeland Will Be Among Speakers, With Johnson Presiding.

An elaborate program has been planned for the dedication tonight of the Phoebe Apperson Hearst school at Thirty-seventh and Tilden streets northwest.

Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, and other speakers will pay tribute to the memory of Mrs. Hearst, mother of William Randolph Hearst, while the two grandsons of Mrs. Hearst, William Randolph Hearst, jr., and John Hearst will present a fountain and aquarium to the school, given by their father in memory of his mother.

Dr. Hayden Johnson, president, of the board of education, will preside. Keys of the new school will be presented to the principal, Miss Sarah B. Holland, by A. L. Harris, municipal architect. The program will be supplemented with music and singing.

MRS. E. S. FOSTER DIES.

Remains of Markham (Va.) Woman Will Be Returned Home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stribling Foster, of Markham, Va., widow of John Hunton Foster, died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jacob Edge, Downingtown, Pa. She is survived by a brother, THomas Foster, of Markham, and two sisters, Miss Caroline Stribling and Mrs. Marian Bruce, of Alexandria.

The body will be taken to Markham tomorrow, where funeral services will be conducted at noon by the Rev. Mr. Hinkle, pastor of Leeds Church. Interment will be at Markham.

ENGLAND ACCUSED BY RUSSIAN ORGAN

ployed movement in England and an impending civil war in India."

It said the telegram from the London correspondent "indicates our old acquaintances from the British Intelligence Service, those same who managed to publish in London in 1919 a forged issue of Pravda (Communist party organ), who supplied Lord Kerson with forgeries fabricated in Berlin by Baron Iscule, who in 1924 'dynamited' MacDonald's government by the famous forgery manufactured by the White Guard, Drujelovski, again got busy."

Interpretation of Soviet.

Should the report that the intelligence service "ordered, as speedily as possible, documents about participation of the Soviet government in the unemployed movement in England or in preparation of a civil war in India prove true," Izvesta said, "it would only prove * * * that die-hards fear changes in relations between the U. S. S. R. and the United States, that they are enraged by improvement developing between France and the U. S. S. R. as expressed in their negotiations for a nonaggression pact, that diehards of the British intelligence service and Deterding circles (the Deterding British oil interests) seek to prevent conclusion of a pact between the U. S. S. R. and Roumania, and that they constantly strive to spoil relations between the U. S. S. R. and Germany, and other countries—which the whole world knows."

Apparently the "Lord Kerson" mentioned in the Izvestia editorial was Lord Curzon, of Kedleston, former British secretary for foreign affairs. Relations between Soviet Russia and Britain in the spring and summer of 1923 presented great difficulties during his tenure of office. He obtained from the Russian government the suspension of anti-British action and propaganda, and removal of incriminated officials.

COUNTERATTACK ON WETS LAUNCHED BY DRY FORCES

traffic if the eighteenth amendment is repealed, are invited to note the statements of the Mayor of Chicago, the Governor-elect of Michigan and others who are said to have announced their intention of disregarding the Constitution and the orderly processes of Government by granting immunity for future and amnesty for past violations of the laws of the land."

In addition the Methodist Board of Temperance restated its view that the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt "is in no sense a wet victory." This was coupled with an assertion that the churches would renew the fight against liquor, and that members of Congress voting wet would be held responsible and their careers would be "adjudged by the consequences" of their votes.

The day, however, also brought the first claim that President Hoover would sign a bill legalizing beer. This occurred in a statement by the Federal Dispensary-Tax Reduction League, an organization seeking prohibition law change. It said:

"We are informed by three officials very close to President Hoover that he will sign the beer bill if it comes before him."

But the statement has had no confirmation as yet in any other quarter.

The Antisaloon League, which is soon to hold a convention here for planning its campaign through the approaching session of Congress, said:

"The exultant eagerness of the old-time wet leaders to restore the old-time liquor conditions should be a warning of what is to be expected if Congress opens the flood gates for legalized liquor.

"Even more serious is the danger that many, particularly young people, will assume from wet agitation that intoxicating liquors have lost their dangerous qualities by virtue of a national election."

It concluded with a prediction that "The 'no saloons' slogan will be kicked into the discard" if the eighteenth amendment is repealed.

U. S. RUM PRISONERS WOULD ASK RELEASE

This does not include the expense of capturing, arresting, trying and transporting the offender.

Prison Bureau records show that an overwhelming majority of Federal prisoners committed from Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina, Georgia and other States are mountaineers or rural folk. This class of citizens ordinarily violates few Federal statutes.

Wholesale pardoning of Federal liquor offenders might meet with legal obstacles unless repeal or modification is clear cut, officials said.

Legal minds of the Justice Department declined to comment on the proposed blanket pardon demand. Other officials, however, said such action, if approved, would relieve overcrowded conditions in Federal jails.

The Governor-elect of Michigan already has stated that he favored pardoning liquor law violators serving terms in State prisons.

CAPITOL HILL BUSY AS HEARINGS START

(Associated Press.)

Capitol Hill will buzz with committee hearings this week in preparation for the December session of Congress.

The program gets under way today with the opening of hearings on the St. Lawrence waterway treaty between the United States and Canada, before a Senate foreign relations subcommittee.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, chairman, will conduct the proceedings, which committee members believe will have an important bearing on whether the treaty will be ratified in view of opposition from some Democratic quarters.

Senators Wagner, of New York; Walsh, of Montana, and Swanson, of Virginia, all Democrats, will share in questioning witnesses invited, among whom are Alfred P. Thom, of Washington, representative of the Association of Railway Executives; Peter C. Ten Eyck, president of the New York State Waterways Association, and C. H. Tregena, representing the Great Lakes Seaboard Association. Later, Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the New York State power authority, is to be called.

Roosevelt Opposed It.

In the course of the hearings, the attitude of President-elect Roosevelt toward the treaty negotiated last summer, under the direction of President Hoover, probably will be clearly defined. Mr. Roosevelt opposed the Federal Government's action in negotiating the treaty without first securing approval of the New York power authority.

An investigation into the Delaware and eastern Pennsylvania elections will be opened tomorrow before the House campaign funds committee by Representative Heartsill Ragon (Democrat), Arkansas, chairman.

Witnesses are to be summoned by Representative Loring M. Black, Democrat, New York, to testify in connection with complaints that votes were purchased in last Tuesday's balloting. The nomination by the Republicans in Delaware of Reuben Satterthwaite, jr., over Representative Houston, also is to be inquired into by the committee, Ragon said.

Byrns Busy Man.

Chairman Joseph W. Byrns, of the House appropriations committee, will open hearings Wednesday on the first of the important supply bills for operation of the Government, the Treasury-Postoffice measure. The Tennessee Democrat plans to have three or four ready for House action before the Christmas holidays.

The special House committee, headed by Representative Shannon (Democrat), Missouri, will resume its investigation of Government competition with business in Chicago today. Hearings into double-taxation by the Federal and State Governments are slated to be opened the latter part of this week by a House ways and means subcommittee, headed by Representative Vinson (Democrat), Kentucky.

Inquiry into the Postoffice Department's leasing and employment policies also are to be resumed during the week by Chairman Mead, of the House Postoffice committee.

Representative McDuffie, of Alabama, chairman of the joint congressional committee appointed to study veterans' legislation, with a view to making recommendations to curtail expenses, tentatively set November 25 for the beginning of hearings.

Mrs. Wiley Urges Women in Cabinet

Feminine Leader for Naming of Those Who Favor Their Own Sex.

(Associated Press.)

The National Woman's Party yesterday made public a letter to President-Elect Roosevelt from their chairman, Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, urging Cabinet and diplomatic posts for women, but only for women who are for women.

"Women emphatically want only those women who believe in equality for men and women and who wish to see the theory of equal protection of the law become a fact under our Government," said an accompanying statement.

"The women of America earnestly urge that you include women among those whom you appoint, and urge that these women be truly representative of women; women who believe in equality for men and women; women who are aware that equal and effective cooperation between men and women is a vitally essential principle of representative government."

Banker Urges Congress Go to Farmers Rescue

(Associated Press.)

Frank W. Blair, of Detroit, president of the Joint Stock Land Bankers Association, said in a statement yesterday that the coming Congress will be asked to enact legislation giving farmers "with any equity left a fighting chance to save their farms and homes."

"An acute problem before Congress, and one that can not be delayed," Blair said, "is the revamping of the farm loan structure so as to provide for a unification of the system, the reduction of interest charges and to enable the banks to extend greater leniency to their borrowers." The statement was made following the close of a conference here of the association members.

Bingham's Son to Edit New Radical Magazine

New York, Nov. 13 (U.P.).—Alfred M. Bingham, son of Senator Hiram Bingham, of Connecticut, today announced plans for a new national magazine to present a radical viewpoint free from any obligation to organized radical movements. The magazine will be a biweekly named Common Sense. It is scheduled for appearance December 1.

Associated with Bingham as editors will be Selden Rodman and C. C. Nicolet. The magazine's prospectus demands a "drastic change in the existing order and the creation of a cooperative planned society."

110 Girl Students Routed By Alfred University Fire

Women Flee Into Snow as Flames Destroy Dormitory Valued at $150,000; Coeds Sheltered in Private Homes and Sorority Houses.

Alfred, N. Y., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Fire swept a five-story dormitory for women at Alfred University this afternoon, driving many of the 110 girls who lived in the building out to the snow-covered campus.

The fire broke out in the top floor at noon, while some of the students were at church and others in their rooms. Burning fiercely, the fire spread through the entire building, but the girls were all accounted for.

Many ran out with personal belongings, which were strewn about the campus, but the advance of the flames kept them from returning for more. Tonight they were being housed in private homes and sorority houses, while university officials took up the problem of finding permanent homes for them.

After three hours only the brick walls of the old building remained standing. The dormitory was valued at $150,000, and its contents at $12,000. Three fire companies from Alfred, Almond and Hornell fought the fire.

END OF FRIGID WAVE FORECAST IN SOUTH

Most of Dixie Shivers But Warmer Weather There and Here Forecast.

Atlanta, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Shivering through a week-end of subfreezing weather, the South today looked forward hopefully to the morrow when fair and warmer weather was promised.

Temperatures were below freezing last night nearly everywhere except along the Gulf Coast and in Florida, and although the sun steamed up enough to make things pleasant in the early afternoon, it was chilly again tonight.

There was a touch of snow in the peaks of the Blue Ridge and the Smokies last night and winds blowing off them made the Carolinas one of the coldest spots reported in Dixie, with Charlotte recording a minimum of 27 degrees.

Tennessee points, where cold winds from the plains States sweep in, reported as low and lower readings, with Memphis showing 27 and Nashville 25.

Atlanta had a minimum of 29; Richmond, 30; Little Rock, 33; New Orleans, 42, and Jacksonville in the low 30s.

Little Rock, Jackson, Miss.; New Orleans, and Florida points made high marks of around 60 during the day, but most of the South could do no better than the middle 40s.

A prediction by the Weather Bureau that a minimum of 28 would be reached here yesterday morning, failed to materialize when a low of 32 was recorded. The outlook for today is for fair and warmer weather.

$47,000,000 Profit Told by Bureau

(Associated Press.)

Direct benefits of more than $47,000,000 to American exporters during the fiscal year 1932 were claimed by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce as its contribution to domestic business, releasing yesterday its annual report.

The total number of services rendered by the bureau for the year was more than 3,500,000, the report said, and the "dollars and cents results" of $47,000,000 represents the reports of less than 10 per cent of the answers to inquiries by the bureau.

Frederick M. Feiker, director listed such services as friendly intercession in behalf of American concerns which found the way in mitigating the effects of new foreign tariffs; investigations and reports made in regard to markets for given commodities, and fostering of good will for American products.

Banana Ship Feared Lost With 9 Aboard

Miami, Fla., Nov. 13 (U.P.).—Fear for the safety of the banana ship Alma R., a 160-foot motor vessel, with Capt. Archie Johnson, his son, Bert; Engineer Sam Curry and six Negroes aboard, was expressed today by the ship's owners.

They were afraid that the vessel, carrying only radio receiving apparatus, had sunk during the hurricane that lashed Cuba and the lower Bahamas. The ship has not been reported since leaving Miami last Monday for Baracoa, Cuba, on a route that led through the storm's center.

Today Is Centenary Of Carroll's Death

Jackson's Letter on Failure to Attend Funeral Has Just Been Bared.

Today is the centenary of the death of Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, Maryland's great and historical figure, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and called the only signer who bore a "title."

Carroll died at the age of 95, at the height of the campaign of Henry Clay to wrest the Presidency from Andrew Jackson. Carroll had just signified his preference for Clay, and his death created considerable confusion throughout the Nation. A letter from Jackson answering the invitation of the City of Baltimore to attend the funeral has just come to light.

Jackson said in the letter that only the "most imperious public duty" prevented him from attending the funeral. The famous nullification crisis in South Carolina forced Jackson to remain in the Capital.

Carroll was the last of the signers of the Declaration of Independence to die.

Train Kills Two Girls Bound for Church

Indiana Harbor, Ind., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Two girls, Leabarbo Munez, 9, and Lupe Ramiez, 12, were struck and killed by a train today while on their way to church.

The girls had stopped at a grade crossing to permit a westbound freight to pass and then started over the tracks. They were hit by an eastbound passenger.

Many Women Working 10 to 11 Hours Per Day

(United Press.)

Many women in the United States still work from 10 to 11 hours a day, the Department of Labor reported yesterday.

The nature of the work done by these women or the States in which they live was not stated. The department found that almost 4,000,000 women or 37 per cent of the total number employed are both home makers and wage earners.

"Over half of the breadwinning home makers were found on agriculture, industrial and domestic work," the department said in a statement.

Virginia to Unveil Bust to Navigator

Gov. Pollard Will Preside at Rites in Honor of Matthew Maury.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—A bust of Matthew Fontaine Maury, the "Pathfinder of the Seas," will be unveiled Tuesday afternoon in the old hall of the House of Delegates. The bust will be unveiled by Maury's grandson, Matthew Fontaine Maury Osborn, of Norfolk. The donor, Mrs. Alice Maury Parmelee, of Washington, is a granddaughter of the distinguished scientist.

Stringfellow Barr, of the history department of the University of Virginia, will deliver the dedicatory address.

Gov. Pollard will preside at the exercises, at which patriotic music will be played. The benediction will be spoken by Dr. Beverley D. Tucker, D. D., rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Richmond. After the exercises a reception will be held by the governor in the rotunda of the capitol for the descendants of Maury and distinguished guests.

Hounds and Pigs Strain at Leash

Truffle Season Opens in France With Great Crop in Prospect.

Paris, Nov. 13 (U.P.).—The truffle hounds are baying and the hunting pigs are snorting in the oak forests of Dordogne, where the annual truffle harest has just opened. Prospects indicate high quality in truffles this year, though the quantity is lower than usual and high prices will prevail.

The "black diamond of the kitchen" as Brillat-Savarin called truffles in "the physiology of taste," are found in the sandy soil under oak trees, in a certain corner of Dordogne. When the trees die off, or are destroyed by storm, the truffles go with them.

The packs of hounds and pigs are taken during crisp November weather into the woods and put to rooting in the sand. The pigs are better than the dogs at truffle-hunting, though both work by sense of smell. The dogs root up truffles with their forepaws. The pigs use their snouts.

Paris Views Vary On Debt Actions

U. S. Hostility to Radical Reduction Recognized; Delay Expected.

Paris (Monday), Nov. 14 (U.P.).—Editorial comment in newspapers here today concerning the British and French requests to the United States for postponement of war debts payments due December 15 follows:

Pertinax: "A majority of Americans are hostile to radical reductions. The debtor nations must be exceptionally firm or they will not obtain satisfaction."

L'Ordre: "We do not believe the Americans will decline postponement of the December payment, since President Hoover admitted to M. Laval (former premier) that payments could be suspended for the duration of the depression."

Truck Driver Is Killed By Rebellious Moros

Manila, P. I. (Monday), Nov. 14 (U.P.).—A civilian truck driven on route to pick up a detachment of constabulary soldiers was ambushed and slain by rebellious Moros on the Island of Sulu; headquarters here was advised today.

Auto-Train Crash Kills 3 in Family

Driver's Partial Deafness Blamed in Accident in Mississippi.

Coahoma, Miss., Nov. 13 (U.P.).—Three persons were killed today when an Illinois Central southbound passenger train struck their automobile at a crossing.

They were: Alonzo Spurry, 60; Mrs. Spurry, 55, and their son, Dixie Spurry, 13. Mrs. Spurry and the son were killed instantly. Spurry died in a Clarksdale hospital tonight.

Witnesses said Spurry, who was partially deaf, drove his car onto the track directly in front of the train. He and his wife were hurled from the machine and the boy was found dead in the wreckage of the automobile.

FRATERNAL LODGES PLAN CEREMONIES

Anacostia Degree Team Will Have Charge of Ritual at Alexandria.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU,
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The Order Fraternal Americans will hold a tridistrict meeting tonight at 8 o'clock, in the Alexandria High School auditorium. Lodges from Fairfax, Prince William and Loudoun counties and Alexandria will participate. The degree team of Anacostia Council, No. 16, of Washington will exemplify the ritualistic work.

There are 20 councils in the tridistrict, and officers of the various jurisdictions are expected to attend. Alton Mooney, district deputy president, will conduct the meeting.

Mrs. June Tull Carroll, 38, wife of J. W. Carroll, died yesterday morning at her home, 7 Cedar street, Braddock. The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from Wheatley's funeral home with burial in Bethel Cemetery.

The Alexandria Shrine Club will give a ladies' night entertainment this evening in the Elks' auditorium, in charge of the president, Joseph H. Kretchmer. The regular monthly meeting of the club will precede the program. Besides the ladies all Master Masons are invited.

A special mission will be held at Grace Episcopal Church on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of the coming week, at 8 o'clock. The mission will be conducted by the Rev. Herbert Donovan, rector of Zion Church, Fairfax.

Two Children Burned In Clarke County Fire

Special to The Washington Post.

Berryville, Va., Nov. 13.—Two cottages on the farm of Edward B. Jacobs in Clarke County were destroyed by fire this morning. The fire started in the cottage occupied by colored servants, who were in the main house getting breakfast when it was first discovered. Two children, 18 months and 3 months old, who were asleep in the cottage, were badly burned. The second cottage was occupied by stable boys, who just escaped with their lives. Mr. Jacobs is a noted horseman and owner of valuable hunters. Loss is estimated at about $2,000.

Abraham Lefcourt Dies in New York

Skyscraper Builder Began Career at 12 as Newsboy.

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Abraham E. Lefcourt, New York real estate operator who put up more than 30 skyscrapers in the last 20 years, died today after a heart attack. He was 55 years old.

He began selling newspapers when he was 12, operated a bootblack stand, worked as clerk, bookkeeper, buyer and traveling salesman for a dry goods firm and bought out his employer when he was 25.

He gave up his garment industry in 1923 and devoted his time to real estate and building. When his only son was 12, Lefcourt deeded him a $10,000,000 piece of property. The son died two years ago at the age of 17.

Lefcourt was a member of the "Polar Bears," the organization of swimmers who break the ice at Long Beach in the winter. He is survived by his widow, his daughter, Mrs. Mildred Regensburg and his brother, Charles S. Lefcourt.

Front Royal Woman Ends Life by Hanging

Special to The Washington Post.

Riverton, Va., Nov. 13.—Miss Gussie Simpson, a member of a Front Royal, Va., family, committed suicide early today in the basement of her home on Royal avenue by hanging herself with an electric iron cord. She was found by her brother, Robert Simpson, who heard a noise in the basement, went to investigate and found her dead. She had been in ill health for some time.

She returned home only yesterday from a visit to her sister in Winchester. She was 45 years old and a daughter of the late William A. Simpson. She is survived by two sisters and three brothers, Mrs. W. R. Dunaway, of Winchester; Mrs. A. J. Bowen, Robert, Frank and Manley Simpson, all of Front Royal.

Apples Rushed Overseas To Avoid Tariff Boost

Winchester, Va., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Virginia apple shipments are being rushed to the British markets before Parliament enacts measures to increase the tariff duty on such imports.

The bulk of the U. S. No. 1 grades grown in Virginia this fall have been going to the markets of Liverpool, Manchester and other English cities. Exportations are being made also to France, Germany, Belgium and the Scandinavian countries. Many of the apples from the Shenandoah section, as well as quantities from the nearby West, are being moved by truck to Baltimore for shipment.

Danville-Pittsylvania Court Fight Set Today

Danville, Va., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Three judges, appointed by Gov. Pollard, will sit tomorrow in annexation proceedings brought by the city of Danville.

Pittsylvania County, opposing Danville's effort to annex certain land in the county, will be represented by Commonwealth's Attorney Joseph Whitehead, jr., and Leon M. Bazile, of Richmond. The city will be represented by the city attorney and two assistants. Sitting in the case will be Judge J. Turner Clement, of the Pittsylvania Court; Circuit Judge Needham S. Turnbull, jr., of Victoria, and John E. Nottingham, of Accomac.

All Frederick Cattle Face Tuberculin Test

Winchester, Va., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Following action by the board of supervisors, at the request of Frederick County farmers, all dairy cattle in the county will be tuberculin-tested.

The work will be started at once in an effort to place the county in the accredited area of Virginia.

Texas Is First in Nation With 1,400 High Schools

(United Press.)

One-fourth of the Nation's 23,930 high schools are located in the five States of Texas, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Illinois, the Interior Department announced yesterday.

Texas heads the list with 1,400. Ohio has 1,322, Pennsylvania 1,185, Missouri 1,063 and Illinois 1,065.

New York, the most populous State, has only 955, but the four largest high schools in the country are located in Greater New York City. De Witt Clinton High School for Boys has the greatest enrollment, 10,059 in 1930. The average enrollment for the country is 234.

HERNDON RESIDENCE RAZED IN $7,000 FIRE

Seamans Home Destroyed; Firemen Are Hampered by High Winds.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Seamans, at Herndon, Va., early yesterday.

The family was asleep, when Mrs. Seamans, who is the Fairfax County health nurse, was awakened by the smoke. She aroused her husband and daughter and called the Herndon Volunteer Fire Department.

Meanwhile, a colored maid, who was asleep on the top floor, awoke to find herself surrounded by flames, the entire roof being ablaze. Finding her way to the stairs blocked, she jumped from the window. Uninjured, she ran to the house of a neighbor.

High winds hampered the firemen in their efforts to control the fire. Blazing embers were carried to the roofs of homes some distance away, which made the task more difficult. The loss was estimated to be about $7,000.

The hunting season in Fairfax County, Va., for upland game such as rabbits, squirrels, quail and wild turkeys, will open tomorrow morning and continue until December 31. The bag lemit on wild turkeys for one person will be two during the season; all other game is reported to be more plentiful this year.

The rest days for shooting water fowl this year will be on Wednesdays and Sundays and for the upland game Sundays only.

Thomas P. Chapman, jr., State license clerk at Fairfax, says applications for hunting licenses are much larger than previous years.

It is stated that during the season the State Game Commission will send a number of game wardens into the county with roving commissions to keep a check on the hunters, to see that the State game laws are observed.

Today and tomorrow Miss Sarah E. Thomas, Fairfax County home demonstration agent, will hold meetings for the leaders of the 4-H club of Fairfax County in the board room of the county court house. Plans for work and organization for the coming year and for demonstrations for the next eight months will be made. Miss Thomas will outline the plans and Miss Cymbel Taylor, State clothing specialist, will give demonstrations.

Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the Home Demonstration Club at Navy, Miss Thomas will give a demonstration on rug making.

A new method of examining persons and children between the ages of 16 and 18 for Virginia automobile drivers permits have been inaugurated by the State police. All persons who wish to take the examination will make their applications to the local State policemen. In Fairfax County, State Policeman C. B. Bullock will hold examinations at the county courthouse each Wednesday.

Barker Hall Scene Of Prayer Session

Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Join Annual Observance; Services All Week.

The annual week of prayer and world fellowship of the world's Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s was opened with an international friendship service under joint auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association in Barker Hall, Seventeenth and K streets northwest.

Dr. George S. Duncan, dean of the Y. M. C. A. School of Religion, offered the prayer. A choir composed of members of the Y. W. C. A. Glee Club and of the Y. M. C. A. Glee Club gave several numbers.

Brief services of meditation will be held by staff members of the organization throughout the week at the Young Women's Christian Association, under leadership of Miss Hettie P. Anderson, general secretary.

COLLECTOR BALKS FOUR HOLDUP MEN

one of the men grabbed for his small brief case, containing the money.

Shouts for aid soon brought a number of taxi and bus drivers, who immediately joined in the melee. Three of the bandits soon wrested free and fled, but the fourth was captured.

Policeman W. E. Riley, of the park police, who happened to be passing, started in pursuit of the fleeing men. As the chase led through the Botanic Gardens, Riley opened fire. At First and Maryland avenue southwest, he overtook one of the men and placed him under arrest.

The man captured by taxi and bus drivers said he was James W. Howard, alias James W. Freeland, of 1209 O street northwest. Riley's prisoner gave the name of John Villa Guy, of 921 Virginia avenue southwest.

Riley, enlisting the aid of Metropolitan police, immediately went to work on the case and within a few hours had arrested seven more men. Five were released after two were allegedly identified as members of the gang.

According to Riley, he obtained signed confessions from Howard, Guy, James Vesilla, alias James M. Smith, of 1421 Twelfth street northwest, and Charles W. Bralock, alias Charles W. Wilson, of 1217 N street northwest. Riley also said the men were identified by Burch. They are being held on technical charges of investigation.

ELECTION PLANNED BY WOMEN VOTERS

Arlington Group Will Select Officers at Meeting Wednesday.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 309. Clarendon, Va.

Election of officers will feature the winter meeting of the Organized Women Voters of Arlington County to be held Wednesday afternoon at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Glebe road. The business meeting will be preceded by a luncheon.

The nominating committee announced the following slate has been selected:

For president, Mrs. Bertha Kelly and Mrs. Marion Hagan; for vice president, Mrs. Elsie Gall and Mrs. Edith Simpson; for recording secretary, Mrs. Pearle Sharpe and Mrs. May Williams; for corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. J. Skidmore and Mrs. Wilda McNemar; for treasurer, Mrs. Ada Davidson and Mrs. Gertrude Clapper; for registrar, Mrs. Ruth B. Lowell and Mrs. Edith Collier; for parliamentarian, Mrs. Florence E. Cannon; for district chairman, Mrs. Daisy Flack, Mrs. Jessie Hunt, Mrs. Ollie Odom, Mrs. Richart, Mrs. Ruth Simpson, Mrs. Ethel Lewis, Mrs. Pauline A. Smith and Mrs. Grace Dagger.

Indorsing the annual roll call of the Arlington Chapter, American Red Cross, now under way, County Manager Roy S. Braden yesterday issued the following statement:

"I do not think that any argument should be necessary during this year, of all years, to support the movement by those who are in a position to do so.

"The tidal wave of economic hardship extended to every class of people from coast to coast, whether he be farmer, laborer or professional man; and no hurricane or other single disaster ever equaled the damage wrought by the slow gnawing of enforced idleness.

"We do not think it necessary to call attention to the many services that have been and are now being rendered by the Red Cross. Its activities all deal with human interests and no class of persons is discriminated against in their service.

"The American people have ever been and always will be willing to make sacrifices for our less fortunate friends and this annual roll call has issued an appeal to the people of Arlington County to support the movement and I do not think when the final results have been tabulated that it will show Arlington County as not living up to its opportunity."

The Jefferson Civic League will hold its monthly meeting tonight in the Community House at Virginia Highlands. Officers will be elected.

The auxiliary to the Arlington County Monarch Club was not perfected at the dinner meeting of the club held last Thursday night at Windsor Arms, as erroneously reported. Mrs. Walter U. Varney was appointed temporary chairman, and not elected president as reported.

There will be a meeting tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. Varney, Lyon Village, when the organization will be perfected with the election of officers.

The Arlington County Board, in special session tonight at the courthouse, will consider the applications for the rezoning of the property of Harry Stewart, Garrison road, Ballston, and that of James D. Head, Glebe road.

Meeting tonight at the Democratic headquarters in the Rees Building at Clarendon, the Arlington County Democratic Women's Club will consider plans for a victory banquet, in cooperation with the county committee, the Men's Club and the Young Democratic Club.

Bank Holdup Victim Sues Reputed Robber

Piano, Ill., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Gus Winkler was made defendant in a $50,000 personal injury suit filed by one of the victims in a bank robbery in which Winkler reputedly participated.

Charles M. Jones, cashier of the Piano State Bank which was robbed of $9,000 in December, 1930, filed suit against Winkler in the Kane County Circuit Court yesterday. Jones said he was struck over the head and injured seriously during the robbery.

Winkler is free on $20,000 bond in connection with the case.

But You Lose No Matter When You Buy

An old trick in selling securities of little value, is to set an arbitrary date when the price will advance.

The lure is powerful, because the prospective buyer believes that if he does not buy right away he can not take advantage of the bargain price. He is urged to get in before the stock goes up, and save money.

Some kind of argument generally is advanced to justify the contemplated increase. "A gusher is expected soon," if it is an oil property, or "early buyers will be given the low price while those who wait of course, must and should, pay the higher price."

Sometimes the price actually is raised when the date rolls around. This gives the seller the right to say: "I warned you." But such increases in price generally add nothing to the actual value.

Arbitrary raises in the price of Securities are fictitious and add no value. It pays to be suspicious of propositions like this. And always remember—

LOVE FOR MANKIND CALLED BEST GOAL

Dr. Clinchy Says Depression Has Taught Thrift Can Be Overdone.

The realism of human suffering, revealed as the result of depressed economic conditions, is slowly teaching men that they no longer dare make thrift and personal acquisition the goal of life, according to the opinion of the Rev. Russell F. Clinchy, minister of Mount Vernon Congregational Church, as expressed in his sermon yesterday.

"We have discovered," he said, "that men who make acquisition their goal can not live out long years of life in the kind of communities which bring hope and faith. That is the first step in the march toward Hope." The Rev. Mr. Clinchy's subject was "The March Toward Hope," and during his sermon he gave strong indorsement to the Community Chest.

"Deceit, greed, lust and pride are not real ways of living," Dr. Clinchy said. "We know that when actual, stark reality does come upon us, as has come now, we can not afford to live in any other way but that of a family which shares. The one thing we sense the clearest is that when life is most real we have only the choice between insanity and a sharing experience. A fundamentally rational humanity inevitably turns at these moments to every man helping his neighbor. But we have allowed that to be only the occasional occurrence.

Thrift Poor Goal.

"We have allowed the virtue of thrift and careful saving to be made the final goal of life. The danger of thrift lies in its power to become the goal of life. A miser is a man who has made thrift and saving his goal. He may be without any personal evil habit or sin, but he is the deadly enemy of everything that humanity has found to be of the most worth. A race of misers would create a catastrophe.

"That is one of the main causes of our present calamity. Unconsciously we have allowed personal thrift to become the goal of life, and our communities have become filled with prospective misers. We have become afflicted with the idea that we could make selfish security the goal of individual action and be safe. We would, of course, soften the roughest places by alms giving, but we believed that misers would be safe. We have had to learn some terrible lessons in the school of life in the last three years.

Simple Lesson.

"All men now are learning the first and simplest lesson that God ever tried to have us learn; that we are here to share the world which was made for us. There is no other meaning to God or to existence than that. For all the ages we have failed God and Jesus in that ideal, and now out of the valley of the shadow our hope is in building a community of the purpose of God.

"We have now come to a time when the whole frontier of the world is gone and men must live together. The necessity of the twentieth century is for the discovery of the way to live together. There is only one door open before us, that we shall set about the task of building sharing communities, with as much intellect and faith as we build better transportation and communication. Not until we are able to carry our common human interests with as little friction as we carry our bodies, shall we ever build the sharing community, which is free from fear and strife. That is our task."

Drilling to Begin At Ocean Oil Well

Petroleum to Be Brought Up Through 35 Feet of Water.

Ventura, Calif., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—An oil well derrick reached skyward from the ocean 9 miles north of here today while workmen prepared to drop a drill through 35 feet of water and "spud in" one of the strangest oil wells in the world.

To save the cost of a half-mile pier, O. L. Roberts, of Los Angeles, invented and built an island of steel to seek petroleum below the bottom of the sea. Roberts said he planned to begin drilling from the structure at once. He estimated he had saved $250,000.

The man-made island, costing $75,000, is 60 by 90 feet and bears 200 tons of steel machinery. Work was started on it August 18, when a Los Angeles company anchored a barge at the site and began driving steel piles to bedrock far below. A fishing boat transported workmen. Roberts said pollution of the beach would be avoided by running debris into a container which will be shipped to trucks ashore.

Alcohol Still on Every Farm, Is Judge's Advice

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—An alcohol still on every farm is the suggestion advanced by Municipal Judge Calvin Stewart to President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt as a means of overcoming the agricultural depression. In a letter to Roosevelt, Judge Stewart advised that farmers be allowed to convert surplus grain into industrial alcohol.

Such disposition of the crop would give farmers a new market and would conserve oil deposits, the judge said.

Paducah Indorses City Manager Government

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Paducah adopted the city manager plan of government, final tabulation of the city's vote showed today. The vote was 4,429 to 2,199.

The city manager plan will succeed the commission form of government effective January 1, 1934. A much smaller town, Winchester, in central Kentucky, defeated the city manager plan in the election.

Woman Who Lost Eye Ends Life With Plunge

Hollywood, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Leaving her husband asleep in their bedroom, Mrs. W. P. McFarland, 65, threw herself from a window of their ninth-floor apartment here early today. She died shortly after she was taken to a hospital.

The husband said he believed she was prompted to the act by the loss of an eye in an operation last week.

Paralysis Is Conquered

Not Considered Affliction by Roosevelt Family, Who Feel It Better Fitted President-Elect for Desk Work; Won Back Use of Limbs.

(Editor's note—As Assistant Secretary of the Navy during the World War Franklin D. Roosevelt played a game of chess, with troop transports and men o' war the chessmen and human lives the stakes. After the armistice he lost an election to high office and was stricken with infantile paralysis . . . But later he made a comeback. Read about it in this fifth installment of his life story.)

By GARDNER BRIDGE.

(Copyright, 1932, by the Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Franklin D. Roosevelt was asked to run for Governor of New York as early as 1918, but he declined, Alfred E. Smith, who was later to draft Roosevelt for the same job, was elected.

In the summer of 1918 Roosevelt, as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, made an inspection of the department's bases in Europe, traveling across in a rolling, pitching destroyer, in constant danger of a U-boat attack. In Europe he was received by King George of England, visited King Albert on the Belgian front and established contacts with other continental dignitaries.

Following the war he devoted much of his time to campaigning for the United States' entry into the League of Nations, for the adoption of a Federal budget system and the reorganization of the Federal administration. During this period the social life of Washington frequently brought the Roosevelts together with the Herbert Hoovers.

Hoover entered the Republican national convention in 1920, but lost the presidential nomination to Senator Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, while Roosevelt was selected as James M. Cox's running mate on the Democratic ticket.

There are at least two versions of how the Roosevelt family was split into separate political factions. A member of the Oyster Bay, or Republican, branch recently told this reporter the break occurred during the Revolutionary War, while a current biography places it as late as the Civil War.

At any rate, the split was emphasized during the early stages of the last presidential campaign, when Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the late President, said Franklin was a "distant cousin" and announced she would vote for Mr. Hoover.

The open break came, however, during the 1920 campaign, when the Republicans sought to correct a popular impression that Franklin D. was a son of "T. R." by sending young Col. Theodore Roosevelt out on a stumping tour. In a speech at Sheridan, Wyo., Theodore said of Franklin:

"He is a maverick—he does not have the brand of our family."

The President-elect has never made any reference to this incident, but when Theodore ran for Governor of New York, in 1924, Franklin D. took the stump and assailed what he called the nominee's "wretched record" as Assistant Secretary of the Navy in the Harding administration.

Returned to Law Practice.

In that 1920 campaign, popular sentiment against the League of Nations wa strong, and the Cox-Roosevelt combination was buried under an avalanche of votes, with the result that Roosevelt returned to his long-neglected law practice.

A year after losing the vice presidential fight Roosevelt was stricken with infantile paralysis. He had taken a plunge into the icy waters of the bay near his summer home at Campobello, New Brunswick, and had sat reading his mail in his bathing suit. Two days later his legs were paralyzed.

Neither Roosevelt nor any member of his family has ever publicly acnowledged his condition to be an affliction. Rather, they have taken the attitude that it makes him better fitted for desk work. His son, James, commenting last spring on the possibility of his father becoming President, told this reporter that "after all, it's a desk job."

Crutches Discarded.

Gradually, with the aid of exercises and periodic visits to Warm Springs, Ga., which he developed into a health resort, Roosevelt regained sufficient use of his legs to enable him to discard crutches.

He regards what impairment he still has as unimportant. This was amply illustrated by the strenuousness of his campaigns in 1928, 1930 and 1932. At the end of his Western trip this fall, during which he made four major addresses, a dozen lesser speeches and almost 100 platform appearances, he remarked:

"I am sorry it is over. I wish we were just starting out."

It was only after the utmost persuasion, and in the belief that he would be aiding the presidential hopes of his friend, Alfred E. Smith, that Roosevelt consented to venture a return to public life in 1928. He never had abandoned his public career, but he was hesitant to take it up again at that early stage for fear of halting the steady progress he was making in the effort to regain control of his leg muscles.

Twice Nominated Smith.

The improvement he had made was easily discernible between the time he stood on crutches to place "the happy warrior" in nomination at the Madison Square Garden convention of 1924 and the time he nominated Smith again at Houston in 1928, after walking down the long aisle with only the arm of his son and a cane to support him.

But the demand was too insistent; Roosevelt permitted himself to be drafted for the governorship. He carried the State by 25,564, while Smith lost it by 103,481.

(How Gov. Roosevelt faces the most critical test of his public career and wins the Presidency is told in tomorrow's final article.)

SPEAKING CONTEST AT G. W. U. TONIGHT

Six Seniors Will Compete for Davis Prizes; Kayser Will Preside.

Six seniors of George Washington University will compete in the eighty-fifth annual Davis prize speaking contest to be held at 8:15 p. m. tomorrow in Corcoran Hall under auspices of the department of public speaking of the university.

The Davis prizes were established in 1847 by Isaac Davis, a member at that time of the Massachusetts Senate. The seniors who will deliver orations and their subjects are: Dewitt Bennett, "The Price of Culture;" Mary Eleanor Grindell, "The Problems of the Nation;" Ben Hope, "Youth in a Finished World;" Seymour Mintz, "Capitalism Has Not Broken Down;" Elizabeth Reeves, "Socialism and the Next Era," and Richard Tilden, "Centralized Control of Industry."

Judges will be: Dr. Stephen E. Kramer, assistant superintendent of schools; Gilbert L. Hall, of the District of Columbia Bar, and Prof. S. Chesterfield Oppenheim, of the George Washington University law faculty. Prof. Elmer Louis Kayser, professor of history at the university, will preside.

The Davis prizes have been won in the past by several well-known Washingtonians, including Genevieve Frizsell, actress; Ralph W. Benton, Washington newspaper editor; Elizabeth Peet, dean of women and professor of languages at Gallaudet College; William Cabell Van Vleck, dean of George Washington Law School, and Prof. Kayser.

House Election Brings Schoolmates Together

Minocqua, Wis., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Raymond J. Cannon and Gerald J. Boileau used to sit across the aisle from each other at high school here. Cannon was the shortstop and Boileau played first base on the sandlot baseball team. Their friendship continued and now the years are bringing them together again.

Cannon, a Milwapkee Democrat, was elected to Congress in Tuesday's landslide. Boileau, Republican from Swausau, retained his seat in the National House.

"I don't know much about the seating arrangements in Congress," Cannon said, "but I may be across the aisle from him again."

Nye Better After Car Crash Injury

Senator Lewis' Doctor Says Patient Will Get Up Shortly.

St. Paul, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The condition of United States Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, injured in an automobile accident, was improved tonight, hospital attaches said.

Senator Nye received two fractured ribs and cuts and bruises when his automobile skidded and overturned near Hudson, Wis., yesterday. The senator, who was en route from his home at Cooperstown, N. Dak., to Washington, will remain at the hospital for several days before resuming his journey.

Chicago, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Dr. M. L. Harris, physician attending Senator James Hamilton Lewis, ill in a hospital here, tonight said the senator was "much improved," and would be able to leave his bed within a day or so. Senator Lewis was described as exhausted physically from overwork.

Grape League Asks Wine by Christmas

California Growers to Seek Aid of Eastern Group to Move Congress.

San Francisco, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—With the slogan "Wine for America's Christmas Tables!" the Grape Growers' League of California announced today it would seek the aid of Eastern grape producers in urging the December session of Congress to make wine sales legal. Louis M. Martini, of Kingsburg, Calif., one of the league's directors, will travel East to enlist support of grape growers in New York, Michigan, New Jersey, Missouri, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

"Grape growers throughout the United States are suffering from the same overproduction that threatens ruin to this $350,000,000 industry in California, the largest producing State," said a statement by Sophus Federspiel, president of the league.

"The salavation that legalized wine would bring to the grape men is of almost equal importance to the related industries in every State of the Union, such as glass, printing, lumber, barrels, the hotel and restaurant business and many other lines of endeavor."

Sterling Signs New Oil Law Based on Demand

Austin, Tex., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Texas erected a new legal dam today across its vast oil pools, declaring officials may consider "market demand" in fixing the flow of petroleum allowed the 8,000 producing oil wells in the rich East Texas field.

Writing a new chapter in the fantastic story of "black gold," Gov. R. S. Sterling signed into law last night an act giving additional discretionary power to the State Railroad Commission, charged with the conservation of the valuable deposit. The old law prohibited consideration of demand, confining conservation operations to physical waste.

DEBT CANCELLATION.

The United States is now squarely confronted with the concerted demand of European debtors for cancellation of the war debts. The simultaneous notes of the British and French governments, dated Nov. 10 and published today, do not ask merely for postponement of the debt payments due on Dec. 15. Both notes specifically ask for the reopening of the whole question of war debts. Their request for postponement of the December payments is based upon the plea that five weeks is not sufficient time in which to review the debt question. They remind the United States that Germany's creditors at the Lausanne conference last June and July agreed to a suspension of reparation payments for the period of the conference, and they ask the United States to suspend the December payments during the term of the proposed discussions on war debts, "or for any other period that may be agreed upon."

Both the British and French notes recount the fact that Germany's creditors arranged at Lausanne to terminate reparation payments, but neither of them acknowledges that the arrangement was made contingent upon reduction or cancellation of the war debts by the United States. The British note states that the Lausanne agreement "represents the maximum contribution in the field of inter-governmental finance" which Europe is able to make "towards the early restoration of world prosperity." The co-operation of the United States is now declared to be essential. The French note declares that France "voluntarily agreed to very heavy sacrifices at Lausanne" in the interest of world recovery and peace. But "the economic and financial difficulties which stand in the way of a normal resumption of relations between nations are still present." France therefore asks for a "further study of the debt question," and requests that suspension of the December payment be granted "in order that the study . . . may be completed in the necessary atmosphere of mutual trust."

It may be taken for granted that all the other debtors will join in the British and French request.

Thus the United States is faced with the alternative of assuming Europe's debt or of being charged with responsibility for blocking world economic recovery. The debtor governments are willing to forgo a worthless claim against Germany if the United States will forgive their own debts. The net result of this arrangement would be, of course, the imposition upon American taxpayers of a load of $11,000,000,000. The bonds which were given to raise the sums loaned to Europe are United States bonds, and they can not be cancelled by any international arrangement. They must be paid by the United States by means of taxation if the European debtors are released.

The question whether the United States shall agree to reopening the debt problem is one that concerns both the outgoing and incoming administrations. Therefore President Hoover has acted properly in inviting President-elect Roosevelt to confer with him in regard to the decision to be taken.

The advice of those in Congress who are concerned with foreign relations and revenue doubtless will be obtained. If there is to be a discussion of war debt revision the most practicable method would be to recreate the World War Debt Commission; but Congress at the last session refused to do this.

An affirmative reply by the United States Government, followed by the opening of discussions, is not to be expected unless there can be some certainty that Congress would look favorably upon the move. A debt conference with Congress in opposition to revision would work for mischief. No agreement can be made without the approval of Congress, as the debt agreements are acts of Congress and can not be set aside by any executive action.

It does not seem possible that a decisive expression can be obtained from Congress by Dec. 15. The proposal to reopen the debt agreements gives rise to a score of contentious questions, such as demands for European disarmament, lowering of the tariff in order to permit the debtors to sell goods here, lowering of European tariffs as an alternative to debt payments, protection of private American loans to Germany, and even in Senator Borah's case a demand for revision of the Treaty of Versailles, abolition of the Polish corridor, etc.

One thing that seems certain is that public opinion will demand guarantees of some offsetting compensation before approving a conference looking to debt revision. Cancellation of the debts on Europe's assurance that it will promote "world economic recovery and consolidation of peace" is not acceptable. Europe asks the United States to trust it to work for recovery and peace, but nothing that Europe has done warrants such trust. Europe has failed to reduce armaments; it has refused to cancel German reparations unconditionally; it refuses to concede to Germany equality in armament; it now asks the United States to make the first real sacrifice.

The President, expressing the attitude of the President-elect as well as his own, may well advise the governments concerned that the United States will await some specific guarantees of European co-operation in behalf of reduction of armaments before consenting to a discussion of revision of debts.

NEW TAXES NECESSARY.

New taxes must be levied when Congress meets in December. The tax on gasoline, which to date has proved to be the most productive of all the imposts enacted last spring, will expire next June. Congress considered this strictly an emergency measure and decided, therefore, that it should remain in effect only one year. Aside from the fact that Government receipts are running far behind expenditures, it will be necessary to reenact this provision or levy some other tax instead.

Since there must be a revenue measure of some kind, it is probable that Congress will find a substitute for the nuisance taxes, or at least supplement them with other levies of a more substantial nature. An attempt will be made to tax beer. Wet enthusiasts contend that a stiff tax on this beverage would yield enough revenue to make up the deficit. But it is evident that the beer measure will not be treated as a revenue bill. It will be considered on its constitutional merits and as the first step toward the abolition of Federal control over liquor. The prospects for enactment of such a measure do not appear to be good at the short session.

If the beer tax movement fails, the sales tax will be brought forward to take its place. It is generally agreed now that the defeat of the sales tax by a revolt in the House of Representatives last spring was a serious mistake. At that time many leaders in the Senate and the House realized that a sales tax was the only practicable measure which could be expected to yield sufficient revenue to balance the budget in this period of shrunken incomes. President Hoover spoke personally before the Senate, urging adoption of the sales tax. But the program of nuisance taxes had been framed and the Senate held to it, fearing that the House might again revolt.

Sentiment in favor of the sales tax will probably be stronger in the coming session than it was last spring, but it is still questionable whether a levy of this kind can be adopted. Representative Crisp, leader in the fight for the sales tax in the House, was defeated in his race for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Georgia largely because he advocated the sales tax. He was accused of being a "tool of the interests". Thinking men and women know that he had his country's welfare at heart, but that did not stop his opponents from raising class prejudice against him. Congressmen who have their eyes on their political future will doubtless be chary about voting for the sales tax, even though they do not have to stand up for reelection for two years.

In the Senate advocates of the sales tax will probably be strong enough to secure its adoption, if the beer tax movement fails. The result may be a tax row between the two houses. Whatever action is taken will probably be of a temporary nature, subject to revision by the new Congress.

ELECTION ODDITIES.

On the rough edges of a national election many curious quirks of fate may be found. Statesmen as well as politicians sometimes dig their own graves unwittingly. Opportunists frequently climb into office by stealing the thunder of distinguished opponents. If all the incongruities of the campaigns that ended this week could be written, they would contain a wide range of tragedy, comedy, mystery, and burlesque.

One of the most curious contests is that which ended in the defeat of Senator Reed Smoot, dean of the Senate and the most stalwart advocate of tariff protection on Capitol Hill. Eastern readers assume that Senator Smoot went down because of the unpopularity of the tariff bill which bears his name. But this was not the case. Elbert D. Thomas, the Democratic college professor who upset the veteran of 30 years, vigorously pledged himself to the protection of Utah industries. Senator Smoot, he said, allowed eastern interests "to put one over on him" when he secured an increase of only one-quarter cent in the sugar tariff. In campaigning for Thomas, Senator King, who voted against the tariff act, said he had Gov. Roosevelt's assurance that sugar would be better protected under a Democratic administration than at present. On these promises Utah threw out the apostle of protection and chose a man who believes in tariffs for Utah only.

Senator Bingham, wettest of the wets in Congress, was defeated by a handful of drys in wet Connecticut. "Dripping" will not describe the personal platform on which Senator Bingham stood. Repeal, immediate beer, stamp out Volsteadism forever—there was nothing too wet for the Bingham campaign. But his Democratic colleague, Augustine Lonergan, was also wet. The repeal votes were divided between them, and a handful of drys who rallied around Prof. Milton Conover, former colleague of Senator Bingham on the Yale University faculty, withheld enough Republican votes from Bingham to give victory to the Democrat, even though President Hoover carried Connecticut.

Another curious case is that of Senator James J. Davis, who ran 20,000 votes ahead of President Hoover in Pennsylvania. Gov. Pinchot tried to induce Republican leaders to force Senator Davis off the ticket. Perhaps that is one reason why voters decided he should be elected.

Senator Moses, author of apt epithets aimed at insurgents who forgot their party, proved to be the forgotten man in New Hampshire. More than 7,000 voters who marked their ballots for President Hoover in the White Mountain State failed to record any preference for the foe of the wild jackass. In a year when insurgents themselves have been beaten their tormentor also feels the sting of defeat.

In several States Republican senators and congressmen were so anxious to save themselves that they did not mention the name of President Hoover. Yet the President polled more votes in their States than they could muster for themselves.

Such is politics.

Shucks! Just as Senator Borah squares off for a fight with the Demon Rum he must face an attack by the war debtors.

Europe doesn't care who is President, or which party is in power, so long as it can transfer its debts to Americans.

The manner in which other problems thrust themselves in ahead of the thirst march is simply disgusting.

ECCENTRIC CANDIDATES

From the New York Times.

There were during the campaign many Republican claims that the election of Gov. Roosevelt would swell the number of "wild men" and "freaks" in public life. Forgetting the fine representation in their own party of persons thus unkindly described, the Republicans gave to the Democrats complete possession of the political zoo. It is interesting to note what happened last Tuesday to those in a category which may more politely be described as unusual or eccentric.

The State of Washington gratified the ambitions of three of them. Homer T. Bone, elected to the Senate, has been a member of nine political parties and as late as last August was "keynoting" at a convention of irregular Republicans. The primaries being free for all, he entered the Democratic as the most promising and was duly elected. Seattle sent to Congress Marion Zioncheck, naturalized so recently that the date was questioned during the campaign, and considered by conservatives to be of Communist sympathies. Whether the success of the Democratic candidate for governor, Clarence D. Martin, carried with it the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, who leads a jazz band, is not certain. His name is Victor Aloysius Meyer.

California denied membership in the Senate to the Rev. "Bob" Shuler, which robs the National Capital of the presence of one who would have added hitherto unwitnessed gyrations and music to the political carousel. Kansas reduced the gayety of Topeka by defeating John R. Brinkley, the goat-gland doctor, of whose supporters it was said: "If you see a man knock his watch on a stone wall to make it go, he is a Brinkley man." Iowa kept at home Henry Field, the genial seed merchant who mixed homilies with politics on the radio, and who hoped to be rewarded with the senatorship for his good service in defeating Smith W. Brookhart for renomination. And Wisconsin, deaf to John B. Chapple's warnings of what advanced teaching was doing to the morals of State university students at Madison, would not endorse President Hoover's blessing upon the Republican senatorial candidate.

Minnesota and Oklahoma were more generous. The latest returns seem to make it sure that Magnus Johnson, former glassblower, who redeemed his alien origin by having a son born on July 4, will be a representative in Congress. And Oklahoma Democrats, having nominated a school teacher named Will Rogers as a matter of mistaken identity, loyally sent him to Congress. All of the eccentrics did not get through. But enough of them did to lend flavor to the affairs of States and Nation.

The Reception Committee.

POST HASTE

Colorado really should realize that she has only three weeks to make up her mind about that senator before Congress meets.

Police Supt. Brown will make a radio plea to marchers to "stay away from our door." He can put his heart in it, seeing what they did to his predecessor.

Something must be troubling Chairman Farley. He is still trying to prove it was a victory.

Cheer up, you might be a congressman or a Supreme Court judge and have to decide what is intoxicating.

Fearing it might feel a little shaky since last Tuesday, the President stopped on his way back to give Hoover Dam a vote of confidence.

European nations are not overly flush, but they will gladly subscribe for a mausoleum for the moratorium.

Staging the fight for next month is questionable generalship—it is impossible to love beer in chill December as in hot July.

Henry Ford is trying to make amends by registering some belated views on tariffs and currency. He is for free trade, but not free money.

With so many States repealing enforcement acts it is going to cut the liquor squads for Federal enforcement pretty thin.

President Hoover can hardly be blamed if he wanted to associate briefly with the biggest dam in the world.

The Cabinet dopesters apportion three places to Dixieland, three to Progressives and two to Roosevelt Republicans, which leaves one entire post to be divided between Smith, Baker, Davis, Young and Farley.

Before their goose is cooked the lame ducks with two good wings will fly high and free for three months.

One editor suggests that another way to provide jobs for all able-bodied men is to keep on nagging Japan.

We trust no one will spoil the enthusiasm for a 30 per cent levy on beer by disclosing that it is a sales tax.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

AUTUMN SCENE.

Upon the hills the giant trees with color were ablaze,
Like smoke from smouldering embers rose the late October haze.
All silent and magnificent I fancied I could see
The Master Artist touching up some solitary tree,
But the glory of the landscape was a flash of crimson flame
At the bottom of the picture where the painter signs his name.

Now I can not speak the language of the men who paint and draw,
And with technical precision can't describe the scene I saw.
All I know is that a picture was unrolled for me to see,
And the high lights and the shadows seemed just what they ought to be,
But that gorgeous burst of color in the foreground caught my eye,
And I knew it made the landscape, though I couldn't say just why.

It struck me as peculiar, where an earthly painter signs,
The Master Artist splashed His name in tangled shrubs and vines.
And as I stepped up closer I discovered and was glad
He had given that touch of splendor to the poorest stuff He had.
To the common things in summer which man scarcely sees at all
He had given the place of honor and the glory of the fall.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

UNLESS you are one of the self-reliant few, you have lonely periods when you say to yourself: "I wish I had a sympathetic and understanding friend, such as other people have. My soul hungers for comradeship."

But that isn't the whole truth. You are fooling yourself.

If you had such a friend, what would you do? You would back him into a corner and tell him your troubles.

It isn't a comrade you want. You want somebody to listen and look sympathetic while you talk about yourself and the woes you suffer.

You feel neglected because nobody will lend an ear. You think yourself without a true friend because everybody makes an excuse to move on when you begin the oft-repeated tale of your sorrows. Doubtless you hate a few people because they shamed you by offering ironic words of sympathy when you trusted them with your sacred confidence.

Well, you have abundance of company. Almost everybody has had similar experiences. And the reason you have fared so ill is because everybody else feels much as you do.

The wise hold their tongues; the strong suffer in silence for pride's sake; the ridiculed affect an unfelt fortitude to escape the jeers of the heartless.

But everybody enjoys telling his troubles and everybody desires sympathy.

That is the reason people are bored by your complainings. You are carrying coals to Newcastle. You are trying to sell your woe to people who have an abundance of their own to peddle.

If you would be loved, remember that others are as selfish as you are. Ask less and give more. Use your ears instead of your mouth. The world dearly loves a listener.

In all seriousness, the world bored by your sorrows will love you for listening to its own. And, once you learn the knack of it, giving sympathy is much more fun than getting it.

The lover's joy is not in being loved by somebody but in having somebody to love.

WHAT IS TO COME?

Press Surmises as to Probable Developments in Politics as a Result of the Election.

Supreme Court Must Pass on Beer.

Kansas City Star.

Predictions of immediate modification of the Volstead act to permit legal sales of beer and possibly light wines leave out of account one vital consideration. It is the position that might be taken by the United States Supreme Court on legislation of that nature. It is assumed that the only necessary would be action of Congress (with presidential approval) raising the alcoholic content of beer to 2.75, to 3 or to 4 per cent, compared with the one-half of 1 per cent now set for all beverages by the Volstead act.

But if at the approaching short session or, more probably, at the regular or a special session of the newly elected Congress, this alcoholic content should be increased to any one of the suggested percentages, what would be the attitude of the Supreme Court? The legislation would be certain to go to that body for a decision. And the court, in decisions handed down both before and since prohibition, has upheld the one-half of 1 per cent.

Campaign No Longer Interferes.

Atlanta Constitution.

Every indication is that the only thing that has been holding business and industry back from a sound and permanent progress is the uncertainty of the election period. Now that that is gone, there should be a material strengthening all up and down the economic front.

Must Keep Harmony.

Brooklyn Eagle.

As a result of the great overturn Mr. Roosevelt will become President with a united party behind him. The magnitude of his victory is so great that it may in itself be a handicap, since the elements supporting him represent such diverse views. But Mr. Roosevelt has demonstrated surprising qualities of leadership and may prove equal to the task of holding his supporters in line.

Revenge on Canada.

Chicago Tribune.

And it would serve Canada right, after her putting up that high tariff wall along the U. S. boundary line, to change the laws so that we can have beer and wine and things in our own country and keep our auto tourists home in summer, and then they'd have to go back up there to hunting moose and chopping down timber and trading with the Hudson Bay Indians to make a living.

Congress Will Respond.

New York Times.

The "lame duck" session—probably the last—will undoubtedly reflect the will of the people as expressed in choosing the Seventy-third Congress. This should especially apply to emergency measures known to have the approval of the President-elect, among which modification of the Volstead act so as to legalize "real" beer is salient.

America Remains American.

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Foreign comment on Tuesday's election expresses in general hopes for "something better." Most of the nations have been led to believe that a Democratic administration will mean a lowering of the protective tariff, thus making easier their access to the American market. The Japanese hope—almost against hope, however—that there may be a softening of the American attitude on Far Eastern issues. Moscow has great expectations of recognition.

But foreign nations are once again falling into a common error. America under a Democratic regime will still be America, and American external interests will remain largely as before. There are certain fundamentals in American foreign policy which are continuing and are affected but little by domestic politics. Any rosy hopes which may be built on the coming of the Democrats to power are likely to end in disappointment.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Discusses Proposed Landscape Settings for the Monument—Opposes Radical Changes.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I see by The Post paper that the Fine Arts Commission and the National Capital Park and Planning Commission will discuss the proposed landscape setting of the Washington Monument at a meeting November 18. Landscape experts and amateurs have been fussing over this project for years and years, and it does seem about time to have its planning definitely settled.

I myself am inclined to agree with those who favor the formal landscaping of the grounds in harmony with the plain, majestic appearance of the Monument. However, any attractive arrangement of trees and shrubs and flowers will be pleasing to the average citizen and that is, after all, the main thing to be considered.

But for the satisfaction of the few critics who are likely to worry about the fitness of things, it is to be hoped the planners will resist the temptation to add special monumental features which might change the aspect of the Monument into something different from what it now is.

J. F. PARKS.

Too Many Auto "Hits"—Test of Drivers Should Be Made More Rigid.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I frequently see headlines in the papers informing us that auto hits pole, auto hits tree, auto hits show window, auto hits bridge, auto hits culvert, auto hits pedestrian.

The conclusion I draw from the large number of this sort of "unavoidable accidents" is that the drivers are incompetent, or the speed allowed on the streets and highways is too great. The fact that there is no encouraging decrease in the number of traffic deaths makes it look as if the traffic authorities are not giving as much attention to traffic safety as should be the case under the circumstances.

One thing they might do would be to make arrangements to weed out incompetent drivers, by refusing licenses to those who can not pass the psychological test we hear mentioned from time to time. In the meantime, another thing they should do is to study the regulation of traffic speed so that it will not in any case be greater than the average motorist, as now licensed, can negotiate.

Correspondent Seeks Special Editions of The Post to Complete Historic File.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The purport of this communication is to ask if any of the older inhabitants of the District of Columbia possess copies of all the inaugural editions of The Post since March, 1885; its G. A. R. encampment editions of 1892, 1902 and 1914 or 1915; the editions published in honor of the Knights of Pythias encampment, the exact dates of which are unknown; a copy of the special number published by the Chicago Tribune on the presses of The Post in 1892 with reference to the Chicago World Fair of 1893; various Greater Washington editions and other special numbers.

These mementos are sought in re your correspondent's large file of anniversary and special issues of a historical nature of world newspapers and magazines published in the English language, to which, to date, more than 600 editors, publishers and others have contributed.

Should any of your readers care to assist they can address the correspondent at his home, 2803 Woodley road northwest.

Tappahannock Democratic and Optimistic as Usual—Lawn Mowers Mobilized.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Incident to Tuesday's election, it may be observed that the antiquated town of Tappahannock ran true to form, piling up the usual Democratic majorities. An optimistic atmosphere prevails. Determined that the grass shall not grow on the streets of Tappahannock, the usually quiet midnight hour was broken by the hum of the operation of lawn mowers in the hands of many young enthusiasts, who took that innocent method of celebrating the victory for the Democratic ticket.

Plain Clothes Men Could Stop Red Light Crashers.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: If my memory is not at fault, it seems to me that there was talk about tightening the enforcement of traffic regulations when Maj. Brown was made superintendent of police. So far as I can see, this has not been done, unless possibly in the matter of parking. At the particular crossing with which I am daily familiar on Sixteenth street northwest, the breaking of safety rules by motorists who are not law-minded seems to average about as usual.

I have observed that if one of Maj. Brown's bluecoats happens to be nearby, motorists are not apt to be color blind to the red light. Perhaps a good-sized detail of plain clothes traffic cops might, within a few months, make the safe-motoring habit more general than it is.

Boston Tribute to Hoover for Making a Good Fight.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The many millions of loyal Americans who are today mourning the deposition of a great leader are rejoicing in the fact that he has fought a good fight and that he has kept the faith. They also know that he has not finished his course.

HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON SOCIETY CIRCLES

Treasury Secretary and Wife Hosts at Dinner

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY AND MRS. OGDEN L. MILLS had a small company dining with them last evening.

The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Charles Francis Adams will be at home to the naval officers stationed in Washington and their wives tomorrow afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Receiving with the hosts will be the Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Ernest Lee Jahncke and the Chief of Naval Operations and Mrs. William V. Pratt. At the tea table will be Mrs. Ben H. Fuller, Mrs. John Greenside, Mrs. Frank B. Upham, Mrs. Thomas T. Craven, Mrs. Orin G. Murfin and Mrs. John T. Myers. Mrs. Adams will be assisted by her sister, Mrs. Henry B. Coxe, of Philadelphia, who will be her guest for several days, as well as by Mrs. Walter Vernon, Mrs. Emory Land, Mrs. Harold R. Stark, Mrs. Alfred W. Johnson, Mrs. Hamilton Bryan, Mrs. Joel T. Boone, Mrs. Aaron S. Merrill, Mrs. William R. Munroe and Mrs. Nathan Wyeth.

The Ambassador of Great Britain and Lady Lindsay and the Minister of Canada and Mrs. Herridge are sponsoring the annual subscription dance to be given at the Biltmore Hotel in New York on Friday evening, December 2, in aid of the Victoria Home for Aged British Men and Women.

The dance is being given under the auspices of the Sir Walter Scott Chapter, Daughters of the British Empire in New York, of which Mrs. Lewis Sanders is regent.

Other patrons and patronesses include Sir Harry Gloster Armstrong and Lady Armstrong, Sir Douglass Alexander, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, Sir Ashley Sparks and Lady Sparks and Col. Walter Scott.

Mrs. William P. Culbertson, wife of the Ambassador to Chile, is entertaining at a luncheon today at Wardman Park Hotel, where she is spending the winter. There will be eleven guests.

Senator and Mrs. Harry B. Hawes have come from their home in Missouri and are in their house at 2548 Massachusetts avenue for the season.

Mrs. Grant McKinney, Of Pittsburgh, Visiting.

Mrs. Grant McKinney, of Pittsburgh, is spending a few days in Washington, stopping at Wardman Park Hotel while here. She was accompanied by Mrs. George W. Cahoon, of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Laura Heath Hills and Miss Bertha C. Perry, of Lebanon, Conn., were week-end guests at the Dodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Boyle, who are spending the winter at the Shoreham, entertained at the dinner dance Saturday night, their guests including Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swindler and Mr. Peter Q. Nyce.

Mrs. Clark, wife of Dr. William Earl Clark, of Spring Valley, had as a recent guest her cousin, Mrs. William Riddle, of Atlantic City, N. J.

Together Mrs. Clark and her guest motored through the Tidewater region of Virginia, starting at Fredericksburg and ending at Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bradbury Buxton have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Marcelyn Elizabeth Boyden Buxton, to Lieut. Colby G. Rucker, of the United States Navy, son of Mrs. Rucker, of Washington and New Orleans, and the late William Colby Rucker.

The ceremony will take place Wednesday evening, November 23, at Grace and St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church here. After the wedding there will be a reception for the bridal party and the members of both families at the Mount Vernon Club.

The Women's Guild of Calvary M. E. Church, Columbia road between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets northwest, will hold its annual bazaar and turkey dinners, tomorrow and Wednesday.

The president of the guild, Mrs. Edwin Dice, is in charge of the arrangements, and will have assisting her the officers of the guild and presidents of the several circles.

There will be many attractive features, including an entertainment each evening by Circle No. 5, under the direction of Mrs. Cecil Tatior. Other attractions will be a grab bag for the kiddies, a sale of homemade cakes and candy, and booths for aprons and fancy work.

Dinner will be served each evening from 5 to 7 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Swihart, and the members of the men's class will act as waiters.

Vacationing at Resort

daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Hight, of Washington, ready for her morning ride at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where she is spending a short time with her parents.

Mrs. Howerth to Speak At Wellesley College.

Mrs. Dwight G. Howerth left for Wellesley, Mass. She will be the guest of Wellesley College, her alma mater, for several days. Mrs. Howerth, known through her writing as Dorothy Pletcher Howerth, has been invited to the college by the department of English composition and the personnel bureau to speak tomorrow afternoon on the subject of "Literary Work and the College Woman." Tomorrow evening a dinner, attended by students interested in writing, will be given in her honor. Mrs. Howerth will spend a few days in Boston and New York before returning to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Duval, of New York, came to Washington to spend the week-end, and they were joined at Wardman Park Hotel by their daughter, Miss Marion Duval, who is attending the Mount Vernon Seminary here, and her classmate, Miss Barbara Beal, for the duration of their stay.

Miss Eleanor Calvert and Miss Margaret Peyton Calvert have changed the date of the tea they had planned for Sunday, November 20, in their home. The party will be given Friday from 4:30 to 6 o'clock at the Chevy Chase Club.

Much interest has been shown in the Branson DeCou lecture on Alaska, to be held on Thursday night in the small ballroom of the Willard. The pictures are unusual, the music is a feature and the object, the aid of the Episcopal Church Home, commend it to all philanthropic people. Were the home eligible for membership in the Community Chest this appeal would be unnecessary, but as its scope is diocesan, extending beyond the District, it has to go "on its own." In the relatively short time in which it has been in existence, has become well known, and many are glad to help this good work for venerable women along. Among those who have signified their intention of being present at the DeCou lecture are: Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Dr. R. A. Foster, Miss Albie McGammon, Dr. and Mrs. Wiltberger, Mrs. Benjamin Logie, Mrs. Hayne Ellis, Mrs. Nathan Scott, Mrs. George Hoover, Mrs. Allan Boyd, Mrs. G. K. Cecil, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley White, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Reeves, Mr. Charles H. Bates, Mr. Theodore Jewell, Mrs. Charles C. Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Claggett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hight, Mrs. Lewis Watson, Mrs. John Van Rensselaer Hoff, Miss Elizabeth Keyser, Dr. and Mrs. Camp Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Collamer, Dr. and Mrs. Barnes Hoe, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Marcey, Mr. and Mrs. E. Mayfield and Mrs. E. R. Todd.

Mrs. Sawyer and Sister To Sail for West Indies.

Mrs. Donald Sawyer and her sister, Mrs. Charles W. Waters, jr., of Long Island, will sail on the S. S. Merissa on Wednesday for a six weeks' West Indies cruise. They also expect to visit South American cities before returning home.

Mrs. Jack Hayes has as her guest Miss Elizabeth Spaulding, of Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Evans, who make their home at the Shoreham, entertained at the dinner dance Saturday night in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Frank Greer, and Mrs. Roy W. Hessner, of Philadelphia, who are their house guests, and Mrs. W. N. Fleet.

The District Sunshine and Community Society will hold their annual card party at the Shoreham on Friday, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Ernest F. Gude is president of the Society; Mrs. Parker Cook, vice president; Mrs. Jefferson W. Davis, second vice president; Mrs. Miles C. Trowbridge, recording secretary; Mrs. E. M. Gustafson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William N. Beahm, treasurer. The general chairman for the card party is Mrs. Jefferson W. Davis. Miss Ella Lamb is corresponding secretary and the publicity chairman is Mrs. W. W. Scott. The Reception committee is composed of the following women: Mrs. F. C. Brinley, Mrs. John W. Frizzell, Mrs. Harry C. James, Mrs. George A. Ross, Mrs. Wallace Sherwood, Mrs. A. Rogers Tracy and Mrs. Elsie Harvey Weaver; the candy committee, Mrs. R. Claude Wright, Mrs. H. M. Hunter, Mrs. Harry A. Austin, Miss Ella Lamb, Miss Lois R. Davis, Mrs. Harry E. Huntsberry, Mrs. S. T. McDevitt, Mrs. Ivan Riley, Miss Mariana Trowbridge and Miss Betty Lou Trowbridge; the cake committee, Mrs. William Wahly, Mrs. John B. Morrey, Mrs. Maurice Emerson and Mrs. Worthington R. Bean; the patronesses, Mrs. William W. Scott, Mrs. Jefferson W. Davis and Mrs. Ernest F. Gude; the tickets, Mrs. Jefferson W. Davis, Mrs. James W. Underwood, Mrs. Harry A. Austin, Mrs. Worthington R. Bean and Mrs. J. Edwin Reid.

The Sunshine Society does direct charity work, and these card parties are one source of their revenue with which to carry on their work for the coming year.

Miss Janet Richards, at her second lecture this morning on "Affairs Political and International," will review the reactions of both people and press to the results of the recent political landslide, with comment on Cabinet possibilities and congressional changes. Under "Foreign Affairs," Miss Richards will continue her review of conditions as she observed them at Geneva and other political centers last summer. The talk will be given in the red parlor of the Willard at 11 o'clock.

TURNER WILL START NEW FLIGHT TODAY

Seeks New York-West Coast Record; Doolittle Sets Speed Attempts.

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Col. Roscoe Turner arrived at Floyd Bennett Field today after a fast dash from Columbus, Ohio, and prepared to start on a transcontinental hop tomorrow.

Turner had planned to try for a round-trip record, West Coast to East Coast and back, but he was forced to stop at Columbus yesterday when one of his tires blew out as he landed to refuel.

Bringing his plane into Floyd Bennett Field at 3:25 p. m., Eastern standard time, Turner made the hop from Columbus in an hour and 53 minutes.

Chicago, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Following the failure of Col. Roscoe Turner to complete a projected round-trip coast-to-coast record flight Saturday, Maj. James Doolittle today announced plans for an assault upon existing air transport speed records over 9,000 miles of regularly flown routes.

Maj. Doolittle said he hopes to dash from Chicago to both coasts and the Gulf of Mexico and back within six days at an average flying speed of 230 miles an hour to show that air travel has not yet reached its maximum safe speed.

The record-breaking attempts, he said, will be made in a plane of his own design, now nearing completion at St. Louis. It will carry four passengers and a pilot.

The flier, who sped at 296 miles an hour to set a new land plane record, will take off from the municipal airport here November 23 for the Atlantic Coast and return, stopping at Detroit, Buffalo, Toronto, Boston, New York, Washington, Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

The second flight will be made to the Gulf Coast and back by way of Tulsa, Houston, New Orleans and St. Louis. The third and longest dash will be from Chicago to the Pacific Coast and back, with stops at Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Fe and Kansas City.

Hoax Seen as Two Women Disappear

Police Think Bloody Knife in Los Angeles Home Was "Planted."

Los Angeles, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—District attorney's investigators said that they were inclined to regard as a hoax the purported disappearance of two women here under circumstances indicating violence.

Officers, however, continued to hunt for Dorothea Jaynes, 30, and Mrs. Joseph Hesselbarth, who, District Attorney Buron Fitts said, recently informed him a gang of robbers had moved into the city.

The hysterical voice of a woman late Saturday told police over the telephone that four men had attacked a woman in the house where the missing women lived. Officers who went to the place found a knife covered with a substance resembling blood, and evidences of a struggle. A district attorney's staff member said he believed the knife was "planted" and that the women will be found uninjured. Fitts added that the information regarding holdup activities had proved valueless.

FIRST CHEST REPORT TO BE MADE TODAY

going into the service of member organizations.

Meetings Declared Necessary.

"Past experience proves that it is necessary to hold these meetings in order to get together this number of people who are as busy as our campaign workers and who could not well take the time to go to one place for meals and another for meetings, and, inasmuch as the gifts of these workers are more generous as a rule than those of contributors with similar incomes, the people contributing to the deficit for luncheons or dinners feel that the money is well spent and in a manner advantageous to the Community Chest."

Every bit of Chest machinery is in motion today. Every worker of every unit is engaged in the task of raising the funds held necessary for the support of the 63 organizations in the Chest. The people in general are being solicited in a house-to-house canvass by workers of the Metropolitan Unit, of which H. L. Rust, jr., is chairman. Persons who work for firms employing 20 or more persons will be solicited by the keymen of the group solicitation unit, of which Lloyd B. Wilson is chairman. All persons held capable of contributing $500 or more will be visited by members of the special gifts unit, of which Clarence A. Aspinwall is chairman. The schools, aside from the public schools, will be solicited by the keymen appointed by the schools unit, of which Dr. H. G. Moulton is chairman.

Pledge Card System.

The Government departments are being handled this year on the same pledge card system as is employed in handling other units. About 2,200 keymen and workers have been named by the Governmental Unit, of which Gov. Thomas E. Campbell, president of the Civil Service Commission, is chairman.

The merchants of the city have been asked by the Commissioners of the District to cooperate by flying the American flag from the legion flagpoles for the period of the campaign.

Thirty of the downtown stores have put in special window displays showing the work of Chest agencies and 450 special window displays throughout the city have been arranged through the efforts of W. W. Wheeler, of the publicity committee.

"We have every possible aid that can be given the workers in reaching the Chest goal this year," Newbold Noyes, campaign chairman, said yesterday. "We have a publicity background such as the Chest has never had before; we have had a speaking program that far exceeds that of any previous year; our organizations are for the most part composed of veterans, and we have had larger attendance at our instruction meetings than ever before. These things, coupled with the dire need that every Washingtonian knows exists in this city, should bring the efforts of the Chest workers to a successful conclusion."

Success in Chest Drive Is Predicted As Metropolitan Unit Is Completed

City-Wide Solicitation Group Workers Are Selected.

Completion of the Metropolitan Unit in preparation for the 1933 Community Chest campaign which opens tomorrow was announced yesterday by H. L. Rust, jr., chairman of the unit. This unit will cover the city-wide solicitation of all persons not covered in governmental group, special gifts or school solicitation.

"The job of this unit is to see that every person in Washington has an opportunity to answer the appeal of humanity by a gift to the Community Chest this year," Mr. Rust said yesterday. "We are going to conduct a house-to-house, office-to-office, apartment-to-apartment and store-to-store campaign, taking particular pains to see every person in every establishment visited. We are using the 'how many pennies a day' plan and we intend to solicit not only the heads of the household but any household employes or members of the family at any particular address, because we feel that anybody, man, woman or child, who has any kind of a job or home or income can afford to give at least one penny a day for the aid of the thousands who have absolutely nothing.

"We are greatly encouraged by the large number of people who have volunteered to give up their time to the campaign this year. We feel that we face a difficult task, but on the other hand, we have twice as many people to handle that task as we had last year; we have for the most part a veteran organization made up of workers who have been on the firing line in previous campaigns; we are better organized than ever before; and we have the best campaign organization background from the standpoint of advance publicity in the history of the Washington Community Chest.

Predicts Campaign Success

"I personally believe that the citizenship of Washington is thoroughly aroused to the desperate need that confronts the city this year, and I believe that our citizenship will respond to that need through the Community Chest."

AIR STRIKE THREAT MADE AGAINST CORD

LaGuardia Warns Mail Chief Pilots May Walk Out on Motor King.

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The threat of a strike attempt if E. L. Cord interests gain control of the Aviation Corporation was contained today in a letter made public by Representative F. H. LaGuardia and written to Postmaster General Brown.

LaGuardia made the letter public after a secret conference with a group of airplane pilots whom he is representing. In it he said the Cord interests were apparently attempting to take control of another company "in order to repeat their attempt of tearing down the standard in the flying and motor personnel of air transportation." The previous attempt, LaGuardia said, was in the management of Century Air Line, which Cord at one time owned.

"In the event that threatened lowering of the standard of the flying personnel and destroying of the efficiency of the motor mechanic is carried out," LaGuardia wrote, "it is my purpose to assist the personnel involved, and with the help of labor organizations, call upon the pilots and motor mechanics to relinquish their employment with any company controlled by the Cord interests operating passenger planes.

"My purpose in writing you is to give you timely notice, so that satisfactory arrangements can be made for the carrying of mail, in order not to disturb the regular mail service."

Waters Delighted At Ballot Result

B.E.F. Chief Says Congress Foes of Payment Were Beaten.

Miami, Fla., Nov. 13 (U.P.).—Election of Franklin D. Roosevelt to the presidency was not as significant to bonus marchers as defeat of senators and representatives who were opposed to immediate payment of the bonus, W. W. Waters, leader of the bonus army that marched on Washington this summer, said today.

"Veterans fighting for the bonus can feel cheered by the election," Waters said. "The eviction of the bonus army from Washington had much to do with Hoover's defeat."

Waters, who is here working on a book that will tell the inside of the bonus army campaign, said there was no need of a further march on Washington; that the veterans and their organizations had a chance to win through the newly-elected Congress.

Home Is Hit by Fire In Charlottesville

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 13.—An early morning fire of unascertained origin did approximately $5,000 damage to the residence and furnishings of Mrs. Matilda Kelly at the University of Virginia.

The flames were discovered by a student boarder and apparently originated in the attic. When the city firemen reached the scene the fire had gained considerable headway. Student boarders helped to carry most of the furniture and personal belongings to safety. Firemen fought the blaze for well over an hour.

REDS IN NEW YORK PLANNING MARCH

by December 4, compared to 1,500 last year. In addition to the "hunger marchers" there will be 500 disgruntled farmers who will meet here during the first week of December.

The groups plan to present petitions for legislation to give relief to farmers, doles for the unemployed, and the enactment of bonus legislation.

The police here have expressed themselves as frankly skeptical of reports that members of the Bonus Expeditionary Force driven from the National Capital by troops last July have returned in any numbers.

Denial of Reports.

One report had been that 2,500 bonus marchers have come back to await the opening of Congress next month and are quartered mostly in private homes, some subsisting on Government compensation while others have found work.

Police concede "there may be any number of men in the District of Columbia who would like their bonus," but said they are residents. There has been no indication, they asserted, that nonresident bonus seekers have entered the Capital to any considerable extent.

Harrisburg, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Gov. Pinchot today acknowledged without comment a request from Washington that he discourage Pennsylvania unemployed from marching to Washington at the opening of Congress next month.

Urges Cooperation.

"Information has reached District of Columbia Government that large bodies of unemployed persons propose marching upon the National Capital intent upon making various demands upon Congress at its opening on December 5," Reichelderfer said in his telegram to Pinchot. "They propose commencing marches within a few days."

Reichelderfer advised the governor local authorities in Washington would be unable to house or feed such delegations and warned that such trips "will inevitably bring great discomfort and much hardship" to the participants.

"We urge you to make the facts known in your locality and we seek your hearty cooperation in discouraging participation in such marches by your citizens," the telegram said.

Last winter Gov. Pinchot provided food for the 10,000 marchers of "Father Cox's army of unemployed" when they passed through Harrisburg en route to Washington.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The weekly review of the Bank of America, covering business conditions in the Far West, says that some ten million gallons of California wines, valued at $15,000,000, are in bonded warehouses of that State awaiting legislation which would permit them to enter national and world markets.

Trading in a new coffee contract, to be known as "Contract H," starts tomorrow on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange. It is exclusively for coffee produced in the Republic of Colombia. Trading will be in delivery months of December, 1932, and thereafter.

Savings bank transactions in New York State during October resulted in a gain of 14,144 accounts and a net decline in deposits of $12,309,111, says the State Savings Bank Association. These figures follow closely the trend shown in October during the past eight years, the month always witnessing an excess of withdrawals over new deposits.

STEEL HOLDS GAINS FROM AUTO ORDERS

Cleveland Mills Expand and Pittsburgh Reports Tin Plate Support.

Cleveland, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Steelmaking operations were maintained at 21 per cent last week almost solely through automotive requirements for new models now being put into production, the magazine Steel said today.

Cleveland Mills expanded 1½ points to 35 per cent; Pittsburgh, with some support from Tin Plate, rose 1 point to 20; Birmingham and Buffalo were a shade stronger at 25 and 22, respectively; Chicago and Eastern Pennsylvania were steady at 18 and 13½, and Youngstown eased 2½ points to 17.

"This maintained steel rate, however," the magazine continued in its weekly survey, "is contrary to the increasing listlessness of the market situation. Rolling of automotive material should hold up for several weeks, and tin plate mills continue to anticipate first quarter shipments, but the shrinkage from other consumers may prove decisive.

"An element of strength is derived from the fact that United States Steel Corporation unfilled orders increased October 31 for the third consecutive month, despite a higher rate of production. September output of steel ingots, at 17.3 per cent, was a gain of 3 points over August; October at 19 per cent was a rise of almost 2 points; the first half of November has averaged 21 per cent.

"Thus far the result of the national election has had no effect on the markets, except the negative one of prolonging the indifference of most buyers. The industry, however, is confident that if the improvement since August is basic, it will survive, and that recovery of business is as essential to the new administration as the old, and hence new policies will be tempered.

"Expanding automobile assemblies are largely seasonal, and with the exception of Plymouth and Chevrolet, the outpouring of new models is rigidly restricted to dealer and show requirements. The aggregate of these minimum schedules will lift November considerably over the all-time low of 50,000 units in October and probably also insures an active December."

To the Stockholders of the Aviation Corporation

DO not be stampeded into sending your proxies to E. L. Cord. Wait before you act, for a full impartial statement from the officers of your company.

Disregard the misstatements, half truths and innuendos in the advertisement recently inserted in the newspapers by E. L. Cord. You may not be aware that E. L. Cord is the same Mr. Cord the stock of whose company gyrated wildly in the last few years. Auburn stock dropped from a high of 514 in 1929 to a low of 28¾ in 1932.

We deplore and detest the necessity for this type of public controversy. Mr. Cord has counted on fighting a group of men and a company too dignified to fight back in kind. He is right.

However, it might be deemed cowardice on our part, unfaithfulness to the trust imposed in us by the stockholders, if we did not use every legitimate means to bring the true facts to your attention.

To quote former Governor "Al" Smith's phrase, "let us look at the record." Our conclusion about Mr. Cord is based on our knowledge of his past, and our personal experience and contact with him.

- What are his real motives?
- Why is he spending thousands of dollars in advertising in the daily newspapers for your support?
- Why is he so desirous of using legal technical devices in an effort to stop the acquisition by the Aviation Corporation of the most logical company for its growth and development?
- Why is he afraid to let the stockholders vote in open meeting on this proposition?
- Why does he invite you to send him your proxies by mail?
- Why is he afraid even to let the directors consider this proposition?
- Why did he demand that the officers purchase from his airplane factories certain planes and equipment unsuited to the specific needs of your company?
- Has he ever told you of his sad record in the air transport industry?

Let us look at Mr. Cord's record! The record will be mailed to you shortly.

1. Mr. Cord is a maker of airplanes and airplane equipment. He makes Lycoming airplane engines and Stinson planes. He seeks markets which he can control, for his products. Do you want him to be the sole judge as to whose product shall be bought?

2. Mr. Cord controls the Cord Corporation. It has never paid a dividend. Do you want your stock exposed to the possibility of manipulation?

3. Mr. Cord's figures, used in his advertisements, are interesting. In a letter to Hon. J. W. Byrns, chairman of the appropriations committee of the House of Representatives, dated January 28, 1932, his attorney, Mr. L. L. Young, states that the Cord interests had 10,000 employees. In his advertisement, Mr. Cord refers to tens of thousands of employees.

4. Mr. Cord poses as an able operator of air transport lines. Mr. Cord operated the Century Air Lines from March 23, 1931, for about a year, one of the most unprofitable and disastrous ventures in air transportation history. After losing large sums of money in operating these lines, the venture finally culminated in a pilots' strike in protest to unfair treatment and ruthless cutting of wages. Finally Mr. Cord sold out his Century properties for the value of the remaining assets, at tremendous loss. This first attempt to make money from air transportation by Mr. Cord ended disastrously. Do you want to give him a second chance at your expense?

5. Mr. Cord's record on employee relations speaks out of the official hearings before the commitee of the postoffice and postroads of the House of Representatives Friday, March 4, 1932. Mr. Edward F. McGardy, legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor, testified in this record—

"In the Auburn-Cord plant, located at Auburn, Ind., the men are working under a system of espionage; workers are encouraged to spy on their fellow-workers."

"The attitude of Mr. Cord toward his workers has no place in America. His method of dealing with human beings is dictatorial, unreasoning, and entirely antiquated."

"I hope that Congress will consider all these facts in connection with this man Cord and his company, who have brow-beaten, over-worked and underpaid their workers in all their factories, and that they may never receive any governmental assistance in the form of mail contracts until Cord and his associates humanize and Americanize the working conditions and pay under which their employees have to work.

"His policy in conducting his other business, and in attempting to break down the standard in aviation, might well be called industrial racketeerng. It is our hope that Congress is not going to be swayed by a man who, in all his industrial relations with his workers, has been arrogant, unreasoning and unnecessarily dictatorial."

6. Mr. Cord planted spies in your organization, and tried to undermine its morale. When Mr. Cord first acquired his interest in the company he endorsed the present management. When the officers, unwilling to comply with his demands, discharged his spies and stoolpigeons and refused to buy his equipment beyond the company's needs, he turned against the president after previously praising him greatly. Mr. Cord openly advocates the use of spies among his employees. He admits having hired more than twenty informers in the Aviation Corporation, a practice unjustifiable, and contrary to American institutions and the American system.

7. Mr. Cord, to gratify his own selfish purposes, is trying by a temporary injunction to stop us from submitting a plan for the acquisition of valuable assets and additional independent interests. With such additional independent stockholders he feels it would be much more difficult for him to control your company. While this temporary injunction was on he has sought proxies to control the board of directors. He says that his interests are identical to yours.

His interest is to use your company for his purposes—are they to sell you his equipment and to attempt to use your company for his purposes? Your company has purchased some of his equipment. But now that they are unwilling to go further, because it does not meet their needs, he is creating new issues of controversy for his own ends.

8. Mr. Cord has asked you to send your proxies to him by mail. Unlike Mr. Cord, we urge you to come in person to the meeting, but if you can not, send your proxy to us—your interests will be safeguarded. Your present board of directors includes outstanding men of established integrity from all parts of the country, representing all stockholders, large and small. If Mr. Cord dominates your board, he and his representatives will represent only himself.

Mr. Cord's Record Speaks for Itself!

The Aviation Corporation Record Speaks for Itself!

The Aviation Corporation is unquestionably the most important air transport system of America today. It controls a nation-wide system of airlines under efficient, economic management. It provides safe passenger, mail and express service to the people of the Unitd States.

Its planes have flown more than twenty-five million miles. Its daily schedules cover more than 32,000 miles. Its system was built up long before Mr. Cord came into the corporation.

Directors and officers of known integrity, drawn from the entire company, representative of 28,000 stockholders, head the company. Its splendid financial state reflects its able management—cash and equivalent are over nine and one-half million dollars.

With personnel of proven ability, unswerving loyalty—its record is at variance with Mr. Cord's record with his employees. In air transportation morale and loyalty are absolutely vital for safety in the public interest.

Keynotes of the company's policy are economy and efficiency. Recent decreases in cost per seat mile flown; increases of passenger and express revenue, since 1931 are indicative.

American Airways, controlled by the Aviation Corporation, is today the lowest cost large air transport system in the world.

WE SAY AGAIN! DO NOT BE STAMPEDED!

Send Your Proxies to Your Officers

Very Truly,

THE AVIATION CORPORATION

New York, November 14, 1932.

This advertisement is inserted in the interests of accuracy and fair play in order that the stockholders of the Aviation Corporation may be informed on the real issue involved in the present controversy with E. L. Cord and that they may base their decision in this battle on the record—and the record only.

Post Model Home Viewed by Many

Cafritz-Built Residence on Emerson Street Is Well Liked.

Homeseekers of the city and those who enjoy the sight of a truly beautiful house were pleased beyond expectation yesterday by the latest model home presented by The Washington Post. A fine, autumn day was gladdened considerably more for those who availed themselves of the opportunity for visiting this remarkable offering in tasteful, convenient and substantial residential construction.

Built by the Cafritz organization, The Post's model home is situated at 827 Emerson street northwest, and is one of a sightly group of Cafritz "lifetime homes" embodying all the excellent features that have given this organization an enduring reputation for good home building. The furniture and decorations by P. J. Nee Co., Inc., make the presentation doubly attractive.

The residence is a brilliant example of modern home planning. Every bit of it pleases and satisfies. In it, the Cafritz organization, which has built more than 3,000 homes in the City of Washington, presents features thus far unheard of in dwellings at such low prices. The model home will be open every day from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night.

The Rev. Robert Shores, president of the Anglo-Catholic Club, will preach the sermon. The Rev. Leon Shearer, of St. John's, will conduct the service. Dr. G. W. Atkinson, of St. James', will act as master of ceremonies. Music will be furnished by St. John's choir.

The following will act as special ushers: Busey Howard, Harry Anslinger, Maj. Lane Scofield, Robert Officer, W. J. Moore, Charles M. Potter and James MacLafferty.

Duce Orders Inventory Of All Italy's Supplies

Rome, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Premier Mussolini has ordered an inventory of Italy's supplies and prime necessities in all fields with a view to future trade agreements which he hopes to make. A committee of experts was chosen for this purpose and Prof. Giar Alberto Blanc, of the University of Rome, named as chairman.

The committee was instructed to make an exhaustive inquiry into the things which could be sold abroad and then to recommend importation only in cases where domestic articles can not be substituted for those lacking.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER.

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

IF REAPPOINTED when his term expires in February, Judge E. O. Sykes, Democratic member of the Federal Radio Commission, may be the next chairman of that body. Representative Ewin L. Davis, Democrat, of Tennessee, defeated in the primaries, is also strongly mentioned for the chairmanship. There is considerable speculation as to whether or not President Hoover will fill the present vacancy on the commission, which, under his administration, would go to a Republican.

The theory is that he desires, for the sake of economy, to reduce the commission members from five, as now provided for, to three. In that case, the President would not reappoint Judge Sykes, the Democrat, next February.

It is argued that the Senate Democrats would not allow a Republican member to be confirmed now, should the President decide to appoint one, as that would give the Commission three Republicans and two Democrats, assuming Judge Sykes is reappointed. If the present vacancy is not filled and Judge Sykes is not continued, the Radio Commission inherited by the Democrats would be composed of two Republicans—LaFount, of Utah, and Thad H. Brown, of Ohio—and one Democrat—Starbuck, of New York—which still would not give the Democrats control.

The only way the Democrats could work it out, if the commission is to have five members, as the present law provides, would be to block the confirmation if the President should appoint a Republican at the present time, and have President Roosevelt appoint a Democrat after March 4.

TOM SHIPP, just back from Chicago, tells about the difficulties under which National Chairman Everett Sanders spoke in the National Radio Forum. The studio officials in New York allowed Chairman Farley to use up about two-thirds of the time.

Mr. Sanders had hardly started talking in Chicago when a big sign was chucked in front of his face, "Talk Faster." A few minutes later another even bigger sign was poked at him, held by an individual dancing about like a wild man, which read, "Stop Talking—Your Time Is Up!"

Everett managed to finish his speech without choking, but later, according to Mr. Shipp, expressed himself fully and freely to the Chicago radio officials.

THE regular Monday concerts of the Marine Band, under the direction of Capt. Taylor Branson, will be broadcast by NBC beginning this afternoon (WRC, 3 o'clock). Also the Friday afternoon concerts of the Marine Band Symphony Orchestra will be broadcast (WRC, 3 o'clock).

The Wednesday night Marine Band Symphony Orchestra concerts are now being heard over the Dixie network of Columbia, but these are not broadcast in Washington.

Shakespeare's "As You Like It" will be presented by an all-star cast of dramatic artists during the Radio Guild broadcast (WRC, 4 p. m.) this afternoon.

The rumor is still going the rounds that Ed Wynn will branch out of the business of furnishing ideas for radio programs which he started some time ago to the operation of a small network of radio stations and that WMAL will be the outlet here.

IF Hans Kindler and Manager C. C. Cappel do not want to put an entire program of the National Symphony Orchestra on the air locally, why not do what Eugene Ormandy did with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra on Armistice night in cooperation with E. H. Gammons, of Station WCCO, Minneapolis?

WCCO broadcast just one selection from the orchestra's regular program. It was, however, Ernest Schelling's "Victory Ball," presented for the first time in the Northwest, and done so magnificently that surely listeners will flock to the box office to hear more.

Incidentally, the broadcast served to show how much the Minneapolis Orchestra has progressed in the short time that Ormandy has had it just as a local broadcast of the National Symphony Orchestra would reveal the great progress this organization is making under the competent leadership of Kindler.

Charles Evans Hughes, Chief Justice of the United States, will head a distinguished group of speakers on a special program over WRC at 10 p. m. tonight, inaugurating the annual Christmas drive of the American Red Cross.

President Hoover, originally scheduled to speak on this program, will send a message to be read before the microphone. The musical portion of the broadcast will be provided by the Marine Band.

WJZ-WBAL Program Notes: Otto Fassell, Viennese tenor, will make his American radio debut in a quarter-hour recital at 7:30 p. m. tonight. * * * A special program celebrating the 100th anniversary of the first street car will be presented, with Charles Colfax Long as narrator, at 8 p. m. * * * Lucien Kirsch, cellist, will be guest soloist with Josef Pasternack's Orchestra during the broadcast of Jack Frost Melody Moments at 9:30 p. m. * * * "The Merry War," a three-act comic opera by Johann Strauss, will be the National Light Opera presentation over the network at 11:15 p. m., with Cesare Sodero conducting.

WHEN told that a statue of Cupid with nose, both legs, an ear and a hand missing was recently excavated in Italy, Capt. Charles Winniger, of the Showboat, exclaimed:

"Wouldn't that make a fine ornament to set up in the public park at Reno?"

A Campaign to raise $2,419,787 to support 63 agencies of mercy

They shall not pass!

It is time for us to emulate the spirit of the poilu in the trenches before Verdun . . . time for us to say to the oncoming hordes of Hunger, Cold, Starvation, Desolation, Disease and Misery, "you shall not pass the threshold of a single Washington home." We, who have jobs and incomes, however modest, are the forces of the defense. Ours is the battle. Those who look to us for protection are not figments of the imagination nor persons remote from our own sphere of activity. They are our neighbors, our fellow citizens and in many cases our friends, forced, through no fault of their own, to face the menacing hordes of Winter, defenseless save for the help that we alone can give. If we fail them . . . but we cannot, we dare not fail.

CATHOLIC HIERARCHY TO CONVENE AT C. U.

Message From Pope Will Be Read; School Observes 43d Anniversary.

Today marks the forty-third anniversary of the first class that was held at Catholic University, and the beginning of one of the most active weeks of the academic year. The forty-third anniversary of the dedication of the university fell yesterday.

Starting tomorrow, the board of trustees will hold their annual fall meeting at the university and will receive the report of the rector on the state of the institution and observe the progress of the development program inaugurated less than two years ago.

Wednesday and Thursday the American heirarchy of the Roman Catholic Church will assemble on the university campus for their annual conference.

A special message from Pope Pius XI to Catholics in America will be read by the Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore and chancellor of the university, over a coast-to-coast hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting Co., Sunday, from 6:15 to 7 p. m.

The radio program will include addresses from members of the American hierarchy and songs by a choir of 50 voices, comprised of lay students of the university and members of the religious houses on the campus.

This program will mark the first time in the history of the church in the United States, if not in any country in the world, that the church's intellectual mission will be outlined to millions of Catholics and thousands of alumni assembled in all the large cities who will listen to the program.

Ohio Woman Tells Of Plight in War

Troops Destroyed Cattle and Home, She Says in Plea to U. S. Mayor.

Dennison, Ohio, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—A story of war pillage and the desperate plight of a 70-year-old Ohio woman down in the ranchlands of Sao Paulo, Brazil, has reached Dennison in the form of a letter to Mayor Robert W. Maxwell.

Mrs. Rose Senft Howard, a former resident of Tuscarawas, appealed to Mayor Maxwell for aid, saying troops during the recent Sao Paulo rebellion had looted her ranch. Brazilian authorities, she said, refused to recognize her status as an American citizen.

The soldiers drove the cattle off her ranch and destroyed her home, the letter related. Among papers destroyed were the passport granted her late husband and their marriage certificate.

Mrs. Howard said she was told at the American consulate she would have to make her appeal through Washington, as the passport had not been registered at the City of Sao Paulo. The matter was referred to Representative C. B. McClintock.

THE THEATER YESTERDAY

"AROUND THE WORLD IN TWO HOURS." First of a series of five Sunday afternoon travelogues by Burton Holmes, inaugurating his thirty-fifth Washington season and fortieth before the public. Motion pictures by Andre Lavarre; Van Altena slides, colored by Mildred Petry. Projection by E. Jesse Greene.

By NELSON B. BELL.

What we are pleased to term "Western civilization" is rapidly encircling the globe. To prove it, Burton Holmes, celebrating forty years of systematic wandering over the face of the earth, yesterday afternoon took an appreciative audience in the National Theater on a hurried tour of the world that revealed a Tokyo as modernly metropolitan as New York, a Manila no less up-to-date than Tokyo and a Somaliland scarcely less picturesquely "citified" than a thoroughly reclaimed and Europeanized Egypt.

Drawing a vivid and an astonishing contrast between the world-circling ports of call of the inquisitive tourist of 40 years ago and the same centers of exotic interest as they appear today, Mr. Holmes demonstrated with what amazing completeness formerly impenetrable jungles have been transfigured into metropolitan areas of brick, steel and electricity, savage villages transmogrified into livable cities and almost impassable trails converted into motor highways alive with speeding traffic. Luxurious ocean liners, it seems, now speedily travel the routes where formerly only the most primitive craft, if any at all, dragged out long and tedious days; capacious motor buses whizz past the arid camel caravan and taxis have crowded the man-powered jinrikisha into an inevitable and lamented oblivion.

In the universal spread of urban conveniences and luxuries, it is getting to be a small world in which we live, after all. China is in the next block, Abyssinia just around the corner!

Appropriately enough, Mr. Holmes yesterday began his round-the-world jaunt on the Tidal Basin right here in Washington in Japanese cherry blossom time, proceeded thence to New York, Chicago, Death Valley, Topside, his hilltop home in Hollywood; Vancouver, B. C., and from there, aboard the palatial Empress of Japan to Hawaii, Yokahama, Tokyo, Nikko and Hong Kong.

The most comprehensive survey accorded any country, and the minutest descriptions, dealt with the almost unbelievably progressive island empire of Japan, with only vague and cursory references to the destructive warfare that laid waste so much unoffending territory in and about Shanghai during the recent informal Sino-Japanese imbroglio.

The portion of the talk following the brief intermission concerned itself with the homeward journey from Manila to Manhattan, by way of the Igorot country of the Philippines, the Celebes Sea, Macassar, the Malay States, Nias, Orahili, Colombo, in Ceylon; Djibouti, the Red Sea, the Suez Canal, Cairo, the Pyramids and the Sphinx, Naples, Vesuvius, Marseille and Gibraltar.

The kaleidoscopic succession of beautifully and realistically tinted slides and the swift-moving procession of illuminating motion pictures consumed something in the neighborhood of two and a half hours. Interesting as they were, a hazy impression remained that the world is still a bit too ample to be traversed satisfactorily in the brief span of a single afternoon.

CROWDING MR. GHENGIS KHAN

Boris Karlon, legitimate successor of the late Lon Chaney as master of bizarre make-up, as he appears in the role of Dr. Fu Manchu, in the film version of Sax Rohmer's "The Mask of Fu Manchu," currently causing audiences to break out in gooseflesh at Loew's Palace Theater.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

PROBABLY no one who has ever essayed a stellar screen career has had a more contradictory experience than Ina Claire, the former Miss Fagan, of Washington.

Having progressed from some renown as a vaudeville specialist in impersonations, principal roles in musical comedy—as witness "The Quaker Girl," with the late Clifford Crawford — and finally a featured position in one of the most effulgent of the Ziegfeld "Follies," authored by Channing Pollock and the late Rennold Wolf, to the eminence of a Broadway toast as one of the theater's most brittle and most brilliant comediennes, Miss Claire looked upon Hollywood as an easy conquest.

INA CLAIRE.

Her first adventure of importance on the West Coast was in "The Awful Truth," a camera translation of one of her more conspicuous stage successes. For some reason, the picture failed to create the furore that had been anticipated, and producers manifested scant interest in an artiste who recorded her box-office "triumphs" in red ink.

Disappointed, but not too discouraged, the superlatively sartorial Miss Claire determined to demonstrate to Los Angeles why she had been a figure of such eminence on the opposite side of the continent. So she staged, and starred in, "Rebound," another of her Eastern hits, for the benefit of Hollywood, and, sure enough, was hailed as one of the theater's great. The managers, without dissenting voice, concluded that they had been wrong in their original estimates of the Claire potency as a public lure. A particularly scintillant performnace in the leading, but not stellar, role in the celluloid version of "The Royal Family," confirmed them in their belief. So what?

So Ina Claire—the first name, I am given to understand, is nowadays for some reason pronounced Ena—has not since done anything to justify such enthusiasm on the part of the cinemagnates as greeted her portrayal of the character of Julie Cavendish in the Edna Ferber-George S. Kaufman satire, whose current successor as a substantial Broadway hit is "Dinner at Eight."

It is a unique case, is Miss Claire's. A sure-fire and infallible success in virtually whatever stage role she may choose to undertake, she is a conspicuously doubtful quantity once her manifold endowments of beauty, intelligence and histrionic ability are subjected to the penetrating rays of the Klieg lights and the minute recordings of the cameras and microphones.

Why is it? Your guess as a fellow Washingtonian will probably be as good as any other. It is just one of those things.

A. W. S. writes to inquire if "Americana," now playing at the Shubert Theater in New York, visited the Capital under the auspices of the Messrs. Rapley and Cochran, of the National Theater, duing 1927, 1928 or 1929.

"Americana," I find upon the investigation necessary to substantiate a memory that will do with a little corroboration now and again, never played Washington under any auspices whatsoever.

Perhaps A. W. S. has in mind J. P. McEvoy's somewhat remote Ziegfeld debacle, "The Comic Supplement," which ran out part of its ill-starred existence at the National with Brooke Johns in the stellar part. A portion of this production was salvaged by the disgruntled Mr. Ziegfeld and utilized in the form of individual sketches in one of his subsequent "Follies," but any information about an "Americana" in the National Capital, no can do!

Speaking of the contradictory aspects of the work of certain artists—as we were back a few blocks when the topic was Miss Ena Claire—another surprising instance of the case in point is afforded by the urbane and versatile Mr. Cookie Bowers, whose name inexplicably was dropped out of the Saturday review of the goings-on at the Earle.

Mr. Bowers is credited with a majority of the vocal commotions that have lent auricular appeal to one of the most popular series of cartoon comedies. By an astonishing equipment of almost ventriloquial range of tone and perfection of voice control, Mr. Bowers is able to project an extraordinarily diversified gallery of character impressions that are easily audible in every part of the theater. Yet when he speaks in his natural voice it is with difficulty that he is heard as far away as the first row of the mezzanine loge.

To ears alert enough to catch his announcements of what it is he is about to do, Cookie takes the cake as an imitator par excellence of everything on the face of the earth, in the skies above or the seas beneath capable of uttering an audible sound. I imagine his vocal cords must look something lik the strings of a harp!

It has already been announced that when Daniel Frohman appears in Constitution Hall on Wednesday to deliver his intimate talk on the theater and its people, as he has known them during the past half-century, he will be introduced by no less distinguished an actor than Otis Skinner, dean of the American stage's contemporary artists. Interest in the occasion, however, will not end there.

Also on the stage with Mr. Frohman Wednesday will be Mrs. R. Golden Donaldson, of Washington, the former Frances Starr, one of the most gifted actresses of our generation.

Although Miss Starr was never enrolled under the Frohman banner—having spent the complete span of her professional career from "Rose of the Rancho" to her final appearance behind the footlights, under the personal guidance of the late David Belasco—Mr. Frohman's paternal interest in everything theatrical is so all-embracing as to transcend such trivial considerations as cliques, managements and personal alliances.

It might almost be said that in spirit he IS the American theater.

It may be a minor matter, but just the same, it may serve also as a major indication of why "Hot Saturday," the current exhibit in which Cary Grant hopelessly outdistances Nancy Carroll as a cause of critical rejoicing, falls something short of the season's outstanding example of directorial achievement that Miss Carroll, as the stenographer in the village bank, in typing her letters never uses a second sheet.

Of course, the perforated effect of this sloppy method would have got her fired from her job soon enough, even if she hadn't stayed too late up at Mr. Grant's incriminating summer shack or ridden home in his accusatory automobile. As an index of a director's devotion to authentic detail, second sheets in a typewriter can hardly be overestimated. It is painful to record that figurative second sheets were omitted throughout the picture!

The election seems not to have changed this department's luck in the slightest. It would be while we were down in the composing room trying to mend a split infinitive or something that Lucille Page, the dinosaur dancer of the "Vanities," and Maxine Doyle, the marathon mistress of ceremonies at the Earle, would drop in to say hello! There was no consolation even in dropping the final syllable when I learned I had missed them by no more than a mascaraed eyelash!

It was disclosed in Burton Holmes' first travel talk of the season, in the National Theater yesterday afternoon that his classic Van Dyke beard is this year celebrating its fortieth birthday. It was sprouted in Japan when Mr. Holmes was 22 as the only means of evading another native shave, which, we are told, was the somewhat exaggerated equivalent of a major operation without benefit of anesthetic. The impeccable hirsute adornment has been scissored and otherwise disciplined every day—well, every other day, then—ever since. No wonder Mr. Holmes' are the best behaved whiskers in America!

But I do wish Mr. Holmes would refrain from being photographed so often wearing a kimono, which, as soon as he gets a sniff of the Pacific, seems to be his favorite uniform.

It always makes you think he is going to flitter right out of the picture and invite you to "kimonover and play!"

Drifting Barge Menaces Shipping Off Carolina

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The barge Susann was reported to Coast Guard headquarters by a passing ship today as being adrift and a menace to navigation off Hucking Island, near the South Carolina Coast. The cutter Yamacraw was dispatched from Savannah to locate the barge and tow it to port if practical to do so. There was no sign of life on the craft when she was sighted.

The barge, described as being about 240 feet long, was bound from Savannah to Charleston with a cargo of lumber. It is believed to have broken away from a tug.

Pittsburgh Bank Closes Its Doors

Withdrawals and Drop in Deposits Blamed by Diamond National.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—E. E. Rieck, chairman of the Diamond National Bank's Board, announced late today the institution would not reopen tomorrow. Rieck, in a formal statement, said deposits had shrunk approximately $17,000,000 in the past eighteen months and that "unusual withdrawals" had occurred. Present deposits, he said, are $9,919,000, while the September 30 statement showed $12,045,917.64 on deposit.

The bank's board yesterday approved a resolution to place the institution in the hands of the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States.

The institution, located at Fifth and Liberty avenues, in downtown Pittsburgh, was organized 60 years ago. Its president, J. D. Callery, died in May. No successor was named. The September statement showed $16,049,423.62 in resources. Capital stock was $600,000 and surplus $1,500,000.

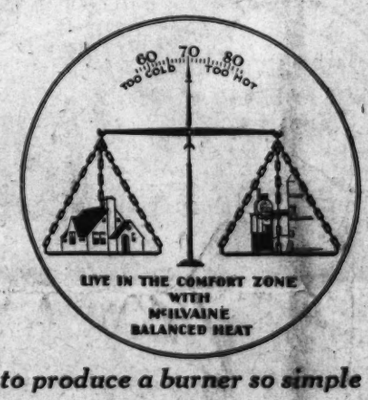
An Installation of the New McILVAINE

Why BALANCED HEAT?

WE are being constantly asked why our burner gives "BALANCED HEAT," where other types of burners and gas heaters give JUMPY HEAT. The answer is simple. The McIlvaine uses an entirely different principle of operation. Where other types use the intermittent or ON and OFF flame—the McIlvaine uses continuous operation, so graduated and controlled that your boiler produces just the proper amount of heat to balance the losses, which are taking place in your radiators twenty-four hours of the day. Your heating losses are constant and vary in exact proportion to the outside temperature, amount of wind, etc. McIlvaine makes use of the only correct principle of heating—Constant or Balanced Heat, putting same amount of heat in as you take out, Maintaining a constant balance between heater temperature and outside temperature to produce even comfortable heat in your home.

Other manufacturers are adding complicated, troublesome controls in an endeavor to do what McILVAINE has been doing for nine years; namely, eliminating COLD FLOORS—eliminating COLD TOES, and they are no nearer a solution of their problems now than when they first started. Intermittent operation is wrong in principle and their efforts cannot overcome an inherent weakness.



This burner is built to give Life Time Service. It is not an untried experiment. McIlvaine Burners are giving the same even, constant uninterrupted service today as they did when first installed nine years ago.

No other manufacturer has been able to produce a burner so simple

LOW FLAME Acts as a Pilot Light
SMALL FLAME For Cool Weather
MEDIUM FLAME For Cold Days
LARGE FLAME For Severe Cold

No Gas Pilot---No electric ignition, no pump, no valves to clog or leak, no odor, no fire hazard, no explosion possible, no costly repairs, no costly service.

ONE SERVICE CALL per year to clean strainers is all that is normally required. This can be done by owner if he so desires.

McIlvaine Burners are giving the ultimate in satisfaction to HOME OWNERS, using Hot Air, Steam, Vapor or Hot Water.

Owing to McIlvaine's patented exclusive features of automatic air and oil controls, combustion is maintained at maximum efficiency at all times. Savings in fuel bills ranging from 10% to 68% are recorded by users of McIlvaine after discarding inefficient burners. This not only means dollars saved, but it represents other savings; namely, savings to your decorations, curtains, hangings and everyday cleaning.

A lady, who last May installed another type of oil burner, recently was heard to remark that her cellar, her first floor, her second floor and herself smelled of oil. Every user of McIlvaine will tell you that they have no odors.

Dear Sir:
I was sure surprised and very much pleased to receive your letter of the 21st instant with reference to the McIlvaine Oil Burner. In reply will say that it is a pleasure to recommend a machine that has given us as much satisfaction as our McIlvaine Burner. I have had no trouble whatever with the burner and never have had to make a service call for same. It keeps my house at a very uniform temperature without the fluctuations which the ordinary "on and off" type of burner cannot get away from. Swan also has installed a McIlvaine Burner and he is as pleased as I am with mine.
I understnd that the McIlvaine Burner works exceptionally good on the Bryant gas boiler and in fact I came very near installing a Bryant boiler at the time I put in my McIlvaine Burner and would have done so had not their cost been so high. If there is any other information you would like to have regarding the McIlvaine, just drop me a line and I will try to give it to you.
Sincerely yours,
R. G.

EASTERN GRID RACE SIMMERS DOWN TO FOUR TEAMS

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

MAJ. GEN. PAUL MALONE held several hundred golf fans spellbound in his oratory as he made the presentation of checks to the winners of the National Capital Open late yesterday afternoon at the Kenwood clubhouse.

The general smilingly told of his own golf career launched in middle age when he ordered his aid, one of the Army's best golfers, to transform him into an 80 golfer or risk an adverse efficiency report of his service in the Philippines, where Malone was the commanding general.

Before his command in the Philippines expired, Gen. Malone was breaking 80, and on one occasion he shot a 76, he said. Then he introduced Al Watrous, Michigan professional, who figured in the money award. The general demanded a speech of Watrous.

"I'm not going to make any speech," said Watrous, "but I'd like to take some lessons from the man who made a 76 golfer out of Gen. Malone."

Columbia beat Navy, 7 to 6, and then saw its unbeaten record toppled by Brown by the same score last Saturday. Lou Little can't argue for or against the point after touchdown, which many coaches want legislated out of the game.

Two records would stand for another week if Colgate and Gallaudet were meeting next Saturday. Colgate's goal line hasn't been crossed all season, and Gallaudet hasn't crossed anybody's goal line this year.

The change from the Notre Dame system at Georgetown was horribly evident Saturday, when the Hilltoppers met West Virginia Wesleyan at Griffith Stadium. The task of Coach Jack Hagerty in de-Notre Daming the Hilltop squad is a large order. The back field, particularly went through the new motions as if football was just being introduced at the Hilltop.

Pitt's scoreless tie with Nebraska was a severe blow to the Panthers' national championship aspirations. The critics who award such things as national titles are prone to overlook one tie game, but Pitt's deadlock with Nebraska, its second tie of the year, will certainly be held against the Panthers.

Columbia and Holy Cross learned again yesterday that they don't pay off on first downs. Lou Little's Lions made fourteen first downs to eight for Brown, and Holy Cross made nine first downs to six for Harvard, but Brown and Harvard won the ball games.

Alabama Poly, winging its way toward the Southern Conference title, was the recipient of a double-barreled break on Saturday when Vanderbilt and Tennessee played to a tie, thus eliminating both of them from the lead now occupied solely by Poly.

A tie with Yale is nothing to boast about this year, but it made a success of Princeton's season last Saturday.

The prize boner of last Saturday's games was pulled by the Penn team on an Ohio State kick-off. While two Penn players calmly stood by after the kick-off had rolled untouched into the end zone, Varner, of the Buckeyes, streaked down the field and fell on the ball for an Ohio State touchdown. Coach Harmon, of Penn, has ordered a rule book session for the team today.

Tennessee has lost only two games in six years, but during four of these seasons tie games have cost the Volunteers the Southern Conference title. Saturday's tie with Vanderbilt was not a great shock.

Indian Eleven Lists G. U.; Drops Colonials

Williamsburg, Va., Nov. 13 (A.P.)—A 10-game football schedule for William and Mary College next season with the possibility that an eleventh contest will be carded was announced today by W. S. Gooch, jr., athletic director.

Georgetown replaces Army on the Indians' grid card in the only major change from this season's schedule. George Washington, which beat the Indians in Washington last Friday night, has not been rescheduled.

The schedule:

September 16, Roanoke, at home; 23, Randolph-Macon, at home; 30, Navy, at Annapolis.

October 7, Washington and Lee, undecided; 14, V. P. I., at Richmond; 21, Guilford, at home; 28, Georgetown, at Washington.

November 4, V. M. I., at Norfolk; 11, Emory and Henry, at home; 18, open date; 30, Richmond, at Richmond.

Gallett, of Wauwatosa, Wis., and John Kinder, of Greenbrook, N. J., shot a 73 to assume the lead after 36 holes with a 145 total. Gallett, in the meantime, lost his putting touch and registered a 75 to drop back to second place.

In the afternoon Horton Smith set a terrific pace, a pace so fast in fact that only two other golfers in the pack, Tony Manero and Al Houghton, came within two shots of his par-cracking 69—one under orthodox figures, and, incidentally, the lowest score for any round during the two-day struggle. After tackling the first nine in an even 34, the Joplin Ghost played even more sensationally for a 35 on the homeward cruise.

Smith finished with 74—73—69, six over par for the 54 holes, and two strokes higher than Willie Macfarlane's triumphant card in the 1931 classic.

Shute Takes Second Money.

With 72—73—73—218, Shute captured $500 for second place. Ten other cash prizes were awarded in the $2,500 battle, which saw such satellites of golfdom as Walter Hagen, winner of every important professional tournament in America and Great Britain; Billy Burke, of Greenwich, Conn., 1931 national open title holder; Paul Runyon, of White Plains, N. Y., sensation in the practice rounds, and Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., siege gun, flounder along the fairways and hazards to blast their chance for finishing in the money.

From a famous golfing town Elmsford, N. Y., where the four Turnesa boys labor as full-fledged pros, came the smiling Italian, Tony Manero, to win the $300 third prize with his 76—75—71—222, four shots to the rear of Shute. Francis Gallett, veteran Scot, tied with Johnny Golden, of Noroton, Conn., North and South champion, and Tommy Armour, former British and American open ruler, with scores of 223. Each won $183.

Five other golfers were deadlocked with totals of 226, and were awarded $70 each. Included in the group was the lone Briton in the field of 69, who survived the first day's fight, Philip Perkins, of Birmingham, England, now registered out of the Lido Club, New York City. Perkins complained of overshooting five greens. The other four winners were Johnny Farrell, of Quaker Ridge, N. Y., former national open king, who scared to a 78 in his second round; Al Watrous, of Birmingham, Det.; John Kinder and Eddie Williams, of Cleveland.

The two amateur winners, each of whom was awarded a silver fruit bowl, were John Downey, with 242, and John Shorey, 246, both Washingtonians.

Smith opened his attack yesterday with a five, one over, after missing an 8-footer. He was over with his second shot on the fourth, and took another five. The seventh saw him three-putt the green. Tapped on the thirteenth, the Missourian had to slice his third around trees to get within several feet of the hole for his par five. Smith took a four on the short seventeenth, after hooking his tee shot into the trees.

The Joplin Ghost made a brilliant start in the afternoon. His brassie second hit the top of the hill and rolled within 8 feet of the cup, where he canned his putt for a birdie three, one of the few birdies shot on the first hole. After overplaying the fourth green for a five and following with another five on the fifth, Smith regained his stride, to par the sixth, rammed a 15-footer for a birdie three on the seventh, and finished the nine in three and four, for a 34.

Smith Almost Holes Out.

Smith almost holed out from off green on the 275-yard par 3 tenth. On the twelfth he made one of the most spectacular shots of the round, playing safe with his second and spanking a beautiful niblick hole high about 2 inches from the pin for a birdie four. On the fifteenth he missed a birdie by inches, while on the "punch bowl" sixteenth, the Missourian rammed in a 35-footer from the back edge of the green for a birdie 3.

Just as in the morning round, Smith hooked his tee shot into the woods, played his second safely on the green. His try for a putt for par from 35 feet barely missed the cup, and he took a four. With a large gallery assembled at the thirty-sixth hole, which is par four, he could have taken a 5 and still won the tournament by a stroke. Smith split the fairway with his drive, smacked his four iron on the green, and was down nicely in two putts for his par.

8,000 Watch Six Soccer Contests

2 Columbia Heights Teams Win; Park View Extended.

By RICHARD S. TENNYSON.

SOCCER in Washington and its environs reached a high point yesterday when twelve teams battled through six games before an estimated total of 8,000 fans. In the main, the games were hotly contested and the fans were treated to both good soccer and seasonable weather.

The outstanding match was at Rockville, where Gaithersburg tied the home squad, 1 to 1, after a cleanly fought, brilliant tilt. In the other Capital City League games, Columbia Heights Blacks whitewashed Concord, 4 to 0, and the Columbia Heights Grays stopped Brandywine, 6 to 1.

Park View had a tussle on its hands to stop Raymond, 1 to 0, in the feature Recreation League contest, while in other matches in this circuit Rosedale nosed out a fighting New York Avenue eleven, 2 to 0, and Virginia Avenue walked over Chevy Chase, 10 to 1.

Smith Stars for Gaithersburg.

About 1,000 spectators witnessed the Gaithersburg-Rockville contest. Despite the keen rivalry and the closely contested game there were few fouls. Smith, Gaithersburg outside left, scored the first goal of the game and distinguished himself throughout the day. Briggs and Bob Ward also were outstanding for Gaithersburg. The Gandy brothers in the forward line for Rockville and Edmonston at goal were best for Rockville.

Concord deserved a better fate than its 4-to-0 defeat by Columbia Heights Blacks. The first two markers by the victors were at best flukes and the only real goal scored was the final. Moeller played a great game at center half for Concord, while Hussey, at goal for the Blacks, was easily the star of the game.

As was expected the Columbia Heights Grays had little difficulty in stopping Brandywine. The Southern Maryland kickers put up a game but futile battle against the array of talent presented by the winners. Burton and Gunn played well for the victors while A. Duvall was best for Brandywine.

Park View Wins on Nau's Goal.

Park View and Raymond struggled through 50 minutes of hectic soccer before "Smitty" Nau succeeded in driving a sensational shot from 30 yards out into the corner of the Raymond net. Wellens, Nau and Hay played well for the victors while Bailey, Shanks and Paigett strove valiantly to hold up the Raymond end of the contest.

Virginia Avenue went on a scoring spree against Chevy Chase which has yet to put its full strength on the field. The Ricker twins strained every nerve to stop the Virginia Avenue of-

Hornsby and Sisler To Teach Baseball

Muscatine, Iowa, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—A school for young ball players will be conducted this winter at Hot Springs, Ark., Ray Doan, manager of the House of David nine, announced here today.

Doan said he had obtained Rogers Hornsbuy, Grover Alexander and George Sisler to tutor youthful diamond aspirants who are expected to enroll in the school.

Another Chance for Football Experting

THIS week The Washington Post is giving District fans their fifth opportunity of the season not only to qualify as experts but also to win themselves some choice seats to the Thanksgiving Day George Washington-Oklahoma game. Four box seats go to the winner, two to the runner-up, while a single ticket will be awarded as a third prize.

Each week, more and more answers are received, and each week the same contest rules are violated by many, especially with respect to failing to get the blanks in before Friday midnight.

There are no tricks connected with this contest. Twelve Saturday games are listed below. Simply check off which you think will be the winners and your opinion as to the score. The entrant picking the greatest number of winners will draw the prize. The actual scores are not considered except in case of two or more ties, in which event the one coming nearest to the actual results will be rated No. 1.

Racing Scene Shifts Today To Bowie

14-Day Meet Opens With Two Charity Day Programs.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

RACING comes home to Bowie today for the final lap of the Maryland season, and continues for fourteen days, with the programs today and tomorow designated as Welfare Days, with the proceeds going to the unemployed fund. Post time for the first race has been scheduled for 1 o'clock, with the Thanksgiving Day card and those after that day to start at 12:45 o'clock.

Although the regular meeting was booked to open today, Bowie, through the management of Joseph B. Boyle and Thomas K. Lynch, generously offered two days to charity. These will be added, to bring the closing date to November 29.

Bowie Likely to Top In Donations.

The Prince Georges County plant, which is the youngest in Maryland, will raise more money for the unemployment fund than any of the other racing associations. That is made possible because it will have held five days, as against three for Pimlico, the same number for Havre de Grace and two for Laurel Park.

Bowie's contribution to the $225,000 fund for two years so far has been $65,422. The State tax of $6,000 per

Colliere Passes to Barry for Winning Touchdown.

Indians' End Drives of Challengers Who Score on Safety.

By LEWIS F. ATCHISON.

A SLIM, lithe youth, whose slightly bowed legs propelled him over the chalk-marked turf, of Griffith Stadium with the swiftness of an arrow in flight, and a short, stocky veteran, master of football strategy, joined their singular efforts in one mighty thrust that produced a touchdown and gave the Mohawks a 6-to-2 victory over the Senators in a bitterly contested game yesterday at Griffith Stadium.

Pepco Barry was the lad who scored the winning touchdown in the third period, but it was Fee Colleire, who hurled the frozen lump of leather into his arms as Barry streaked across the goal line. Barry was injured on the play when tackled by Pat Byrne, sustaining torn shoulder ligaments, and was removed from the fray.

Though they did not score, the Senators, who at first glance appeared to lawmakers of the lame duck variety, made three bids for touchdowns. Two attacks reached the 1-foot line before Mohawk forwards, fighting with maniacal power, could repulse the threat, and another bogged down on the 18-yard stripe.

Colliere Steps Out Of Bounds.

It was one of the former advances that resulted in two points for the Senators. Wily Fee Colliere elected to step out of bounds, after the Hawks had held for downs, rather than risk punting from behind his own goal line. This occurred in the final minute of play.

Colliere's wizardry, more than the collective effectiveness of the Indians, was responsible for the triumph of the Hawks. The chubby quarter back was master of the show, pulling the strings that controlled the efforts of the living puppets.

Eddie Eddinger's recovery of a Senator fumble on the 24-yard line opened the door to a Mohawk victory. Colliere sent one play through the steel-ribbed Lawmakers' line, and then tossed a short pass to Barry, who was brought to earth on the 18-yard line. Again Colliere started moving back, and as a host of white-jerseyed players swarmed in on him, he released a beautiful pass straight ahead, over the goal. Barry, who cut from the left across to the right side of the field, swerved back to the left and the ball nestled in his arms as the huge bulk of Pat Byrne was brought down upon him.

Stevens and Snyder Shine.

Their ire at white heat by this sudden turn of events, the Senators rallied. Mike Stevens, the remembrance of whom is painful to Yale's 1926 football team, southpawed a short pass to Settino. Snitz Snyder, who a few Sundays back was playing with the Mohawks, ripped through tackle to the 45-yard line. On a reverse play Stevens charged through to the 30-yard line.

Snyder smashed off-tackle again and again with almost inhuman power, dragging Mohawk players along with him on each rush until he gained the 12-yard mark. A line thrust with Stevens carrying the ball, and a 5-yard penalty inflicted on the Hawks set the ball 5 yards from the goal line.

Three times Snyder charged into a disorganized mass of players, each time coming closer to the goal line.

UNBEATEN RECORDS OF BROWN-COLGATE CLASH NEXT WEEK

Minnesota Standing in Big Ten Path of Michigan Team.

By HERBERT W. BARKER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—College football enters the home stretch this week with title races in four conferences virtually over, but with as many others still in doubt.

Utah, in the Rocky Mountain; Texas Christian, in the Southwest; Nebraska, in the Big Six, and Oklahoma A. and M., in the Missouri Valley, all look like champions on the face of current returns, although all have at least one more conference hurdle to overcome.

There will need to be a little more action and perhaps plenty of fireside discussion before the Eastern, Southern and Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference titles, mythical or otherwise, are awarded.

Michigan can definitely clinch the Big Ten title by whipping Minnesota this week, but Purdue, with only a tie to blot her record, is ready to slip into the throne should the Wolverines falter.

Four Teams Considered In East.

Brown, Colgate, Pittsburgh and Army all seem to rate consideration in the battle for the Eastern title, notwithstanding Army's early season defeat at Pitt's hands. Brown and Colgate each will endeavor to eliminate the other Thanksgiving Day, but the positions of Pitt and Army seem to hinge upon what they've already accomplished. Carnegie Tech is the only remaining Eastern foe on Pitt's schedule, and Army draws only West Virginia Wesleyan and Navy for its remaining intrasectional campaign.

In the South, Auburn and Louisiana State still are unbeaten and united and Auburn seems most likely to gain the title should the Plainsmen get by Georgia this week. L. S. U., playing a less taxing conference schedule than Auburn, must defeat Tulane to gain consideration.

In the Far West, Southern California seems to be the standout outfit, but the Trojans may have to share the title with University of California at Los Angeles, although that depends upon whether the latter can get by Montana, Washington and Washington State.

There were plenty of surprises in last week's results in nearly every sector of the football battle ground, but most of the decisive action was fought in the Southwest, South and East.

Texas Christian Stands High.

A somewhat unexpected 14-0 victory over Texas on Friday presented Texas Christian with an excellent opportunity to coast through to the Southwest title although the Horned Frogs still must meet Rice and Southern Methodist. Rice faced with a fine chance to figure in a possible triple tie for the championship, suffered a disastrous 14-7 defeat at the hands of Texas A. and M.

Tennessee and Vanderbilt battled each other to a scoreless tie and just about out of the Southern Conference race as well in the most important Southern Conference tussle. Tennessee still can figure in the chase, but only if both Auburn and Louisiana State suffer ties or defeats. Vanderbilt, now twice tied, is virtually eliminated.

The East suffered three serious setbacks in the tying of Pittsburgh's undefeated Panthers by Nebraska, 0 to 0, and the defeats of Penn by Ohio State, 19 to 0, and of Villanova by Detroit, 28 to 12. Against these were Eastern victories in lesser intersectional games, notably Navy's 28-7 triumph over Maryland, Army's conquest of North Dakota State, 52 to 0, West Virginia's triumph over Washington and Lee, 19 to 0, and Carnegie Tech's 15-0 victory over Xavier.

Colgate and Brown continued on their undefeated way, the former beating Syracuse, 16-0, while Brown nosed out Columbia, previously unbeaten, 7-6, with an 80-yard fourth-quarter march. Yale surprised by holding Princeton to a 7-7 tie and Harvard cashed in on one scoring opportunity to upset Holy Cross, 7-0. The Middle Three title went to Rutgers as the Scarlet overturned Lehigh, 37-3, and Amherst won the Little Three crown, trouncing Williams, 32-7. West Virginia Wesleyan bowled over Georgetown, 14-0, Temple maintained its

PROMISING BATTLES CARDED IN PORTNER'S RING TONIGHT

Burl-Brennan Bout Called 'Natural'

Swetnam and Fino in Other Half of Twin Feature.

Fullam Gets Test in 6-Rounder Against Sammy Britt.

Reference is made to the scheduled six-round main preliminary, in which clean-cut, curly-haired Frankie Fullam, fomer Catholic University ring idol, steps off against durable Sam Britt.

This bout is listed as the main supporting feature to the double-header wind-up in which Doug Swetman, pinch-hitting for Frankie De Angelo, scraps with Joe Fino and Eddie Burl bucks Johnny Brennan, both in sights.

Third Fight for Fullam Here.

Almost Gene Tunneyish in appearance and unmarked despite his amateur and professional experience, Fullam, former national A. A. U. amateur middeweight champion, will be making his third appearance in this vicinity.

In previous shots, Fullam mastered Sam Finazzo and Walter Kirkwood in five and ten round mills, respectively, refusing to concede so much as a round while doing so. In at least one respect, however, he expects to evidence improvement tonight, having acquired a punch recently that has boosted his stock no little.

Against Pal Silvers, hard-boiled veteran of many a conquest, Fullam flashed his newly discovered wallop with considerable success a few months back, stopping Pal in the fifth round after shellacking him unmercifully all the way.

Promised some choice shots if he gets past Britt, rough, tough youngster who twice punched out "Young" Van during the summer season, Frankie naturally will be out to show plenty of guns.

Burl Faces Test in Brennan.

Proving himself a big leaguer while outpointing Jimmy Mack in a whirlwind mixup recently, Burl will need a continuation of that form to defeat Johnny Brennan, Trenton, N. J., star.

A promising six lists Lloyd Phelps, brother of the rough and ready "Cowboy," against Roy Manley. Both being simon pure sluggers, these boys are in a show-stealing spot.

Sammy Sweet, a fast-stepping, crowd-pleasing flyweight, battles Harry Gunn in the four-round curtain raiser.

BOXING BITS' SELECTIONS.

Burl to beat Brennan, Swetnam to beat Fino, Fullan to beat Britt, Manley to beat Phelps, Sweet to beat Gunn.

Langley Eleven Beats Loyola College, 12-0

Langley Field, Va., Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Langley Field showed a smooth aerial attack today to defeat the Loyola College eleven, of Baltimore, 12 to 7.

The visitors also took to the air to score their only touchdown in the third quarter on a 30-yard pass that the receiver carried 30 more yards for the score.

Opening the game with a well-functioning attack, Loyola drove deep into Langley territory, but was held for downs by a stubborn Langley line.

Boston, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The world championship Green Bay Packers team today closed Boston's national professional football season by defeating the Boston Braves, 21 to 0, with a sensational forward passing display at Braves Field before 20,000 persons.

All of the Packers' scoring came through the air. In the first period Arnold Herber scored Roger Grove with a pass from the Boston 10-yard line. Harry O'Boyle place kicked the extra pint. Herber fed Verne Lewellen a long pass early in the second period and the half back ran 30 yards over the Boston line.

Just before the half closed Herber threw a 35-yard pass to Johnny Blood in the Boston end zone for the final score. The other Green Bay extra points were supplied by Grove's place kick and Herber's forward to Lavie Dilweg.

MOHAWKS DEFEAT SENATORS, 6 TO 2

A fourth time he rushed forward, but only to be hurled back by the oncoming Mohawk secondary, which piled into the heap, together with the linemen, to keep the Senators from scoring.

It was such a stand as this that saved the Indians from being scored on near the end of the first half, when their opponents were but inches from winning a touchdown.

DEAR AL: BOWIE RACE TRACK.

This track breezes into the turf picture today on the wings of charity and I hope all the boys will get out. There has been a noticeable drop in the crowds at Maryland courses this fall on charity days and for no good reason. The same kind of horses are running, the same opportunities to cash bets are offered. There is no advance in prices. Come out today and help swell Gov. Ritchie's Unemployment Fund.

Bowie virtually is going it alone now with Tanforan, too far away to be considered, the only other track in operation. See you out by the judges' stand. BILL.

FIRST RACE—Both METAUTUS and IDLE STEFAN have been threatening to graduate this fall. I believe the chances of the former are better here, although the latter is dropping weight. MOROCEN has been showing early speed that may take third money among these.

SECOND RACE—CONTRIBUTE is a steady sprinter and with Bobby Jones likely to pilot, I'm expecting another victory. VANDER POOL appears to be the class of the field, but is reported sore and certainly failed miserably the last time. He might do it, but not for my deuce. PROTEUS is the wake-up horse. Watch out.

THIRD RACE—MAROONED should win with a best effort, but these 2-year-olds are uncertain. Many in this field are on the improve and an upset may materialize. BAND WAGON and SNAPLOCK to battle it out for the place.

FOURTH RACE—I'd giving VALENCIENES one more chance. Can't believe that the clockers have made a mistake on this fellow. Of course, TAMBOUR must be beaten. SWATTER is a steady article and may be third.

FIFTH RACE—Here's another that the clockers recommend. It is MARMION. Has improved in recent races and seems ready to take a purse. MAD FRUMP is the natural favorite and is likely to save the place from MAD PURSUIT.

SIXTH RACE—Putting A LA CARTE on top of these platers and Bellizzi probably will ride this one home. DEEDIE, moving up a notch, is mighty dangerous. TETRARCHAL, prominent at Pimlico, will be a factor in this.

SEVENTH RACE—SOLACE was not hurried Saturday at Pimlico when a favorite. In fact, the chartmakers say SOLACE was strongly restrained. So many saw Calvert's bad ride that he can hardly do anything but his best if the horse is sent back today. AVALON drops down and loves this track. MODERN TIMES is the possible upsetter.

Santa Clara Defeats San Francisco, 7 to 0

Kezar Stadium, San Francisco, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Santa Clara's Broncos defeated University of San Francisco Dons, 7 to 0, today in a bitterly-fought football contest that wound up the 1932 schedule for the local eleven.

The Sophomore-powered San Francisco team developed surprising strength to hold Santa Clara to a lone touchdown and converted try for point scored in the opening period.

Taking possession of the ball on San Francisco's 37-yard line, the Broncos completed two passes to score.

The first pass, from Slavich, end, to Denser, right half back, netted 23 yards. Then Judnich, substitute half back, tossed one 9 yards to Slavich for the points. Koepf added the extra point with a place kick.

Chicago Bears Draw, 13-13, With Spartans

Chicago, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The Chicago Bears today battled the Portsmouth Spartans to a 13-to-13 tie for their fifth draw of the National Football League season.

The Bears scored first, counting in the first period when Kieth Molesworth carried the ball over and Tiny Engebretsen place kicked the extra point. The Spartans came back with a powerful drive in the second and led at the intermission, 13 to 7. Glenn Presnell and Gutowski provided the Portsmouth touchdowns and Dutch Clark was successful on one of the points thereafter.

Cagle Giants' Star As Stapletons Bow

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—The New York Giants romped to a 27-to-7 victory over Stapleton in a National Professional Football League fixture at the Polo Grounds today.

After Art Schiebel had plunged through from the 7-yard line to give Stapleton the opening touchdown of the game. The Giants opened up an attack that accounted for two touchdowns in that quarter, one in the third and one in the fourth. Cagle scored twice for the Giants, once on a 70-yard run and again on a pass from McBride. Tom Jones, Giant lineman, recovered a fumble and ran across the goal line for another score and McBride passed to Burnett for the fourth. Molenda kicked three goals for the Giants, while en Strong added the extra point after Stapleton's touchdown.

CUTTING DUE TO HEAD U.S.G.A.

Chicagoan Will Succeed Ramsay as President.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Robert M. Cutting, of Chicago, is slated to succeed Herbert H. Ramsay, of New York, as president of the United States Golf Association for 1933, according to the list of nominations made public today.

Ramsay, after being the dominating influence in American golf and prime mover in several noteworthy changes, will yield executive control at the annual meeting of the association, to be held in January, probably in New York. At the request of the incoming president, Ramsay will continue to handle the association's public relations business.

Responsible for Change In Ball.

Ramsay's regime will be best remembered for bringing about changes in the official ball, besides establishing sectional qualifying play for the national amateur championship along lines similar to the national open qualifying system.

Ramsay has served as an officer of the U. S. G. A. for the past eight years, including two terms as president.

Nominations for new members of the executive committee are: Paul P. Farreng, of Portland, Ore., president of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association; George W. Blossom, jr., of Chicago; John Arthur Brown, of Philadelphia, and H. Chandler Egan, of Del Monte, Calif., former national amateur champion. These men will succeed Ramsay, Rodman E. Griscom, of Philadelphia; A. S. Kerry, of Seattle, and Everett H. Shaver, of Los Angeles.

The nominations were submitted by a committee of which Melvin A. Traylor, of Chicago, is the chairman.

St. Rita's Preps Beat Cobra Gridmen, 13-0

Jack Tesh's 50-yard run to a touchdown, after receiving a pass from Davis, started St. Rita's Preps on their way to a 13-to-0 victory over the fighting Cobra eleven yesterday. Not long after O'Brien galloped around end for another touchdown, making the score read 13 to 0, where it remained until the end of the game.

Cuozza and Linthicum were best for the winners. For games with St. Rita's call Manager Owens, at Alexandria, 2502.

Cops on Bronx Eleven Don't Feaze Sing Sing

Ossining, N. Y., Nov. 13 (U.P.).—Sing Sing's football team today defeated the Bronx Parkway Club team, composed of two New York City policemen and former college men, 46 to 0.

"Alabama" Pitts again was the outstanding star for the Black Sheep, even though he did miss three out of four attempts to kick for the extra point after touchdown. The Black Sheep have won six games and lost one this year.

COLGATE AND BROWN BATTLE IS AWAITED

undefeated record with a 13-12 victory over Penn State, and Cornell swamped Dartmouth, 21-6.

Michigan and Purdue whipped Chicago and Iowa 12-0 and 18-0, respectively, in the Big Ten race, while Wisconsin tripped Minnesota, 20-13, and Illinois upset Indiana, 18-6.

Oregon offered little resistance to Southern California and the Trojans won, 33-0, as Washington and Washington State played a scoreless tie, California beat Idaho, 21-6, and Oregon State conquered Montana, 35-8.

Notre Dame uncovered plenty of power in overwhelming Northwestern, 21-0, while Oklahoma nd Kansas were winning Big Six victories over Iowa State, 19-12, and Missouri, 7-0, respectively.

Utah, dominant outfit in the Rocky Mountain group, handed Denver its first conference defeat, 27-0.

While Tennessee and Vanderbilt were locking in their scoreless draw, Auburn upset Florida, 21-6, and Louisiana State absorbed a 6-0 beating from the undefeated Centenary gentlemen of the Southern Intercollegiate A. A. North Carolina State and Georgia Tech sprang the chief surprises in the South, the former beating Duke, and the latter upsetting Alabama, both by 6-0 counts. Tulane defeated Kentucky, 6-3, in another close battle.

GUNNERS TIE FRATERS AT 6-6

Lanton's Dash on Recovered Fumble Knots Count.

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 13.—A 50-yard run down the side-lines by Lanton, Seaman Gunners' half back, as he caught Bell's fumble in the air gave the Washington eleven a 6-6 tie with the Alexandria Fraters here today before a record-breaking crowd.

The Alexandrians registered in the second period when Gensmer ploughed through tackle after a sustained drive down-field. The big half back had lots of power on this drive.

Gunners Held on Six-Inch Line.

In the third period the Fraters had the Gunners backed up on their own 6-inch line, but could not penetrate the invaders' forewall and lost the pigskin on downs.

Les McMenamin, of the Alexandrians, played a great game in the back field, as did his cohort, Haywood. On the defense Bob Agner and Padgett did some excellent tackling. Metric and Diaz starred for the "Gobs."

Marions Capture Unlimited Crown

2 Blocked Punts, Ruled Safeties by Officials, Beat Mercurys, 4-0.

Blocking two kicks and recovering the ball behind its opponent's goal line on each occasion, the Marion Athletic Club yesterday won the Independent League unlimited championship by defeating Mercury, 4-0.

Heated disputes followed each blocked punt. Marion supporters claimed a touchdown for their team, but the referee ruled otherwise, and the Southeast eleven received credit for safeties only.

The green-shirted Marions outplayed their opponents by a wide margin and continually had the ball in the territory of the Wingfeet. Hoff and Mannett, in the back field, and Steele and Timmons, in the line, were outstanding for the victors. Limerick, Eggleston and Lewis were best for Mercury.

St. Stephen's Preps Near 135-Pound Title

St. Stephen's Preps removed another team standing in their path to the 135-pound championship of the Independent League when they trounced one of the leading contenders for the title, the Apache Preps, by a score of 9 to 0 yesterday.

St. Stephen's front line was virtually invulnerable, and what ground the Apaches gained was made through an aerial attack. A sustained drive of 70 yards, with Phillips and Quigley doing most of the work, paved the way for the touchdown. "Jiggs" Joray went over for the score. Fox tackled Inscoe behind the latter's goal line for the safety.

Friedman's Field Goal Wins for Dodgers, 3-0

New York, Nov. 13 (A.P.).—Benny Friedman's field goal in the first period gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 3-to-0 decision over the Chicago Cardinals in a National Professional Football League game here today.

A pass, Friedman to Riblett, for a 30-yard gain, took the Dodgers to the Cards' 8-yard line. There they could make only a yard on three tries at the line, and Friedman then place-kicked the winning field goal. Each team had chances to score in the final quarter, but could not pierce the other's defense when touchdowns loomed.

Catholic U.-Duquesne Game D. C. College Grid Feature

Contest Scheduled Friday Night at Stadium; Georgetown Meets Burknell; Maryland Tackles Hopkins; G. W. Idles.

THE football seasons of Washington's two minor league colleges are happily in their graves. American University wound up its year Saturday by losing to Randolph-Macon and Gallaudet preserved its unique record by losing every game on the schedule and not scoring a point for the season.

George Washington faces one more foe, and C. U., Maryland and Georgetown have two more to meet. The Colonials and the Cardinals have long since cemented success into their 1932 seasons, but Maryland and Georgetown will have to win both their remaining games in order to salvage their blasted grid hopes for '32. And it is extremely doubtful if these latter two teams can sweep their remaining foes.

G. W. Idles Until Turkey Day.

George Washington is fortunate in having not to play until Thanksgiving day, when it meets Oklahoma, perhaps a tougher foe than Alabama. Nig McCarver and Hardy Pearce were hurt Friday night against William and Mary. Both were in George Washington University Hospital over the week-end, McCarver with a bad leg and Pearce with a broken nose, received in the last play of the game.

Catholic University assured the financial success of its big game against Duquesne Friday night by winning over the durable Providence Friars Saturday by a 6-to-0 score.

The Cardinal Team is in great physical condition. Tommy Whelan, generally rated as Washington's greatest ball carier, will be making his debut in the stadium for the year. He was deliberately held back against Providence Saturday.

G. U. Faces Tartar In Bucknell.

Georgetown, definitely doomed to perhaps its worst season in a generation, meets more bad news Saturday in Bucknell. Last Saturday Georgetown showed only lukewarm strength. It's vaunted offense bogged down miserably and only the heroic individual defensive play of Frank Williamson, Wilmer Bradley and one or two others saved the game from developing into a rout.

Maryland, wallowing in about the same mire of mediocrity as Georgetown, played a somewhat similar game against Navy that the Hoyas produced against West Virginia Wesleyan. The Old Liners stayed off at least four more Navy touchdowns in the shadow of the goal, after yelding acores of ground along the line of retreat.

CENTENNIALS BEATEN BY TERRYS

S. W. Eleven Victor, 6-0; Brooklands Win by 19-0.

PLAYING before one of the largest crowds to witness a sandlot game this season, Terry's Servicemen earned a 6-0 victory over the Centennials yesterday at Silver Spring. It is the first time the teams have reached a decision over a period of three years. Terry's formerly played under the banner of the Palace A. C. The teams are in the 150-pound division of the Independent League.

In the second game in this division, Brookland Boys Club defeated the Stantons by a score of 19-0.

Johnny Scanlon went over for the Terry touchdown after a sustained drive in the final period. Divers, Hurley and Hudson were outstanding for the victors. Bussink and Juliano played well for the Centennials.

George Lassise's off-tackle buck resulted in the first score for Brookland. McNally tallied the second in the third period on a reverse, running 30 yards to score. Another long run by Caredi produced the final marker.

Clark and McKenna were towers of strength in the Brookland line. Gooch and Rice were best for the Stantons.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

WHAT is considered impossible by many hairdressers was accomplished by Mrs. Hingst, of Emerson, Nebr., when she successfully gave herself a permanent wave two years ago. Finding that this more or less experimental wave was more satisfactory than others she had had before, Mrs. Hingst continued to wave her own hair. Since then she has given herself five permanents.

Game Warden D. C. Smith, of Port Royal, Va., has a new method of catching wild turkeys, it is reported by R. A. Hicks. Warden Smith recently rode his horse under a flock of wild turkeys, reached up, and caught one of them. And from the same district comes the story of how Horace Johnson pulled a hawk out of his hair. Mr. Johnson was standing on a railroad platform when a hawk landed on his head. He reached up and caught the hawk.

NEWS UNIT PRAISED ON CATHOLIC HOUR

Mgr. Thomas Paid Tribute by Mgr. Smith; Curley Club at Services.

The most outstanding fact in the history of Catholic journalism since its inception in 1789 was the establishment here in 1920 of the Catholic Central News Bureau, the Right Rev. Mgr. Albert E. Smith said yesterday in a broadsast on the Washington Catholic Radio Hour.

Tribute was paid by the speaker to the Right Rev. Mgr. Cornelius F. Thomas, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, who next month rounds out 50 years of priestly endeavor and who was the first editor of the Baltimore Catholic Review, which began in 1913.

The services, which were broadcast from the Immaculate Conception Church, were attended by the Curley Club of Washington. Mgr. Smith is the editor in chief of the Baltimore Catholic Review.

The blessing of the sick and Lourdes procession took place at the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes in the church. The Rev. Francis J. Hurney, pastor of the church and director of the radio services, presided. He was assisted by the Rev. S. A. Czyz and the Rev. J. Kelly Reese.

The music, under the direction of Harry Wheaton Howard, included as soloists Florence Yocum, Kathryn Bowers and Fred Nolan; Ann Arlen, violinist, and the Boys Sanctuary Choir.

3 CHILDREN AMONG VICTIMS IN SERIES OF AUTO ACCIDENTS

Driver Held After Boy Skater Is Critically Hurt; Girl, 10, Badly Injured.

Two young Washington boys and a young woman of Silver Spring, Md., were among those who suffered serious injuries as the result of automobile accidents in various sections of the city yesterday.

Attempting to cross the street on roller skates near Fourth and Butternut streets northwest, Clark Willett, 13, of 6815 Laurel street northwest, was struck by an automobile and critically injured. A 17-year-old youth, said to be driver of the machine, is being held pending outcome of the boy's injuries.

According to witnesses, young Willett was on roller skates and started to cross the street, when he was hit. He was thrown several feet and badly lacerated and bruised. Taken to Walter Reed Hospital, he was found to have suffered a possible fracture of the skull, fractured right arm, possible fractured leg and possible internal injuries.

Another Youth Held.

After receiving first-aid treatment the boy was taken to Emergency Hospital, where he was admitted in a serious condition.

Police are holding William E. Tarbett, 17, of 407 Carroll avenue, Takoma Park, Md., as driver of the car.

Miss Susan O'Dell, 24, of Silver Spring, Md., suffered severe injuries early yesterday when the automobile she was driving crashed into an electric light pole at Sixteenth and Kalmia streets northwest.

Miss O'Dell apparently lost control of the machine, police said. The pole was uprooted by the impact. Miss O'Dell was taken to Walter Reed Hospital and after receiving first-aid treatment for severe lacerations to her head and body was removed to Emergency Hospital. Her condition is undetermined.

Internal Injuries and Shock.

Mrs. Carrie Calfee, 56, of 1103 Park road northwest, was in an undetermined condition at Garfield Hospital last night as the result of injuries suffered when an automobile in which she was riding was in collision with a machine driven by Raleigh W. Shiflett, 37, of Riverdale, Md., at Twentieth and M streets northwest.

The car in which the injured woman was riding was driven by William Calfee, 23, also of the Park road address. No arrests were made. Mrs. Calfee was said to have internal injuries and shock.

William Dempsey, 51, who gave his address as the Central Union Mission, was seriously injured last night when struck and knocked down by an automobile while walking through the United States Soldiers' Home Grounds.

He was taken to Sibley Hospital, where it was found he suffered several fractured ribs and possible internal injuries. Police said he was hit by the machine of Abraham Raport, of 647 Columbia road northwest.

Girl, 10, Is Injured.

Marjorie Elliott, 10 years old, of 1411 Buchanan street northwest, suffered severe lacerations to her head and face when thrown through the windshield of an automobile in a collision at Arkansas avenue and Buchanan street northwest.

Marjorie was treated at Garfield Hospital. More than twelve stitches were required to close a cut in her head. She was riding in the machine of Leo Nessbaum, 30 years old, of 1513 Allison street northwest. Their car was in collision with the car of Mrs. Mollie M. King, 53 years old, of 1318 Emerson street northwest. Nessbaum and Mrs. King were not hurt.

Knocked down by an automobile as he ran into the street near his home yesterday afternoon, Edward Murphy 7, of 1449 Oak street northwest, suffered a fractured left leg, and severe lacerations and bruises. He was treated at Children's Hospital.

Police said the machine which struck the boy was driven by Mrs. Sarah J. Sterling, 30, of 4029 Connecticut avenue.

Inquest Today in Death Of Youth in Accident

An inquest in the death of Robert William Hannemann, jr., 20, as the result of injuries suffered when a machine driven by him crashed into a telephone pole at Ninth and Brentwood streets northeast early Saturday, will be held at the District Morgue this morning at 11:30.

According to police, Hannemann swerved his car into the pole to avoid colliding with an oncoming truck. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at his late residence.

Girl Spectator Is Hurt At Potomac Park Game

Miss Edna Moore, 21, of 1014 G street southeast, suffered slight injuries yesterday when she was trampled by a group of football players in Potomac Park. Miss Moore was watching the game when several of the players ran out of bounds and knocked her to the ground. She was treated at Emergency Hospital for bruises to her leg.

Suburban Sanitary Head To Talk in Takoma Park

T. Howard Duckett, chairman of the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission, will address the Community League of Takoma Park, Md., at a special meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the Takoma branch of the Public Library.

The act creating the commission and its operation will be discussed by Mr. Duckett, who also will answer questions, it was announced.

TRAFFIC TOLL TO DATE.

Be Careful! You have everything to gain and nothing to lose. Fatalities and injuries due to traffic accidents are increasing, and surveys of automobile collisions indicate that the majority could have been avoided if the motorists and pedestrians involved had exercised more care.

Thirty-eight more deaths and 212 more injuries have been recorded to date than during the corresponding peirod of 1931. The total number of accidents has decreased by 420. The figures are:

	1931.	1932.
Deaths	69	107
Injuries	3,115	3,327
Accidents ...	7,274	6,854

NUMEROUS RACKETS AIDED UNWITTINGLY BY CHARITY GROUPS

'Slickers' Give Institutions Small Cuts on 'Takes' From Suckers.

Are you on a sucker list?

For several years questionable promoters have been operating get-rich-quick schemes with charitable and religious institutions and staid business establishments acting as unwitting aids.

Detective Sergeants T. C. Bragg and Clarence Talley, of the police check and fraud squad, can talk to you for hours about some of the "slickers" who have raked in thousands of easy dollars through the combination of convincing talk and "sucker" lists.

Benefit dances are one of the chief sources of income of authors of the schemes. Under the plan of the schemers no legal process has so far been unearthed to combat the practices.

The promoters arrange the dances by first approaching the heads of a charitable or religious institution, a church or some other establishment the nature of which is calculated to arouse sympathy in the breast of the "sucker."

Percentage Guaranteed.

A percentage is guaranteed the institution in return for the use of the name as the beneficiary of the dance to be given. Then tickets are printed. Prices usually range from $3 to $5, which is quite a heavy tariff for the average hotel dance.

The dance is given. No chance of catching the boys that way. But here's the hitch. The charitable institution's cut is generally what is guaranteed — about $200 — while the promoters rake in anywhere from $2,000 to $3,000.

As soon as the tickets are printed a carefully compiled sucker list is produced by the promoters, a small office is rented and several telephones installed.

The "suckers" are culled from the respectable middle and upper classes generally. They are generally picked for their susceptibility to a certain type of cause. For instance, if one sect is behind an institution for which the dance is supposedly given, then members of that faith will be particularly approached.

Tickets Rarely Used.

Most of the ticket soliciting is done by telephone. A goodly section of those approached agree tacitly to purchase tickets as "patrons." Quickly a messenger boy is rushed out and almost always he collects.

One factor that augurs well for the promoters is that many of the "patrons"—who are allowed to bring a group of friends on the one ticket, generally—do not show up. Thus embarrassment, which would be created by appearance of a crowd several times too large for the small ballroom usually hired, does not arise.

Dances are not the only means of these promoters. A variety of schemes which are apparently law-proof are used.

Public Document Scheme.

Recently a Government Printing Office publication of interest to many business men was revised and a new edition printed. Learning of this, the promoters approached a host of business men and told these men that a bound copy with their advertisement in it would be a valuable asset.

Two hundred copies of the publication were purchased at a nominal sum. A binding company was contracted with to furnish a cheap, colored stiff-binding. Advertising pages were added on back and front and advertising matter was embossed on the binding.

Many of the business firms "fell" for the scheme. According to police, only 200 copies, barely enough for the advertisers, were ever printed. Whether any statute covers the commercial use of a public document has been debated and nothing so far revealed to take care of such a situation.

U. S. Employes Group Will Install Officers

Installation of officers will form the main business at the meeting tonight of the Federal Employes Union, No. 262, National Federation of Federal Employes, at 710 Fourteenth street northwest. Luther Stewart, national president, and other high officials are expected to attend.

Officers to be installed include: J. O. Burnham, president; Edgar Graham, first vice president; W. E. Perry, second vice president; Mrs. Ola G. King, third vice president; E. C. Hooper, financial secretary-treasurer; R. O. Hundley, recording secretary, and several committee heads and trustees.

POLICE SPUR SEARCH FOR BANDITS AFTER WAVE OF ROBBERIES

Manager of Oil Station and Cabmen Among Victims; Cafe Man Is Shot.

A wave of week-end robberies and holdups last night spurred police to a concentrated drive in an effort to apprehend bandits responsible for a series of robberies and assaults on citizens in many sections of the city.

Two young unidentified white men about 25 years old last night held up and robbed Samuel C. Hudson, night manager of the Standard Gasoline Service Station at New York and New Jersey avenues, and made off with $34 in bills and $4 in change.

According to Hudson, the two men entered the station and asked if they could use the washroom. Hudson said he gave permission and they went in, closed the door, and reappeared a few minutes later, one of the bandits holding a large automatic.

Hudson was sitting at his desk when the men came out, as there were no customers at that particular time. While one of the men trained the gun on the manager the other took his small change carrier which was in his pocket.

After robbing the man they told him to go into the washroom and not to come out for five minutes. Hudson said he obeyed. Then he came out and called the police.

The bandits apparently had no car. Both were moderately dressed, tall, one about 6 feet and the other a few inches shorter. Each weighed in the vicinity of 150 pounds and both wore dark overcoats and hats.

Two colored men, believed by police to be responsible for the robberies of two taxicab drivers last night, were being sought early today, after making good their escape with $4.50.

Forced to Give Up $2.

Ronsley Payton, 25, of 2503 Fourteenth street northwest, was their first victim. He told police the men hailed his taxi at North Capitol and I streets and asked to be driven to First and G streets northwest. En route, Payton declared, one of the men produced a gun and demanded cash. He said he was forced to surrender $2, and the men fled.

A short time later Louis F. Provine, of 416 H street northeast, reported two men, answering the same description, held him up at the point of a gun and escaped with $2.50. Provine said he was hailed at North Capitol and H street, only a block from the spot, where Payton picked up his "fares."

Sam Mapas, 45, proprietor of a lunchroom at 1211 Seventh street northwest, reported to police that a colored man entered his store yesterday, shot him through the right leg and fled, without making any attempt to rob him.

Mapas was treated at Emergency Hospital and allowed to go home.

Victim Beaten by Trio.

James Gehrmann, 31, of 1324 Monroe street northwest, reported to police yesterday that he was forced by three colored men to get into his car at Fourteenth and T streets northwest and taken to the entrance of Rock Creek Park at Sixteenth street and Sherrill drive, where he was beaten unconscious and robbed of $26.

As he was approaching his car at 7 p. m. Saturday night, the men accosted him and shoved him into the rear of the vehicle, Gehrmann stated. One of the trio left the scene and the other two drove the car up Sixteenth street and, arriving at the entrance to the park, proceeded to beat him. He told police that the last thing he remembered before losing consciousness was being robbed and thrown from the automobile.

Gehrmann regained his senses early yesterday and gave police a description of his assailants. A lookout was sent out for the men and the car.

Man Must Work to Gain Inheritance, Cleric Says

Continuing his series "Some of the modern problems confronting the church and the world," the Rev. Ze Barney T. Phillips, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Episcopal church, said that man does not possess an inheritance of the world but that he must achieve this inheritance through traversing a long narrow path seemingly with fire on the one side and deep water on the other.

"Man must realize that he too has an individual problem to solve. How many sad hearts are there in this world today, how many stories of despair, how many are falling out overburdened by the strain," he said. "But man must not be downcast or discouraged, but realize that, as with his country and the world, he too must travel the lonely and narrow path."

2 Concerts Given By Wheeler Band

Club Boys Play in Holy Comforter School's Auditorium.

The Wheeler Club Boys Band of the Holy Comforter Parish, under direction of the Rev. Joseph F. Denges, assistant pastor of the Holy Comforter Church, gave two concerts yesterday, one at 3:15 p. m. and the other at 8:15 p. m. in the Holy Comforter School Auditorium at Fifteenth and East Capitol streets.

The band was assisted by several guest artists and entertainers at both performances.

The Wheeler Club Boys Band, since its organization about a year ago, has participated in nearly all of the local parades commemorating the George Washington Bicentennial Year. It consists of 44 youngsters of from 7 to 17 years of age.

Turkey and Other Thanksgiving Delicacies Will Cost Less This Year Than in Last 20

No knowledge here among these birds of the noble destiny for which they will die, but each day brings the ax of doom and Thanksgiving Day dinner nearer. These turkeys, seasonal symbols of Thanksgiving, soon will make their curtain call—featherless, browned, stuffed and delicious. They await the end at the Darby turkey farm in nearby Maryland.

Best Quality Gobbler Will Retail at 30 to 35 Cents a Pound; Plentiful Supply Promised From Many States With Accompaniments.

This is the season when the voice of the turkey is heard throughout the land—when chill winds bring thoughts of a cheery hearth and the bountiful board of Thanksgiving Day upon which the turkey reigns supreme.

Sovereign of fowls, king of the barnyard and prince of the table, he is as American as the day on which he is the crowning delicacy of the feast.

There will be no dearth of turkey on this Thanksgiving. Dealers say that the price will be lower than it has been in the past twenty years.

The best quality dressed turkey will retail from 30 to 35 cents a pound, dealers anticipate. Last year the price ranged around 40 cents.

Already dealers are receiving shipments of gobblers. They are coming from Virginia and Maryland and next week large shipments are expected from Kentucky and Tennessee.

Of course the turkey leads the Thanksgiving field, but those who are partial to duck, chicken, a goose or a roast pig will find that the prices of their favorites are very low—perhaps lower than they have been at any Thanksgiving time since 1915.

Of course a turkey is not thought of alone—there is an association of standard and traditional things which grace the Thanksgiving Day table.

A survey of markets shows an abundance of those delicacies which accompany and complement the brown and smoking fowl. Chestnuts there are for those who like chestnut dressing—and there was never a dearth of oysters for stuffing a bird. The cranberry sauce will not be absent.

A Thanksgiving dinner, replete in every traditional detail, should cost less this year than it has in the last twenty.

MINISTER PREACHES ON DIVINE GUIDANCE

Nation's Destiny in Hands of God, Rev. Mr. Enders Says in Sermon.

"Because Herbert Hoover could not do the humanly impossible, he was cast aside by a great protest vote," declared the Rev. Charles Enders, preaching yesterday morning at the Concordia Lutheran Evangelical Church.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt comes into office facing the expectation on the part of the many that voted for him that he shall bring about the millennium. Do we not need to remind ourselves, that after all the destiny of the Nation is in the hands of God? Can we not after all render the best service unto our Nation by not expecting too much from any one man or his advisers, but by calling upon God to guide the administrators and statesmen of our country by His spirit? Let us intrust the welfare of our Nation into the hand of the Allwise, the Almighty and the loving God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ," the Rev. Mr. Enders said.

"On November 6, 1632, Gustavus Adolphus, King of Sweden, lost his life in the Battle of Luetzen in Saxony. The appearance of Gustavus Adolphus on the scene of conflict in war-torn Germany two and a half years previous to his death is one of the most significant events in history. His participation in the Thirty Years War gave the whole course of this war a new direction. It inspired the German princes to defend their rights against the encroachments of imperial power and prevented the re-establishment of despotic power on the part of the German emperor. More than this it saved Protestantism in the hour when it seemed to face certain destruction in Germany. The part played by Gustavus Adolphus in the Thirty Years War is a wonderful example of the intervention of the hand of God in the affairs of the nations.

Swedish King's Army.

"After twelve years of warfare between the Protestant princes of Germany on the one hand and the German emperor and the Catholic league on the other, the forces of Protestantism were prostrated. The armies of the empire and of the Catholic league had been victorious on all fronts and had overrun all of Germany. There was still opposition to the edicts of the emperor, which would destroy the Protestant churches, but it was the opposition of desperation with little or no hope of success. The Protestant cities and princes that still dared to oppose the emperor did so because they preferred to perish rather than to surrender their convictions.

"It was at this time that the King of Sweden appeared with a small army of about 15,000 men. The emperor and his allies ridiculed the Swedish King and his army. It seemed to be a hopeless venture. It would have been a foolish undertaking had not the hand of God been in this move. * * *

The Hand of God.

"Under the leadership of Gustavus Adolphus the Protestant forces went from one victory to another. In the course of two years he met and defeated the foremost generals of the empire and the Catholic league.

"Then at the height of his victorious career came the end of his life on the field of battle. We ask: Why did God permit the death of this man at a time when he might have brought the war to an end within a comparatively short time through this man, instead of letting the war continue for another sixteen years? This becomes clear, when one considers that the very success of Gustavus Adolphus as general and administrator had brought with it great spiritual dangers. While the King of Sweden was himself still fully cognizant of his dependence on the power of God, the people were forgetting this. * * *

"This is a good time for us as a Nation to take thought of the hand of God in the development of our Nation. The whole present situation is altogether different from conditions in Germany at the time of the Thirty Years War. We face, however, this danger of putting too much trust in certain persons and in their policies."

TRIO OF COMPOSERS ENHANCE BEAUTY OF SYMPHONY CONCERT

Gisikoff, Stringfield and Hazelman Acclaimed at Constitution Hall.

A trio of American composers present in person and the presentation in Washington of several of their compositions made notable yesterday's popular concert of the National Symphony Orchestra in Constitution Hall, when these gifted musicians acknowledged the acclaim of the audience.

The visiting composers were Michel Gisikoff, whose "American Concerto," in which he was violin soloist, was one of the big hits of the afternoon; Lamar Stringfield, composer-conductor and research associate of the music foundation of the University of North Carolina, who led Hans Kindler's musical men in his own symphonic suite "From the Southern Mountains," and Herbert Hazelman, composer of "Moronique Dance," most favorably received yesterday afternoon. Young Hazelman is only 19 years old, and he is a sophomore at the University of North Carolina.

And to crown the afternoon was Mr. Kindler's inspired leadership of the orchestra in numbers representing a wide range of classic music.

Outstanding on the program was "The American Concerto," which was to prove Mr. Gisikoff's worth both as a composer and violinist. It embodies the very spirit of jazz, with its incredible and fantastic themes, and its certain charm.

Gisikoff Great As Soloist.

Its presentation in Washington won new laurels for it. Mr. Stringfield led the orchestra during its playing and read into it a vivid interpretation of its spirit.

As a soloist, Gisikoff left little to be desired. He handled his master instrument with the grace and surety of one who has played the violin in concert work since a child. His tone was mellow, his bowing most finished and excellent technique was displayed throughout. Naturally, his interpretation was intimate and memorable.

In the portion of the program led by Mr. Kindler, who seemed enthusiastic over his visiting musical stars, so to speak, effective renditions were given of Vivaldi's Concerto Grossi, Mendelssohn's Nocturne from "Midsummer Night's Dream," the spirited "March From Ruins of Athens," by Beethoven, and Brahms' Fifth and Sixth Hungarian Dances.

Stringfield Versatile.

Mr. Stringfield proved as versatile a conductor as he is a composer. He renewed the good impression he had made in Washington when leading here before, and his suite, "From the Southern Mountains," pleased the audience greatly.

The audience keenly enjoyed the playing of young Hazelman's "Moronique Dance," which has many musical virtues to its credit. It portrayed the undoubted talents of this young American composer.

Mr. Kindler and his organization deserve great credit for this musical treat. By such incidents they will go far toward the full achievement of their ideal: A National Symphony Orchestra in the Capital of the Nation.

Old Ironsides Is Presented Tools Used in Building It

An ancient broadax and an adz used in the building of Old Ironsides, 130 years ago, at Hartt's shipyard, Boston, have been presented to the ship, now docked in Washington, by T. Lamar Jackson, of Sandy Spring, Montgomery County, Md.

Mr. Jackson obtained the tools from Reuben Sibley, of Freedom, Me., great-grandson of Jacob Sibley, the shipbuilder who wielded the ax and adz in helping to build the warship.

The tools will be placed on board the Constitution with other exhibits. Mr. Jackson recently presented the Smithsonian Institution with an ancient one-horse shay and a single yoke oxcart.

DUQUESNE SEEKS TO REVERSE 1931 DEFEAT BY C. U.

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

BIG league baseball lost one of its most romantic figures in the death of Charley (Boss) Schmidt yesterday. Schmidt, a star of two decades ago, was famed in later years chiefly for his battles with Ty Cobb when both were teammates on the Detroit Tigers.

It was Schmidt's boast that he held three victories over Cobb in three fist fights. Charley was a tough hombre and had a special antipathy for the fiery Georgian, and Duncan Price informs this department that Manager Hughey Jennings, of the Tigers, was forced to have the two men report for different workouts during the training season in order to keep peace on the club.

A giant of a man who perhaps was the least bit envious of Cobb's reputation, Schmidt never avoided a fight, in fact enjoyed it, and seemed always to make it a point to appear as a villain in the eyes of the fans. Woe to the base runner who tried to slide under his spikes at the plate, for Schmidt gave no ground as a catcher and one of his chief regrets was that Cobb was never on an opposing team.

Prize Fight Career Ended Suddenly.

Schmidt once essayed the role of a professional pugilist under the tutelage of Rube Perns, old welterweight champion. He always boasted that no man could "take" him, but in his debut as a prize fighter at Fort Smith, Ark., an obscure fifth-rate heavyweight "took" him in the fourth round and brought a sudden and complete stop to his pugilistic career.

During his playing career, Schmidt was an enemy of all umpires, and said without reservation that the killing of an umpire was justifiable homicide. Yet, when he finished his career as player and manager, he became an umpire.

Schmidt made his debut as an umpire in the Western Association in 1924, following his dismissal as manager of the Springfield, Mo., club. But his reputation as a "hard guy" stood him in good stead and he encountered no trouble during his umpiratical career.

Going Places and Doing Things.

The Stapleton Club of the National Professional Football League, has been going places but not doing many things this season, according to the official statistics of the league released yesterday.

Stapleton has gained 1,801 yards during the season, 70 yards more than the champion Green Bay Packers, and is leading the league in this respect, but the standings show the Stapes to be in the cellar.

The reason is simple enough. While the Stapletons have been gaining more ground than any other club in the league, they have also yielded more yardage to opponents than any other club. The Stapes have permitted the opposition to gain 2,141 yards, while Green Bay has held its opponents to a mere 1,348 yards.

Horton Smith's Gift To Caddy $75.

Seventy-five dollars of Horton Smith's $700 first-place money in the National Capital open remained in Washington when the Missouri youth entrained for the North-South open at Pinehurst, following his victory. The $75 represented the winner's gift to his caddy.

Smith's caddy, brother of Al Houghton, Kenwood professional, netted only $25 less than Al, who earned $100 of the purse for finishing in seventh place. This generosity on the part of the young Missourian is merely one of the reasons for his popularity around the golfing circuit. Unlike another well-known professional, Smith did not reach for the check in the master of ceremonies' left hand while the latter was extending his right in congratulation.

Burl Defeats Brennan at Portner's

Florida Fighter Wins Easily; Britt Bows to Fullam.

Fino, Sweet Victors; Phelps and Manley Ruled Draw.

By DAVE HERMAN

EDDIE BURL, dynamic 120-pounder from Jacksonville, Fla., who throws punches almost as freely as he breathes, handed Johnny Brennan, of Trenton, N. J., an unmerciful beating last night at Portner's Arena in Alexandria in the feature eight-round scrap of the weekly fistic program for the benefit of the Alexandria Day Nursery.

After absorbing a few stinging licks from Brennan in the opening round, the battle-scarred Burl unloosened a whirlwind attack, hammering Brennan from corner to corner, nailing him with rights and lefts to the jaw and body, and maintaining a fighting pace that ended only when the timekeeper sounded the valedictory note. The Florida puncher easily was the master in seven rounds.

Giving an exhibition of gameness and skill, Mexico's colorful bantamweight champion, Joe Fino, spotted Doug Swetnam, Eastern High youngster, six pounds, and was awarded the decision in the eight-round semi-windup. A chorus of boos greeted the verdict. Referee Charlie Short gave the Mexican five rounds, another judge voted for Fino, while the second called the bout a draw.

Fino Forces Fight.

Fino carried the fight from the start, did most of the leading, and kept up the steady bombardment that forced Swetnam into retreat time and again. It was Fino's finest display of boxing since he made his debut at Portner's. He is a most improved puncher, although a trifle wild at times with his blows. The finish was full of action.

Campus color was injected into the proceedings with the debut of Frankie Fullam, Catholic University's favorite boxing son, now under the management of Joe Holman. Handling himself with the ease and grace of a champion, the former national A. A. U. titleholder pounded swarthy Sammy Britt into defeat in the main six-rounder, winning the decision unanimously. Fullam, showing ability to punch cleverly with both hands, and covering up masterfully, chased Britt around the ring from round to round, and topped off his performance with a slashing two-fisted assault that drew loud cheers from a crowd of 1,000.

The entire Catholic University football team was on hand to cheer its fistic idol, while Tommy Whelan, star half back, was in Fullam's corner as second. His showing was impressive.

Phelps Gains Draw.

Lloyd Phelps, 150-pounder from Mesa, Ariz., fought Roy Kid Manley, 145, of Little Rock, Ark., to a draw in the opening six-rounder. Manley appeared the aggressor for the first three rounds, but slowed down, permitting Phelps to break through his defense for a number of good body blows. Phelps boxed gingerly in the fourth, showing his best form.

Sammy Sweet, 117-pounder, of Cincinnati, who has been headlined in fights for a number of years in Ohio, earned the decision from Larry Gunn, lanky Baltimore boxer, in a four-rounder. Sweet, a head smaller than his adversary, won practically every round.

Eddie Burl's victory was his second at Portner's. Brennan, coming here with a dandy ring record, did a lot of crouching that availed him little. Every time the New Jersey boy threw up his gloves to protect his face, Burl swooped down on him, penetrated his defense and smacked him solidly.

Fields Would Defend His Title Against Corbett

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 14 (U.P.).—Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, is ready to defend his title against Young Corbett in San Francisco within a period of six weeks, according to a letter from Ray Alvis, Fields' manager, to James M. Brown, president of the National Boxing Association.

The Fields-Corbett bout, which was postponed because of an injury to Fields' eyes, already has been sanctioned as a title bout by the N. B. A. Fields will have until December 31 to go through with the Corbett bout or meet any other leading challenger.

CENTENNIALS PRACTICE.

The Centennials' 125-pound team practices tonight at 8 o'clock at North Capitol and L streets.

First Bowie Charity Day Nets Fund $13,000

Bowie, Md., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The first of the final two days of charity days at Maryland racing tracks today netted approximately $13,000 for the State's unemployment fund, according to Joseph B. Boyle, general manager, and Thomas K. Lynch, assistant and treasurer at the Bowie track.

Tomorrow will be the last welfare program and Manager Boyle estimated the second day's pool will be about $15,000, as pari-mutuel clerks and racing officials will donate their services. Approximately $228,000 have been contributed at the race tracks during the past two years at charity day programs for unemployment relief.

Coltiletti Loses License; Calvert Gets Suspension

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 14 (U.P.).—The Maryland Racing Commission today revoked the riding license of Jockey Frank Coltiletti following the disqualification of Garden Message, second to War Glory in the Walden Handicap at Pimlico on Friday.

Coltiletti and Mack Garner, who claimed a foul and gained second money for his mount in the Walden, engaged in a violent quarrel after the race. A crowd chased Coltiletti to his car after he dressed.

Jockey M. Calvert was suspended until December 1 for an unsatisfactory ride on Solace in the sixth race at Pimlico on Saturday.

G. W. U. FIVE TO PLAY AT TECH GYM

Colonials Retain Last Year's Regulars; Pixlee Coach.

WITH undoubtedly one of the best basket ball teams in the country, George Washington University's court squad begins operations soon under the tutelage of Jimmy Pixlee, arch enemy of the popular Meanwell system and strong disciple of a fast cut down the floor and an immediate shot at the basket.

With all the regulars of the sterling 1931-32 season back in uniform, including two of the most renowned players ever seen in Washington, Wick Parrack and Cy Hertzler, both of them 6 feet 5 inches tall, the Colonial schedule makers busily are gathering an impressive list of opponents.

Home games probably will be played at Tech High gym. Last season found the narrow George Washington University gymnasium much too small to take care of the crowds that flocked to the games. Tech can accommodate nearly 4,000 spectators.

Besides Parrack and Hertzler, and such other stars as Forrest Burgess, Otts Zahn, Johnny Fenlon, Wayne Chambers and Fred Mulvey, the colonials this year will be strengthened by the arrival in varsity competition of Big Bill Noonan, 6-foot-3 former Eastern High center, and Dallas Shirley, former all-high guard, while with Eastern.

Among the home games will be a meeting with St. Johns, of Brooklyn, claimants of the national championship, who defeated G. W. last year in New York by one point, after seven baskets by Parrack had been called back for "running."

Georgetown, Maryland, C. U. and American, all of them expectant of good teams and a good schedule this year, will begin operations seriously within the next week. Coach Freddy Mesmer, of the Hilltoppers, had had a skeleton squad out for nearly two weeks.

Grid Deaths Show Decline This Year

No Varsity College Players Among 24 to Die; 50 Victims in 1931.

New York, Nov. 14 (U.P.).—Football competition, near an end for this season, has resulted in death of only 24 players directly attributable to the game, as compared with more than 50 in 1931.

Last year's toll included many college players, notably Dick Sheridan, of the Army, injured in the Yale game, and Connie Murphy, of Fordham, hurt during the last contest of the season against Bucknell.

This year only two college players have died from injuries received as football participants. Both were freshmen hurt during practice scrimmages.

All other deaths this season were in high school and sandlot games. Several were directly attributable to failure to provide players with proper equipment—a point emphasized in the new rules.

Head injuries and broken necks were the most frequent causes of death, although several boys died from internal injuries and others through infections of minor cuts and bruises.

Rentner Breaks Ribs; Through as Gridman

Chicago, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The collegiate football career of Ernest "Pug" Rentner, Northwestern's all-American halfback, was at an end today due to two broken ribs. He was injured in the first half in the game with Notre Dame Saturday. He will not be able to participate in the final game of the season next Saturday against Iowa.

Colgate Aims At Defensive Record

No Major Team in Decade Boasts No Alien Scores.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor).

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Colgate's Red Raiders, if they can hurdle the formidable Brown Bear on Thanksgiving Day in the climax football game for the only two remaining undefeated, untied Eastern teams, have a rare opportunity to finish the season with a spotless defensive record as well as in a blaze of championship glory.

No major team in the country, within the past ten years, has escaped without being scored on at least once. Colgate now is the only big college outfit remaining with an unblemished defensive record. Southern California kept up the pace until yielding to California the only touchdown tallied so far against the Trojans.

Elis of 1888 Held Foes Scoreless in 13 Games.

To discover anything like an impressive stretch of peerless defensive play, it is necessary to go back to the halcyon days, long before the open game broke down ancient defensive barriers. Back in 1888, W. H. (Pa) Corbin's Yale team, considered one of the greatest of all time, held its opponents absolutely scoreless in 13 games while rolling up 890 points. Michigan's 1901 aggregation, the first of four successive unbeaten Wolverine combinations, ran up 550 points to none for the enemy.

St. Mary's, of California, in 1929 came closest to a perfect defensive record in recent years, going through seven straight games without yielding a point, only to have a six scored against it while putting the University of Oregon to rout in the last game of the season.

Michigan's 1925 goal line was uncrossed, but the Wolverines lost their only game of the season to Northwestern on a field goal.

Best Recent Defensive Records Made by Dixie Teams.

Southern teams have posted the best defensive records among the unbeaten aggregations in the last two years. Alabama's all-conquering 1930 array yielded only 13 points in ten games, including the Rose Bowl classic, and the 1931 Tennessee team permitted only 15 points in ten games.

Alabama's 1925 team and California's 1923 Golden Bears each yielded only 7 points in nine games.

Chocolate Beats Nebo; Decision Is Unpopular

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Kid Chocolate, Havana Negro, received an unpopular decision over Pete Nebo, of Tampa, Fla., in a fast 10-round bout at the St. Nicholas Arena tonight. Chocolate weighed 129½ pounds; Nebo, 134¾.

Chocolate took considerable punishment in four of the first five rounds but staged a closing rally that won him the last five sessions and the decision. A part of the crowd booed heartily when the verdict was announced, although it appeared the Cuban had gained a slight edge by his rally in the latter stages of the bout.

Red Barry Victor On Technical K. O.

Capital Heavy Takes Bout When McCarthy Suffers Dislocated Shoulder.

Holyoke, Mass., Nov. 14.—Jack McCarthy, of Roxbury, was forced to quit in the ninth round of the main ten-round bout at the Valley Arena tonight in his fight against Donald ("Red") Barry, of Washington, D. C., when he sustained a dislocated left shoulder, thereby forfeiting the match to Barry. In the third round, McCarthy was floored for no count. Barry had all the best of the set-to, and would have undoubtedly been awarded the bout on points had not the accident occurred.

"Boss" Schmidt, Cobb's Nemesis In Fist Fights, Dies at Age of 52

ALTUS, Ark., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The baseball veteran, Charles (Boss) Schmidt, former catcher with the Detroit Tigers and later manager and coach of several other clubs, who claimed he was the only man who held a complete fistic triumph over Ty Cobb, died today.

As "Boss" whimsically put it, "I had to lick Ty three times to make him admit it."

Schmidt died in the home of a physician here, where he was taken when he became desperately ill of acute intestinal obstruction at Clarksville last night. He was 52 years old.

Schmidt played in three world series when Hughey Jennings was piloting the Bengals to pennants and when Ty Cobb, now in retirement, rated the reputation of the greatest ball player in the game. Many baseball writers ranked Schmidt among immortals of the diamond.

Breaking into organized baseball with Springfield, Ill., in 1901, Schmidt joined the Rock Island, Ill., club three years later. He then was purchased by Minneapolis, and the Detroit Tigers bought him at the end of his first season. He caught 146 games for the Tigers in 1907 and also caught three of the world series games that fall.

Later he played with Mobile, of the Southern Association, with the Vernon Club, of the Pacific, and then went to the Memphis Chicks, in the Southern. He made his managerial debut in 1910 with Sioux City, of the Western League. He coached for Brooklyn and managed Springfield in 1924, and then went to Kalamazoo as manager. He later piloted the St. Joseph and Fort Smith Clubs, of the Western League. In 1929 he took an assignment as coach of his old team, the Detroit Tigers, only recently returning to his home at Coal Hill, near Clarksville, Ark.

PRO GOLFERS GATHER AT PINEHURST

Smith, Kenwood Winner, Leads Vanguard to South.

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The clan of money golfers swooped down today on Pinehurst, the second stop of the fall and winter tournament circuit, for the Midsouth open which offers $2,500 prize money.

Leading the vanguard was Horton Smith, who captured first money last week in the opening fall tournament over the Kenwood course at Washington.

The Midsouth will be played tomorrow and Wednesday over the No. 2 course, counted the most difficult of the Pinehurst courses. As in the past, play will consist of thirty-six holes of best ball play on the opening day and thirty-six holes of individual competition on the second.

Mike Turnesa to Defend Title.

Last year's best ball play ended in a tie at 131 between the Willie Macfarlane-Wiffy Cox and Herman Barron-Tom Creavy teams.

Panama Al Brown, Ill, But Knocks out Pladner

Paris, Nov. 14 (U.P.).—Panama Al Brown, generally recognized as bantamweight champion of the world, knocked out Spider Pladner, of France in the second round of their match here tonight.

Brown was taken to the American Hospital after the fight suffering from a high fever.

A physician at the hospital said: "I am amazed that Brown had strength enough to climb into the ring, let alone knock anyone out. He must have been fighting on his heart alone."

Contest Offers Thanksgiving Grid Fill

AMERICAN people do two things on Thanksgiving. They see a good football game and partake of brown turkey. The Post is meeting them halfway this year, and offering tickets to the football game. They'll have to scare up their own turkey.

In other words, the game whose tickets have been chosen as prizes for the fifth week of The Washington Post Football Contests is the big intersectional clash between George Washington and Oklahoma on Turkey Day at Griffith Stadium. Four box seats are first prize; two grandstand seats, second prize, and one grandstand seat, third prize.

The contest is very simple. Below you will notice twelve football games to be played this Saturday. Jot down the scores you believe your favorite teams will win by. Mail the clipping to the Football Contest Editor of The Post, and don't forget to sign or print your name correctly, so's we'll know where to send the tickets.

Football Briefs

(Associated Press.)

New Brunswick, N. J.—Rutgers, Middle Three champion, went through a signal drill today in preparation for the Scarlet's closing game against Springfield.

New York—Columbia emerged from the grueling game with Brown in excellent shape and will be at full strength for the closing game with Syracuse. Lou Little, expecting the Orange to be tough, sent his charges through a long workout featured by dummy scrimmage.

West Point, N.Y.—Although Army worked out for 45 minutes, the session was conducted behind curtains and coaches declined to disclose what took place.

Ithaca, N. Y.—Cornell, aiming at the Thanksgiving Day battle with Penn, went through a light signal drill after hearing a lecture from Coach Gil Dobie. Jerry Brock and Bart Viviano suffered minor injuries in the Dartmouth game, but will be in shape for Penn.

New York—For the first time since the campaign opened, New York University was given a complete holiday. The Violets will begin work tomorrow in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day game with Carnegie Tech.

Philadelphia—Penn was given a holiday, but Harvey Harman found occasion to remark that his team's play against Ohio State indicated some changes might be necessary before the Cornell fray.

Philadelphia—Temple and Villanova drilled assiduously for their meeting Saturday. Villanova worked against a scrub team which used Temple plays. Temple practiced on a defense against forward passes.

New Haven, Conn.—Instead of an expected holiday, Yale was called upon to go through a snappy drill in preparation for the Harvard contest. Joe Crowley was back at his regular post at right half back, replacing Andy Callan, slightly injured in the Princeton game.

Hamilton, N. Y.—Andy Kerr deferred the start of Colgate practice for the Brown game until tomorrow. Every player came through the Syracuse game uninjured.

Worcester, Mass.—The Holy Cross Crusaders, determined to return to the victory road after successive defeats by Brown and Harvard, engaged in their hardest drill of the season. Bunny Corcoran, the new coach, stressed blocking in the two-hour session and kept the entire squad moving at top speed.

Cambridge, Mass.—The Harvard team started its final drive for the objective Yale game with a slightly changed back field. Arthur Barrett occupied the right half back berth. Charley Nevin, still suffering from a sprain, worked out lightly. The team was put through blocking and tackling drills, a long offense dummy scrimmage and a noncontact stand against the Yale method of attack.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Though tired after a long series of strenuous Saturdays, the Pitt Panthers were put through long practice by Jock Sutehrland today.

The workout included dummy scrimmage against Carnegie Tech plays—a tribute to the regard in which Sutherland holds the opponents of the week.

Scouts reported that Tech has held back all season to store up energy for the battle with Pitt.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The University of Michigan football squad prepared for its final Western Conference hurdle today by studying some new plays handed out by Coach Harry Kipke. In addition to the plays given out today, the Wolverines have up their sleeves for use against Minnesota Saturday some tricks which were not employed in the Chicago game last week.

CENTRAL AND GONZAGA CLASH

Tomorrow's Game to Feature Week's School Card.

SCHEDULE FOR THE WEEK.

WEDNESDAY.

Gonzaga vs. Central, at Central.

FRIDAY.

Landon vs. Severn Prep, at Annapolis.

Tech vs. Swavely Prep, at Manassas.

St. John's vs. Georgetown Prep.

St. Alban's vs. Christ Church, at St. Alban's.

GONZAGA brushes up against Central tomorrow in the latter's backyard to inaugurate the scholastic football program for the week. Five additional games are scheduled, all to be played Friday, three of which will be played on distant fields.

With another strong team representing it, Gonzaga figures to be one touchdown, and possibly two, better than Bert Coggins' hapless Central squad. The Purple scored an upset early in the season, leaving its imprint on Eastern's record in the guise of a 13-0 defeat. Only last week Eastern downed Central by the same score.

G. U. Preps at St. John's Friday.

Georgetown Prep comes to town Friday with some firecrackers it intends to set off under St. John's. Georgetown is undefeated thus far, and the Cadets do not appear to be capable of spoiling this fine record.

Victories over Gonzaga, Calvert Hall, Loyola and Mount St. Joseph's are prized possessions of the Garrett Parkers. St. John's has lost every game it has played this season, but the fighting spirit of the team augurs well for a hard-fought battle with the Suburbanites.

St. Alban's, originally scheduled to play Christ Church last week, meets the latter Friday. The game marks the renewal of an old and bitter, albeit, friendly rivalry. The contest should be well worth witnessing. St. Alban's defeated Church Farms School, of Philadelphia, last Saturday and appears to be at the top of its game.

U. S. Netmen Victors In South Wales Play

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Members of the touring United States tennis team today started competition in the New South Wales championships and all four won their first round matches.

H. Ellsworth Vines, jr., United States and Wimbledon champion, defeated Cliff Sproule, Australian Davis Cup player, 2—6, 6—2, 7—5, 6—3, 6—4. His doubles partner, Keith Gledhill, won from C. Donohoe 8—2, 9—7, 6—1, while Wilmer Allison disposed of Jack Willard 6—3, 3—6, 8—4, 6—2, and Johnny Van Ryn defeated W. Wilder 6—2, 6—1, 6—3.

In doubles, Vines and Gledhill defeated Dunn and Ward 8—4, 6—4, 7—7. Allison and Van Ryn conquered Dive and Peach 4—6, 8—1, 8—2, 4—6, 7—1.

Friday's Foes Use Rockne System

Cardinals Must Stop Silvo Zaninelli in Dukes' Backfield.

C.U. Handicapped in Kicking by Absence of McVean.

By BOB CONSIDINE

TWO of the best-coached Notre Dame system teams in the country will meet in Griffith Stadium Friday night when Catholic University entertains Duquesne in the local school's annual home-coming game. Trained down to a fine point of perfection by former Notre Dame University satellites, the two rough and ready squads are being counted upon to produce about the most evenly contested game seen here this season.

Duquesne, coached by one of the immortal Four Horsemen, Elmer Layden, who has rescued the Pittsburgh school from the depths of football despondency to an opponent respected in every class of competition. Last year when the Dukes were on the way to better times in the football world, Catholic University, in a resounding upset, defeated them by a 20-12 score.

Dukes Have Better Record This Year.

This season the record of the Dukes has been vastly better than the 1931 account turned in by the team. To date they have beaten Washington and Jefferson, West Virginia, South Dakota State, Oglethorpe and Grove City, and lost to West Virginia Wesleyan, by a 7-6 decision, and to Pittsburgh, by a handy margin. The 19-0 victory over Washington and Jefferson was particularly enjoyable, since W. and J. in turn defeated West Virginia Wesleyan, 20-0, and Bucknell, 12-0.

Tremendously pepped up to beat C. U., Duquesne will bring to Washington Friday night a splendid assortment of good football players. Outstanding in the Duquesne uniform this year, and perhaps the best all around player ever to play for the school, is Silvo Zaninelli. His personal duel with Tommy Whelan, C. U.'s nominee for All-America, should develop fireworks.

In one respect, and perhaps a vital one, Duquesne will have a forthright advantage. Since the injury of Charley McVean, the Cardinals have been functioning without a kicker. Against Providence last Saturday C. U. was often in straits over its punting. Duquesne has three regular back-field men who can boot them to all corners upon the least provocation. The leading kicker, of course, is Zaninelli, rated one of the longest kickers in the game today, while Larry Sullivan, midget quarter back, and Nick Niccoli, hefty half back, can back him up ably.

Sheary Cardinals' Lone Kicker.

Buster Sheary is C. U.'s lone regular line-up kicker. Tom Oliver can outdistance him, but has not the ball-carrying or blocking skill to permit his steady use in a back field that already boasts of Whelan, Sheary, Jankowski and Augusterfer.

Some of the other burly Duquesne Dukes are Capt. Able, big left end, and George Chaco.

Both teams will have to get along without one regular. Injuries received by Johnny Lyons, regular guard, in the Providence game will remove one familiar face from the C. U. line-up. Pawlina, regular Duquesne half back, is out with a broken leg, received in the South Dakota game. Lyons' place will be taken by Mack Billinger, 185-pound junior.

There is not much doubt that Catholic U.'s team will have to achieve the same competitive lather which

Mad Pursuit Beaten by Favorite

Dyak Takes Sprint From Vanderpool, Time, 1:11 3-5.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

THE light blue and brown of the Whitney holdings, which has played such a prominent role in the history of the Bowie race track, was borne to victory yesterday in the feature race of the first of two welfare day programs. Mad Frump supplied the speed and Jockey Albert Robertson, the expert handling which accounted for the Glen Echo, a test for 3-year-olds over the mile and 70-yard course. It was by the narrow margin of a neck that Mad Frump, a heavily played favorite, reached the finish ahead of Mad Pursuit, and it was fitting that two sons of Mad Hatter should battle it out for first money. The show end of the purse went to Curacao.

Nature lent a hand in helping the Bowie track and the public to aid the unemployment fund. The day was perfect for racing. A bright sun bore down into the grandstand and many of the 8,000 present wandered about the concrete lawn with overcoats unbuttoned.

Mad Hatter Colts Finish Like Team.

Curacao opened up a four-length lead on the field before reaching the clubhouse turn. Mad Frump was second and Mad Pursuit fourth. On the back stretch, Mad Frump and Mad Pursuit began to cut down the pacemaker's margin. However, the grand shuffle in the positions came in the last sixteenth, when the two Mad Hatter colts passed on either side of the tiring Curacao to fight it out in the closing strides.

Idle Stefan, energetically handled by the apprentice, Bellizzi, made a show of the field that faced the barrier in the opener. The B. B. Stable sent a well-conditioned maiden to the post and he led from flag fall to the finish. Metaurus, son of Sir Barton, was backed into favoritism and could only finish fourth. Second money went to Chance Meeting, which finished just ahead of St. Omer. The winner closed at 3 to 1 on the approximate odds board, but paid only $4.70.

Dyak, Well Played, Wins Second.

Dyak's odds dropped from 12 to 4 on the last run-down, and Buddy Hanford brought him home ahead of the favored Vander Pool in a rousing finish of the second race. Happy Scot, a long shot, was third. Dyak was tenth on the outside as the field started the trip up the back stretch. English Knight, Novelist and Vander Pool all had a crack at setting the pace before Hanford brought the winner up in the last sixteenth.

Band Wagon, half of the Grayson entry, scored an easy victory in the third race, another 6-furlong dash. The Strolling Player colt made every post a winning one, to lead the fast-finishing Snaplock to the wire. Liqueur, which forced the early pace of Band Wagon, was third. The heavily played Marooned stumbled just after the start and failed to make up ground.

Merry Fox gave a comical prerace show before the fourth, tossing Jockey Nertney to the ground. The colt ran half way around the track the wrong way and then jumped the fence and headed for the woods. Happy Gordon finally caught him with the lead pony.

Tambour, at Odds-On, Cops In Fourth.

Tambour won the race doing everything that could be asked of a 35-cents-on-the-dollar favorite. Valenciennes set the pace, followed by Tambour and Merry Fox. Tambour took the lead entering the stretch and Valenciennes dropped to third, behind Merry Fox. However, Valenciennes came again and Steffen caught Nertney, on Merry Fox, asleep to take the place.

CLOVERS START WORK.

Clover 145-pound quintet will practice tonight at 8 o'clock at Eastern High School. Breen, Dean, Finneran, Esenstad, Bodie and Garges are requested to report. "Preacher" Adkins will manage the team.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—IDLE STEFAN, $4.70, $3.10, $2.80; CHANCE MEETING, $3.80, $21.30; ST. OMER, $11.20.

IDLE STEFAN, permitted to take command and rated in front, resisted a stout effort from CHANCE MEETING when midway of the turn, saved ground and drew out steadily approaching the finish. CHANCE MEETING, in nearest pursuit of the winner throughout, weakened after five furlongs. ST. OMER worked his way up steadily, swung wide into the home stretch and held on well. METAURUS worked his way between horses after the break to enter contention, but lacked the threaten the leaders. XANDRA raced evenly. MOROCCO had no excuses. PERNICKITY was outrun. HELPFUL showed a flash of early speed.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $700; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 1:48½. Winner, Riverside Stable's b. c. (3), by Dodge—Quality, trained by R. Ward. Value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $60; fourth, $35. Time, 0:23, 0:46 3-5, 1:11 3-5.

*Field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DYAK, $13.50, $8.80, $4.60; VANDER POOL, $7.30, $3.70; HAPPY SCOTT, $6.70.

DYAK, unable to hold a forward position early, worked his way up on the outside, reached the leaders when straightened into the home stretch, and took command under pressure in the final sixteenth miles. VANDER POOL circled his company to trail down NOVELIST, but could not stall off the winner when taking a brief lead. HAPPY SCOT, forced to race on the outside, closed with good courage. NOVELIST weakened after racing GOLD STEP and CONTRIBUTE into defeat. KHORASAN finished strong. THE POINT tired in the final drive, as did CONTRIBUTE. GOLD STEP weakened early. ENGLISH KNIGHT quit badly.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $700; allowances. The Thichester. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won handily; place, driving. Went to post at 2:20. Off at 2:20. Winner, C. T. Grayson's ch. c. (3), by Strolling Player—Heslet. Trained by M. Lowenstein. Value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $60; fourth, $35. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 2-5, 1:12 1-5.

†C. T. Grayson entry.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—BAND WAGON (C. T. Grayson entry), $8.70, $3.70, $3.70; SNAPLOCK, $7.70, $6.30; LIQUEUR, $8.20.

BAND WAGON, having good speed after the start, withstood early contention from LIQUEUR and, holding on stoutly, held SNAPLOCK safe in the final drive. SNAPLOCK worked his way into contention stoutly after the opening furlong, saved a bit of ground entering the home stretch, and was held safe in the closing furlong. LIQUEUR followed close up, made a determined effort when straightened into the home stretch, and held on stoutly. CHATTERPOL, slugish in reaching full stride, came to the outside and finished gamely. MAROONED stumbled directly after the start and raced evenly. LAZI CANTER broke slowly, was blocked when leaving the back stretch, and then came very wide. HOPE TO DO and BOLD LOVER stopped.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000; allowances. The Carolina. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 2:51. Off at 2:55. Winner, P. M. Bureh's b. f. (4), by General Thatchet—Castanet. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $700; second, $180; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:25, 0:50 2-5, 1:16, 1:43 2-5, 1:48 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—TAMBOUR, $2.70, $2.10, $2.10; VALENCIENNES, $2.40, $2.20; MERRY FOX, $3.80.

TAMBOUR, taken under strong restraint while racing close to VALENCIENNES, took command without effort when approaching the home stretch and had speed in reserve at the end. VALENCIENNES, taking command under suffrance, was rated in front, dropped back midway of the far turn, and came again right at the end. MERRY FOX unseated his rider when leaving the paddock, vaulted the fence on the back stretch to enter into a pasture. He raced forwardly placed and fought it out gamely. VILLAGE VAMP and SWATTER were unable to improve their positions.

FIFTH RACE—Mile and seventy yards. Purse, $1,000; allowances. The Glen Echo. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:24. Off at 3:25½. Winner, C. V. Whitney's ch. b. c. (3), by Mad Hatter—Frumpery. Trained by T. J. Healey. Value to winner, $700; second, $180; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24, 0:48 3-5, 1:13 2-5, 1:39 3-5, 1:44 1-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—MAD FRUMP, $3.20, $2.80, $2.10; MAD PURSUIT, $3.70, $2.50; CURACAO, $2.80.

MAD FRUMP, kept under urging in the early stages, swung to the outside of CURACAO, wore the latter down and just lasted to stall off MAD PURSUIT. Latter, rated along for the first six furlongs, entered contention when leaving the back stretch, came through on the inside of the pacemakers during the stretch run and finished strong. CURACAO went into an early lead, was steadied until challenged and held on with good energy. MARMION could not threaten the leaders. POLO BAR finished resolutely.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $700; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:54. Off at 3:54½. Winner, E. E. Smallman's br. f. (4), by Chatterton—Chipella. Trained by O. Alexandra. Value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $60; fourth, $25. Time, 0:24 3-5, 0:49, 1:14 2-5, 1:41, 1:47 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DEEDIE, $3.80, $3.20, $2.70; ROYAL RUFFIN, $3.80, $3.30; BLONDISH, $5.30.

DEEDIE, away well, but slow to settle in full stride, dropped back badly when reaching the back stretch, was placed to punishment and, coming through on the inside of her field when entering the home stretch, finished fast to get up in the final sixteenth mile. ROYAL RUFFIN moved around his field with a rush, gained a brief lead, but could not stall off the winner. BLONDISH, kept close up early, responded willingly. MOVE FASTER, a keen factor this entire trip, was raising stoutly at the end. TETRARCHAL, BOSCOBEL and A LA CARTE raced each other into submission and they weakened badly. CAMP PRINCE could not stay.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $700; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:28. Off at 4:28½. Winner, R. E. Simpson's ch. h. (7), by Tryster—Bellolar. Trained by P. B. Codd. Value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:24 2-5, 0:49 2-5, 1:14 3-5, 1:42, 1:55 3-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SOLACE, $6.10, $4.20, $2.80; BUSHMAN, $6.20, $3.90; MODERN TIMES, $4.40.

SOLACE, favored by improved handling and avoiding interference at the first turn, displaced POLITEN after six furlongs, saved ground and, strongly ridden, outstayed BUSHMAN. Latter, badly blocked when entering the back stretch and forced to be taken up sharply, recovered and closed full of run while taking a wide course. MODERN TIMES, hurried the entire trip, held on courageously for the final test. POLITEN went forwardly and had no excuses. BUBOLA weakened when the real test came. ROLLING SEA was outrun after breaking slowly. SKID stopped.

CLOSE RACES IN SOCCER LEAGUES

Capital City, Recreation Teams Battle Neck and Neck.

RACES for top honors in both the Recreation and Capital City Soccer Leagues are at fever pitch. In the former circuit Rosedale, Virginia Avenue and Park View are in a neck-and-neck battle and in the latter Marlboro, Columbia Heights Grays, Rockville and Gaithersburg are strong contenders. Rosedale is the actual leader in the Recreation loop, while Marlboro and the Heights Grays are tied for the top in the Capital City.

The long looked for game in the Recreation League will take place Sunday when Rosedale and Virginia Avenue meet. Neither of these teams has been defeated, although Rosedale has a tie game against it.

Park View, N. Y. Avenue Teams Meet.

Park View and New York Avenue are also billed to meet in a game that is expected to have considerable bearing on the first half of the schedule. Both of these games will be played on the Monument Grounds. Chevy Chase will play Bloomingdale at Chevy Chase.

In the Capital City League the strong and the weak will be pitted as it so happens. Rockville plays the Columbia Heights Blacks, Gaithersburg plays Concord and Columbia Heights Grays play Brandywine. Not until a week later will the fans have the best of the Capital City matches. Referees will be announced later in the week for both leagues.

The standing of the leagues follows:

MARYLAND A. C. DRILLS.

All members of the Maryland A. C. football team are requested to report tonight at 7:30 o'clock for practice at Bost Pleasant. Maryland defeated the highly touted Walbrook eleven, of Baltimore, by a score of 7-to-0, Sunday, and hopes to repeat its victory when the Maryland All-Stars visit Bost Pleasant this week.

LABOR WINS OPENER.

With Newlon leading the scoring, the Department of Labor quintet opened its season with a 23-to-14 victory over the Coast Artillery five last night. Newlon scored 12 points. Mc-Gay was best for the losers. For games with the winners, call Atlantic 1992-W.

AT THE POST

DEAR AL: BOWIE RACE TRACK.

With this track the only course in operation with the exception of Tanforan on the West Coast, there is more horseflesh here and hereabouts than ever before. Every stall for miles around is filled and horses are being vanned daily from Pimlico, Laurel and Benning for engagements. The situation is tough on the owners of platers. Today's official entry sheet told a story. Seventy-seven more horses were named for the third race than could be entered and of the eighteen listed six are in the also eligible group. Fifty-six were forced out of the second. The seventh race was split and, after eighteen had been put in the sixth and a like number in the seventh, there were still 40 horses left out in the cold. The claiming races should bring some keen contests. Shipping money is needed by many stables. BILL.

FIRST RACE—TRUE SENTIMENT drops down into a field where I can hardly see him missing. Ran close to high-grade juveniles in New York last summer. FAIR BILLY can improve a little and take the place. MISS TENNIE, which is as big as her name implies, showed flashes of speed at Pimlico and may be the dangerous one.

SECOND RACE—WISE COUNT is as fit as he could be. Gets my call here over VACILLATE. SEA FOX has been trying to reach winning form for some time. With the fall season almost over, he looks like an across-the-board shot here.

THIRD RACE—DROMBO turned out to be a smart juvenile after leaving Maryland last spring. Comes back today and I'm forced to give this one a chance to be my long-priced winner. GRACE R and LERACK to battle it out for the rest.

SIXTH RACE—JOHN F looks best here. Figures on top and should add a set of brackets. AYMOND beat platers in Canada and I hear the stable has better things ahead. Might be worth tabbing. MOUTHPIECE for the show.

SEVENTH RACE—QUARTER DECK was well played the last time and got nothing. Possibly it was only the public money that was riding. PAPYROGRAPH for the place. HAPPY PLAY was well meant the last time but developed leg trouble. If in shape may be dangerous.

Navy Win Would Complete Happiness of Reed's "Ma"

Mother of Tar Grid Leader to See Notre Dame Game in Cleveland Saturday; Is Proud of Jimmy.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—There is only one thing that could make Mrs. James A. Reedy happier, and that is for the Navy to beat Notre Dame when the two teams meet here in the stadium Saturday.

A few years ago Mrs. Reedy listened to an Army-Navy game broadcast and said to her husband, "It must make parents proud to have a son good enough to play on a big team like the Army or Navy."

Now Mrs. Reedy is one of the proudest of the proud. Her son, James, not only is a member of the Middy team that is coming to his home town to play, but he also is captain of that eleven.

Reedy Family to Turn Out En Masse.

And the Reedy family is planning to turn out en masse. In the Reedy rooting section, besides Mary, 26, and Helen, 16, is 3-year-old Catherine, fat and chubby and the favorite of the big brother.

It will be the second time Mr. and Mrs. Reedy have seen their son in action on a college gridiron. Last year at Ohio State Mrs. Reedy had some uncomfortable moments when her son was carried off the field in an unconscious condition.

But the mother has seen her son in action other times innumerable, for she became an ardent football fan when "Jim" was a star of West Tech High School in Cleveland.

It was then that her ambition was born to see her son become a stellar performer on a big college eleven.

She and her husband were in Annapolis when Reedy "went out for" the team in his sophomore year. They saw "Jim" and 250 other huskies engage in their first practice session, and Mrs. Reedy admits she was faint hearted when she saw all this competition.

Outstanding at Navy for Three Years.

But "Jim" not only "made" the team, but has been one of the Navy's outstanding players for three years.

"I don't know whether they are good enough to beat those Notre Dame boys—that is a mighty hard assignment—but Jim and his gang will give them a real fight," Mrs. Reedy declares.

Meanwhile the recent elections and the war debt situation are crowded out of the Reedy family conversation by football. The family talks football at breakfast, dinner and supper.

50,000 Tickets Sold For Navy-Irish Game

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 14 (U.P.).—Although his team handed Northwestern its worst defeat of the year Saturday, 21 to 0, Coach Hunk Anderson is still dissatisfied with Notre Dame's running attack.

He let those who played Saturday, exactly two teams, rest today, but busily pored over his scouting notes for next Saturday's game with Navy at Cleveland. More than 50,000 tickets already have been sold for the game.

"We've been mighty lucky so far," he said. "Our running attack hasn't functioned against either Kansas or Northwestern, except in brilliant spots, when a pass worked or a ball carrier got away for a long run. We went all right against Pitt, but could not do anything in scoring territory.

...ks Retreat Two Points After Realizing Onslaught

Defe... Professional Selling Is Aid in Declines; Turnover, 1,307,145 Shares.

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Stocks retreated today from the more advanced positions occupied last week.

It was a slow, if general, decline, and few active issues yielded in excess of a point or two.

With so lively a rally just behind it, the stock market probably encountered realizing and professional selling. Many brokers thought uncertainties created by the debt matter had made for hesitation, if not unsettlement. Also some bank suspensions occurred in scattered sections. Trade news was of scant market significance. Volume dropped to 1,307,145 shares.

Coca Cola, dipping nearly 7 points, reflected speculative disappointment over the company's smaller earnings and the omission of what had come to be a regular extra quarterly dividend of 25 cents. The company in the first nine months covered its regular payment with something to spare, but third-quarter net equal to $2.15 a share on the common contrasted with $3.28 for the second and $3.98 a year ago. Presumably traders interested in soft drink stocks have not been deaf to the current beer gossip.

The market tried two or three recovery movements, but rose only very far toward eliminating its early losses and in the late trading was heavy, although final prices were largely above the lows. U. S. Steel common, touching 37½, was down little more than a point net. Bethlehem, American Can, North American, Westinghouse, Harvester, National Biscuit, Sears Roebuck, United Aircraft, General Motors, du Pont and General Electric were off 1 to 2, while slightly larger losses appeared for American Telephone, Allied Chemical and Auburn. Union Pacific, Case and American Tobacco "B" sagged approximately 3 net. The rail group was sluggish and heavy, although its losses conformed to the general pattern.

Sudden revival of the foreign debt question provided the day's chief topic of conversation in financial quarters, which did not fail to note the indications of a congressional controversy over the matter. Hope was expressed in some quarters that an international conference on the whole problem could result. Wall street went home without definite knowledge as to the nature of Gov. Roosevelt's reply to President Hoover's conference invitation.

Steel operations go into the new week supported chiefly by automobile orders for new model materials. The trade magazine Steel said that thus far the national election had had no effect on the markets "except the negative one of prolonging the indifference of most buyers."

Stocks.

Realizing and professional selling sent prices down 2 points. Uncertainities over debt matters were blamed. The turnover amounted to 1,307,145 shares.

Bonds.

The market sagged under sales pressure against speculative loans. The average loss was .3 of a point. Caution marked trading. Sales reached $7,277,000.

Curb

A backwash of selling clipped prices from fractions to several points. Utilities were the principal targets. Oils closed steady. Sales totaled 210,000 shares.

Wheat

Aggressive buying sent wheat prices to highest level in two months. The heavier gains were lost later in trading. December deliveries sold at 45⅞ to 46 cents. Other grains were up.

Cotton

Moderate declines followed renewal of hedging and liquidating. Losses on other exchanges were blamed. December sold at 6.28. Liverpool reported Bombay buying.

BOND MARKET SAGS ON SALES PRESSURE

Loss Reaches Three-Tenths as Turnover Rises to $7,277,000.

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The bond market moved about nervously today and conflicting trends gave the price picture a rather spotty appearance.

While moderate pressure was exerted against various semispeculative groups, high-grade investment issues held to a fairly steady position with fraction gains and losses about evenly divided.

Caution marked the trading throughout and the sales volume dwindled to $7,277,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate bonds, however, recorded a decline of three-tenths of a point.

Of paramount interest to senior security holders were the negotiations of Great Britain and France with Washington regarding postponement and revision of war debt charges due America next month.

United States Government bonds were a trifle uneasy, most of the Treasury maturities selling off fractionally, while the Liberty loans were not unusually active but slightly firmer.

A few of the low-priced rails were quite heavy at times, although there were some small recoveries near the close of the session. Among the losers of a point or more were some liens of Allegheny Corporation, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake Corporation, Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island, Denver & Rio Grande, Erie, Great Northern, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, Nickel Plate, Pennsylvania and Texas & Pacific. Loans of many other roads were irregular.

American & Foreign Power, Utilities Power & Light, and International Telephone issues were among the weak utilities. Most of the better power and light companies were steady. Gains were registered by loans of Loew's, Texas Corporation, Goodrich, Chile Copper and National Steel.

The foreign department was dull and generally easier. The heaviest of this group were the Germans and Argentines. British 5½s, after early weakness, rallied to close unchanged.

Banks to Pay $440,000,000 In Christmas Club Checks

New York, Nov. 14 (U.P.).—American business will receive a powerful stimulant within the next two weeks —$440,000,000 in Christmas Club checks to be mailed to 10,500,000 members by 7,000 banks.

Although the business depression reduced the fund distribution 26 per cent from the 1931 total, bankers believe the average payment of $42 a member this year will represent more purchasing power than the larger average payment last season. Each dollar will buy more.

The savings clubs, established 22 years ago to provide holiday nest eggs, have gradually turned into other channels. This year it is estimated that only 38 per cent of the total will be used directly for Christmas purchases. About 28 per cent will be placed in permanent savings accounts and investments, 11 per cent will go for year-end commitments, and 10 per cent will pay tax bills.

Smaller amounts will be used for mortgage payments, insurance premiums, education, travel and charity.

Many depositors, bankers say, have adopted the Christmas club as an easy method of systematically accumulating funds in small weekly deposits for constructive uses. They minimize the 12 per cent decline in membership this year.

In the distribution of Christmas club payments New York State led again this year with $94,710,000, while Pennsylvania was second with $53,922,000 and New Jersey third with $35,088,000. In the New York City metropolitan district depositors will receive $62,000,000.

The Bank of America National Trust & Savings Association, through its 395 branches in California, will distribute about $5,000,000. The Bank of Manhattan Trust Co. has more than $3,000,000 ready for its 80,000 members, and the First National Bank of Detroit has $2,900,000 available for 73,000 persons.

Estimated total distributions by districts throughout the country follow:

New England, $53,747,400; Middle Atlantic, $183,720,000; East North Central, $101,892,800; West North Central, $19,409,480; South Atlantic, $36,173,600; East South Central, $10,088,000; West South Central, $11,917,600; Mountain, $6,529,900, and Pacific, $17,351,400.

Minneapolis, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Flour, 15 cents higher. Carload lots, family patents, 4.10@4.20 a barrel in 98-pound cotton sacks. Shipments, 23,776. Bran, 8.50@9.00.

Philadelphia, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Flour, soft winter, straight, Western, 3.30@3.35; nearby, 3.10@3.25; hard winter, 95 per cent, 3.30@3.40; short patent, 3.40@3.50; spring, first, clear, 3.40@3.70; standard patent, 3.60@3.85; short patent, 4.00@4.25; family brands, 4.80@5.50.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London—Trading was quiet and prices moved irregularly during most of the session on the stock exchange. Early firmness in gilt-edged securities was not maintained although sterling exchange was steadier on foreign buying. Gold mining shares were in good demand while other sections yielded on realizing. The closing was easy.

Paris—Trading on the bourse was hesitant pending the French budget terms and the latest events in Germany. Profit-taking caused losses in most sections, but recent gains, however, were partially held. The closing was heavy.

Berlin—Trading was listless on the boerse due to the political uncertainty. The market closed weaker.

U. S. TREASURY RECEIPTS.

(Associated Press.)

Treasury receipts for November 11 were $3,626,685.68; expenditures, $13,855,913.15; balance $674,995,899.43; customs duties for eleven days of November were $9,970,442.83.

GOLD MOVEMENT.

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The only change in today's gold statement of the New York Federal Reserve Bank was an importation of $9,600 from Mexico. There were no exports or change in earmarked stock.

CURB PRICES DOWN ON SELLING DRIVES

Drops Up to Several Points Recorded in Sales of 210,000 Shares.

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The curb market encountered a backwash of selling today, sending prices of leading shares down from fractions to several points. Transfers totaled 210,000 shares, against 280,000 on Friday.

Electric Bond & Share, which had advanced late last week in fairly heavy trading, was the principal selling target. The common stock gave up nearly 5 points. Its weakness was attributed to reports of probable unfavorable dividend action by some of its affiliated companies, although nothing official on this point was available until after the market closed.

After the close, however, United Gas Co. cut its $1.75 quarterly preferred dividend in half, such action having been foreshadowed by a break of 8 points in the stock. General Power & Light, which controls United Gas, holds a dividend meeting next week, and there was some discussion of possible reduction or omission of that company's second preferred dividend. Directors of Electric Bond & Share, which controls Electric Power & Light, meet next Wednesday. The company is currently paying a common dividend of 6 per cent, payable in common stock.

Other utilities were reasonably steady. American Gas & Electric yielded about 3 points, but American Superpower, Cities Service, Niagara Hudson Power and United Light & Power A confined their losses to fractions.

The oils were steady in light trading. Standard of Indiana and Gulf were unchanged. Among industrials, Aluminum Co. gave up 5 points. Swift Internacional encountered a flurry of selling which erased more than a point from that stock's recent gains.

Deere & Co. and Newmont Mining, two unusually active stocks, each lost more than a point.

Autumn Furniture Sales At Jamestown Increase

Jamestown, N. Y., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—More business was placed in the first four days of the fall Jamestown furniture market than in the entire two weeks of the spring showing, market officials announced today.

The market opened last Wednesday. Buyers from sixteen States and Canada were reported optimistic as to business conditions. Seventy manufacturers are showing.

This is the first of the major markets to open since an upward trend was noted in business and the furniture trade was reported watching it for signs of business revival.

WHEAT VALUES RISE ON EASTERN BUYING

Heaviest Gains in 2 Months Trimmed in Trading; Other Gains Up.

Chicago, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Aggressive buying largely on Eastern orders jumped wheat values today to the topmost point reached in more than two months, but later the gains crumbled.

Influenced by New York stock market downturns, many wheat operators who earlier had espoused the purchase side turned sellers. The transient advance of wheat was associated in great degree with a statement, issued by one of the biggest houses in the trade, that definite European steps for readjusting of war debts were a distinctly favorable move toward settlement of the world economic crisis.

Following late reactions, wheat closed unsettled at the same as Saturday's finish to ⅜ higher; corn, also unchanged to ⅜ up; oats, unchanged to ⅛ advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 20 cents.

Setbacks in Values.

Late setbacks of wheat values were in the face of predictions by eminent authorities that thrashing returns would show United States 1932 spring wheat yields had been officially overestimated 30,000,000 bushels. Bearish behavior of securities both early and late formed a decided handicap to wheat bulls, and 2 points upturn in British exchange rates failed to act as an offset. Nevertheless the bullish construction placed on developments regarding war debts lifted wheat prices temporarily almost 2 cents a bushel from the day's bottom level.

A feature of bullish statements about war debts was that the international situation had been an element of uncertainty checking any effort at general world relief, but that the problem now came forward in such shape that it must be weighed in the light of reason instead of emotion, and not hidden and avoided. Severe winter weather curtailing wheat receipts north and south of the Canadian boundary were also emphasized together with reports of persistent drought in United States winter crop territory southwest. One private report indicated 9,000,000 acres were affected by the drought.

Corn and oats swayed with wheat. Shipping and export demand for corn failed to follow price upturns.

Mad Pursuit Beaten by Favorite

By WALTER HAIGHT.

THE light blue and brown of the Whitney holdings, which has played such a prominent role in the history of the Bowie race track, was borne to victory yesterday in the feature race of the first of two welfare day programs. Mad Frump supplied the speed and Jockey Albert Robertson, the expert handling which accounted for the Glen Echo, a test for 3-year-olds over the mile and 70-yard course. It was by the narrow margin of a neck that Mad Frump, a heavily played favorite, reached the finish ahead of Mad Pursuit, and it was fitting that two sons of Mad Hatter should battle it out for first money. The show end of the purse went to Curacao.

Nature lent a hand in helping the Bowie track and the public to aid the unemployment fund. The day was perfect for racing. A bright sun bore down into the grandstand and many of the 8,000 present wandered about the concrete lawn with overcoats unbuttoned.

Mad Hatter Colts Finish Like Team.

Curacao opened up a four-length lead on the field before reaching the clubhouse turn. Mad Frump was second and Mad Pursuit fourth. On the back stretch, Mad Frump and Mad Pursuit began to cut down the pacemaker's margin. However, the grand shuffle in the positions came in the last sixteenth, when the two Mad Hatter colts passed on either side of the tiring Curacao to fight it out in the closing strides.

Idle Stefan, energetically handled by the apprentice, Bellizzi, made a show of the field that faced the barrier in the opener. The B. B. Stable sent a well-conditioned maiden to the post and he led from flag fall to the finish. Metaurus, son of Sir Barton, was backed into favoritism and could only finish fourth. Second money went to Chance Meeting, which finished just ahead of St. Omer. The winner closed at 3 to 1 on the approximate odds board, but paid only $4.70.

Dyak, Well Played, Wins Second.

Dyak's odds dropped from 12 to 4 on the last run-down, and Buddy Hanford brought him home ahead of the favored Vander Pool in a rousing finish of the second race. Happy Scot, a long shot, was third. Dyak was tenth on the outside as the field started the trip up the back stretch. English Knight, Novelist and Vander Pool all had a crack at setting the pace before Hanford brought the winner up in the last sixteenth.

Band Wagon, half of the Grayson entry, scored an easy victory in the third race, another 6-furlong dash. The Strolling Player colt made every post a winning one, to lead the fast-finishing Snaplock to the wire. Liqueur, which forced the early pace of Band Wagon, was third. The heavily played Marooned stumbled just after the start and failed to make up ground.

Merry Fox gave a comical prerace show before the fourth, tossing Jockey Nertney to the ground. The colt ran half way around the track the wrong way and then jumped the fence and headed for the woods. Happy Gordon finally caught him with the lead pony.

Tambour, at Odds-On, Cops In Fourth.

Tambour won the race doing everything that could be asked of a 35-cents-on-the-dollar favorite. Valenciennes set the pace, followed by Tambour and Merry Fox. Tambour took the lead entering the stretch and Valenciennes dropped to third, behind Merry Fox. However, Valenciennes came again and Steffen caught Nertney, on Merry Fox, asleep to take the place.

CLOVERS START WORK.

Clover 145-pound quintet will practice tonight at 8 o'clock at Eastern High School. Breen, Dean, Finneran, Esenstad, Bodie and Garges are requested to report. "Preacher" Adkins will manage the team.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—IDLE STEFAN, $4.70, $3.10, $2.80; CHANCE MEETING, $3.80, $21.30; ST. OMER, $11.30.

IDLE STEFAN, permitted to take command and rated in front, resisted a stout effort from CHANCE MEETING when midway of the turn, saved ground and drew out gradually approaching the finish. CHANCE MEETING, in clearest pursuit of the winner throughout, weakened after five furlongs. ST. OMER, reared his way up steadily, swung wide into the home stretch and held on well. METAURUS worked his way between horses after the break to enter contention, but could not threaten the leaders. XANDRA raced evenly. MOROCCO had no excuses. PERNICKETY was outrun. HELPFUL showed a flash of early speed.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $700; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 1:48½. Off at 1:49. Winner, Riverglade Stable's b. c. (3), by Dodge—Quality. Trained by E. W. Ward. Value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $60; fourth, $35. Time, 0:23, 0:46 3-5, 1:11 3-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DYAK, $13.80, $8.80, $4.60; VANDER POOL, $7.30, $3.70; HAPPY SCOTT, $6.70.

DYAK, unable to hold a forward position early, worked his way up on the outside, reached the leaders when straightened into the home stretch, and took command under pressure in the final sixteenth miles. VANDER POOL circled his company to vie with NOVELIST, but could not stall off the winner when taking a fatal lead. HAPPY SCOT, forced to race on the outside, closed with good courage. NOVELIST weakened after racing GOLD STEP and CONTRIBUTE into defeat. KHORASAN finished strong. THE POINT tired in the final drive, as did CONTRIBUTE. GOLD STEP weakened early. ENGLISH KNIGHT quit badly.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $700; allowances. The Tribhester. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won handily; place, driving. Went to post at 2:19. Off at 2:20. Winner, C. T. Grayson's ch. c. (3), by Strolling Player—Heslet. Trained by M. Lowenstein. Value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $60; fourth, $35. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 2-5, 1:12 1-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—BAND WAGON (C. T. Grayson entry), $6.70, $3.70, $3.70; SNAPLOCK, $7.70, $6.30; LIQUEUR, $8.20.

BAND WAGON, having good speed after the start, withstood early contention from LIQUEUR and, holding on stoutly, held SNAPLOCK safe in the final drive. SNAPLOCK worked his way into contention stoutly after the opening furlong, saved a lot of ground entering the home stretch, and was held safe in the closing furlong. LIQUEUR followed close up, made a determined effort when straightened into the home stretch, but could not stall off the winner. BLONDISH, kept close up during, finished willingly. MOVE FASTER, a keen factor the entire trip, was racing stoutly at the end. TETRARCHAL, BOSCOBEL and A LA CARTE raced each other into submission and they weakened badly. CAMP PRINCE could not stay.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $700; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:28. Off at 4:28½. Winner, H. J. Simpson's ch. h. (7), by Trojan—Bellsolar. Trained by P. B. Codd. Value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $60; fourth, $35. Time, 0:24 2-5, 0:49 2-5, 1:14 3-5, 1:42, 1:55 3-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SOLACE, $6.10, $4.20, $2.80; BUSHMAN, $6.20, $3.90; MODERN TIMES, $4.40.

SOLACE, favored by improved handling and avoiding interferences at the first turn, displaced POLITEN after six furlongs, saved ground and, strongly ridden, outstayed BUSHMAN. Latter, badly blocked when entering the back stretch and forced to be taken up sharply, recovered and closed full of run while taking a wide course. MODERN TIMES, hurried the entire trip, held on courageously for the final test. POLITEN went forwardly and had no excuses. BUBOLA weakened when the real test came. ROLLING SEA was outrun after breaking slowly. SKID stopped.

CLOSE RACES IN SOCCER LEAGUES

Capital City, Recreation Teams Battle Neck and Neck.

RACES for top honors in both the Recreation and Capital City Soccer Leagues are at fever pitch. In the former circuit Rosedale, Virginia Avenue and Park View are in a neck-and-neck battle and in the latter Marlboro, Columbia Heights Grays, Rockville and Gaithersburg are strong contenders. Rosedale is the actual leader in the Recreation loop, while Marlboro and the Heights Grays are tied for the top in the Capital City.

The long looked for game in the Recreation League will take place Sunday when Rosedale and Virginia Avenue meet. Neither of these teams has been defeated, although Rosedale has a tie game against it.

Park View, N. Y. Avenue Teams Meet.

Park View and New York Avenue are also billed to meet in a game that is expected to have considerable bearing on the first half of the schedule. Both of these games will be played on the Monument Grounds. Chevy Chase will play Bloomingdale at Chevy Chase.

In the Capital City League the strong and the weak will be pitted as it so happens. Rockville plays the Columbia Heights Blacks, Gaithersburg plays Concord and Columbia Heights Grays play Brandywine. Not until a week later will the fans have the best of the Capital City matches. Referees will be announced later in the week for both leagues.

MARYLAND A. C. DRILLS.

All members of the Maryland A. C. football team are requested to report tonight at 7:30 o'clock for practice at Seat Pleasant. Maryland defeated the highly touted Walbrook eleven, of Baltimore, by a score of 7-to-0, Sunday, and hopes to repeat its victory when the Maryland All-Stars visit Seat Pleasant this week.

LABOR WINS OPENER.

With Newlon leading the scoring, the Department of Labor quintet opened its season with a 23-to-14 victory over the Coast Artillery five last night. Newlon scored 12 points. McGay was best for the losers. For games with the winners, call Atlantic 1302-W.

DEAR AL: BOWIE RACE TRACK.

With this track the only course in operation with the exception of Tanforan on the West Coast, there is more horseflesh here and hereabouts than ever before. Every stall for miles around is filled and horses are being vanned daily from Pimlico, Laurel and Benning for engagements. The situation is tough on the owners of platers. Today's official entry sheet told a story. Seventy-seven more horses were named for the third race than could be entered and of the eighteen listed six are in the also eligible group. Fifty-six were forced out of the second. The seventh race was split and, after eighteen had been put in the sixth and a like number in the seventh, there were still 46 horses left out in the cold. The claiming races should bring some keen contests. Shipping money is needed by many stables.

BILL.

FIRST RACE—TRUE SENTIMENT drops down into a field where I can hardly see him missing. Ran close to high-grade juveniles in New York last summer. FAIR BILLY can improve a little and take the place. MISS TEENIE, which is as big as her name implies, showed flashes of speed at Pimlico and may be the dangerous one.

SECOND RACE—WISE COUNT is as fit as he could be. Gets my call here over YACHLAKE. SEA FOX has been trying to reach winning form for some time. With the fall season almost over, he looks like an across-the-board shot here.

THIRD RACE—DROMBO turned out to be a smart juvenile after leaving Maryland last spring. Comes back today and I'm forced to give this one a chance to be my long-priced winner. GRACE R and LE-RACK to battle it out for the rest.

SIXTH RACE—JOHN F looks best here. Figures on top and should add a set of brackets. AYMOND beat platers in Canada and I hear the stable has better things ahead. Might be worth tabbing. MOUTHPIECE for the show.

SEVENTH RACE—QUARTER DECK was well played the last time and got nothing. Possibly it was only the public money that was riding. PAPYROGRAPH for the place. HAPPY PLAY was well meant the last time but developed leg trouble. If in shape may be dangerous.

Navy Win Would Complete Happiness of Reed's "Ma"

Mother of Tar Grid Leader to See Notre Dame Game in Cleveland Saturday; Is Proud of Jimmy.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—There is only one thing that could make Mrs. James A. Reedy happier, and that is for the Navy to beat Notre Dame when the two teams meet here in the stadium Saturday.

A few years ago Mrs. Reedy listened to an Army-Navy game broadcast and said to her husband, "It must make parents proud to have a son good enough to play on a big team like the Army or Navy."

Now Mrs. Reedy is one of the proudest of the proud. Her son, James, not only is a member of the Middy team that is coming to his home town to play, but he also is captain of that eleven.

Reedy Family to Turn Out En Masse.

And the Reedy family is planning to turn out en masse. In the Reedy rooting section, besides Mary, 26, and Helen, 16, is 2-year-old Catherine, fat and chubby and the favorite of the big brother.

It will be the second time Mr. and Mrs. Reedy have seen their son in action on a college gridiron. Last year at Ohio State Mrs. Reedy had some uncomfortable moments when her son was carried off the field in an unconscious condition.

But the mother has seen her son in action other times innumerable, for she became an ardent football fan when "Jim" was a star of West Tech High School in Cleveland.

It was then that her ambition was born to see her son become a stellar performer on a big college eleven.

She and her husband were in Annapolis when Reedy "went out for" the team in his sophomore year. They saw "Jim" and 250 other huskies engage in their first practice session, and Mrs. Reedy admits she was faint hearted when she saw all this competition.

Outstanding at Navy for Three Years.

But "Jim" not only "made" the team, but has been one of the Navy's outstanding players for three years.

"I don't know whether they are good enough to beat those Notre Dame boys—that is a mighty hard assignment—but Jim and his gang will give them a real fight," Mrs. Reedy declares.

Meanwhile the recent elections and the war debt situation are crowded out of the Reedy family conversation by football. The family talks football at breakfast, dinner and supper.

He let those who played Saturday, exactly two teams, rest today, but busily pored over his scouting notes for next Saturday's game with Navy at Cleveland. More than 50,000 tickets already have been sold for the game.

"We've been mighty lucky so far," he said. "Our running attack hasn't functioned against either Kansas or Northwestern, except in brilliant spots, when a pass worked or a ball carrier got away for a long run. We went all right against Pitt, but could not do anything in scoring territory.

"Navy is at the peak of its form right now, and will be plenty tough, although I think we'll win on a dry field," he continued. "Columbia was lucky to win, 7 to 6, on a blocked kick against Navy, and Navy looked really strong in its 28-to-7 win over Maryland Saturday."

G. U. PREP LIGHTS SCORE.

Georgetown Prep's Lightweights defeated Chevy Chase Lightweights yesterday, 20-15, at Garrett Park.

marked its play in the Holy Cross game to put them across against Duquesne. With this end in view, Coach Dutch Bergman has called for the most extensive series of workouts of the season, both afternoon and at night, until game time.

G. U. Eleven Takes Light Workout.

Georgetown University's embattled grid squad took up the business of football again yesterday by holding a light practice prior to the start today of more serious work in preparation for the Bucknell game Saturday at Griffith Stadium.

Fairly satisfied with the defensive play of the Hoyas, but thoroughly displeased with the offensive drive and the blocking of the squad in general, Coach Jack Hagerty and his assistants face the same old task this week of rounding the Hilltop squad into a football team.

The play of Frank Williamson last Saturday has earned him a regular berth at center. Hagerty plans no sensational changes in line-up, as a whole, but will give him time to attempt once more to teach his charges a little Warner football.

Maryland Confident Of Victory.

Maryland hopes to use Washington and Lee next Saturday as a means of getting on a winning stride which it believes will carry it over Johns Hopkins the following week and give it enough momentum to put it across against Western Maryland in the final game of the year.

Washington and Lee is a rapidly improving football team and Maryland will have its work cut out for it. The Generals put the skids under Virginia, one of Maryland's conquerors, but Old Line supporters will point out that the Terps beat V. M. I., which also beat Virginia.

Gallaudet Host to Shepherd.

Gallaudet has added Shepherd College, of Shedherdstown, W. Va., to its schedule, and the Mountaineers will be met Saturday at Kendall Green. It does not seem likely that the Gallaudet schedule-makers have done anything to help the Blues, for Shepherd won handily over American U. earlier in the season, and American U. beat Gallaudet easily. Gallaudet's ambition now is not to win a game, particularly, but to score a point. It is one of the very few, if not the only college fotoball team in the country which has yet to score a point in 1932.

George Washington Teams Play Thursday.

George Washington, although it does not formally appear on a local gridiron again until Thanksgiving afternoon, against Oklahoma, will dash into the news columns Thursday afternoon, when it invites the football fans of Washington to witness its burly freshman team, actually bigger than the varsity, play a regulation game against the third varsity squad at Griffith Stadium.

The third Colonial team is known as the Radio squad. The freshmen, whose line averages 190, and who boast of a 210-pound full back in Bomba, has been acting as a punching bag to the varsity all year, and are out for vindication. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock. There is no admission fee.

The first stringers went through a signal practice yesterday, and will take things pretty easy for the greater part of the week. Hardy Pearce, who suffered a broken nose on the last play of the William and Mary game last Friday night, will be back in the line-up.

STEELE AND DUSEK ARE MATCHED

Stars Who Battled to 2-Hour Draw Feature This Week.

A CONTINUATION, and probably to a finish, of the two-hour wrestling draw committed here more than a year ago by Ray Steele and Rudy Dusek will be staged Thursday night at the Washington Auditorium as the feature of a card of five bouts, all of them a little better than the usual.

Gino Garibaldi is likely to meet the winner, and the winner of that may be tossed in the same ring with Jim Londos before the winter season has run its span.

Steele and Dusek rarely meet, for they belong to that upper crust which rassles the lower-rung boys, but rarely among themselves. Their two-hour draw was one of the best matches ever put on here, besides being one of the longest. There was an astonishing little bit of resting, that is sitting around the place with pleasant wrist locks on each other. Probably more real energy was expanded during that match than any since the return of rassling to the gold standard.

Women are free again with paying escorts.

Armstrong Wins, 12-6, From Dunbar Eleven

An intercepted forward pass, with the score tied at 6-all, and a 20-yard run by Mitchell in the fourth quarter of the annual intercity championship series game between Armstrong and Dunbar High Schools paved the way to Armstrong's victory, 12-6, yesterday at the Walker stadium.

The teams appeared evenly matched in the first half, but Armstrong took the lead in the third quarter when Williams scored through a combination of line plunges and broken-field running. The score was evened momentarily in the final when Lucas took a long pass across for the count.

Cardoso marched steadily down the field with a thrilling aerial attack and, except for the intercepted pass which gave Armstrong a touchdown, would probably have turned the tide in her own favor. The play of Turpin, Mitchell, Harrison and M. Robinson was especially brilliant.

Stocks Retreat Two Points After Realizing Onslaught

Professional Selling Is Aid in Declines; Turnover, 1,307,145 Shares.

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Stocks retreated today from the more advanced positions occupied last week.

It was a slow, if general, decline, and few active issues yielded in excess of a point or two.

With so lively a rally just behind it, the stock market probably encountered realizing and professional selling. Many brokers thought uncertainties created by the debt matter had made for hesitation, if not unsettlement. Also some bank suspensions occurred in scattered sections. Trade news was of scant market significance. Volume dropped to 1,307,145 shares.

Coca Cola, dipping nearly 7 points, reflected speculative disappointment over the company's smaller earnings and the omission of what had come to be a regular extra quarterly dividend of 25 cents. The company in the first nine months covered its regular payment with something to spare, but third-quarter net equal to $2.15 a share on the common contrasted with $3.28 for the second and $3.98 a year ago. Presumably traders interested in soft drink stocks have not been deaf to the current beer gossip.

The market tried two or three recovery movements, but never got very far toward eliminating its early losses and in the late trading was heavy, although final prices were largely above the lows. U. S. Steel common, touching 37½, was down little more than a point net. Bethlehem, American Can, North American, Westinghouse, Harvester, National Biscuit, Sears Roebuck, United Aircraft, General Motors, du Pont and General Electric were off 1 to 2, while slightly larger losses appeared for American Telephone, Allied Chemical and Auburn. Union Pacific, Case and American Tobacco "B" sagged approximately 3 net. The rail group was sluggish and heavy, although its losses conformed to the general pattern.

Sudden revival of the foreign debt question provided the day's chief topic of conversation in financial quarters, which did not fail to note the indications of a congressional controversy over the matter. Hope was expressed in some quarters that an international conference on the whole problem could result. Wall street went home without definite knowledge as to the nature of Gov. Roosevelt's reply to President Hoover's conference invitation.

Steel operations go into the new week supported chiefly by automobile orders for new model materials. The trade magazine Steel said that thus far the national election had had no effect on the markets "except the negative one of prolonging the indifference of most buyers."

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE

What the Stock Market Did

	Mon.	Sat.
Advances	116	259
Declines	343	136
Unchanged	108	108
Total issues traded	567	503

Stocks.

Realizing and professional selling sent prices down 2 points. Uncertainties over debt matters were blamed. The turnover amounted to 1,307,145 shares.

Bonds.

The market sagged under sales pressure against speculative loans. The average loss was .3 of a point. Caution marked trading. Sales reached $7,277,000.

Curb

A backwash of selling clipped prices from fractions to several points. Utilities were the principal targets. Oils closed steady. Sales totaled 210,000 shares.

Wheat

Aggressive buying sent wheat prices to highest level in two months. The heavier gains were lost later in trading. December deliveries sold at 45⅞ to 46 cents. Other grains were up.

Cotton

Moderate declines followed renewal of hedging and liquidating. Losses on other exchanges were blamed. December sold at 6.28. Liverpool reported Bombay buying.

BOND MARKET SAGS ON SALES PRESSURE

Loss Reaches Three-Tenths as Turnover Rises to $7,277,000.

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The bond market moved about nervously today and conflicting trends gave the price picture a rather spotty appearance.

While moderate pressure was exerted against various semispeculative groups, high-grade investment issues held to a fairly steady position with fraction gains and losses about evenly divided.

Caution marked the trading throughout and the sales volume dwindled to $7,277,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate bonds, however, recorded a decline of three-tenths of a point.

Of paramount interest to senior security holders were the negotiations of Great Britain and France with Washington regarding postponement and revision of war debt charges due America next month.

United States Government bonds were a trifle uneasy, most of the Treasury maturities selling off fractionally, while the Liberty loans were not unusually active but slightly firmer.

A few of the low-priced rails were quite heavy at times, although there were some small recoveries near the close of the session. Among the losers of a point or more were some liens of Allegheny Corporation, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake Corporation, Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island, Denver & Rio Grande, Erie, Great Northern, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, Nickel Plate, Pennsylvania and Texas & Pacific. Loans of many other roads were irregular.

American & Foreign Power, Utilities Power & Light, and International Telephone issues were among the weak utilities. Most of the better power and light companies were steady. Gains were registered by loans of Loew's, Texas Corporation, Goodrich, Chile Copper and National Steel.

The foreign department was dull and generally easier. The heaviest of this group were the Germans and Argentines. British 5½s, after early weakness, rallied to close unchanged.

Banks to Pay $440,000,000 In Christmas Club Checks

New York, Nov. 14 (U.P.).—American business will receive a powerful stimulant within the next two weeks —$440,000,000 in Christmas Club checks to be mailed to 10,500,000 members by 7,000 banks.

Although the business depression reduced the fund distribution 26 per cent from the 1931 total, bankers believe the average payment of $42 a member this year will represent more purchasing power than the larger average payment last season. Each dollar will buy more.

The savings clubs, established 22 years ago to provide holiday nest eggs, have gradually turned into other channels. This year it is estimated that only 38 per cent of the total will be used directly for Christmas purchases. About 28 per cent will be placed in permanent savings accounts and investments, 11 per cent will go for year-end commitments, and 10 per cent will pay tax bills.

Smaller amounts will be used for mortgage payments, insurance premiums, education, travel and charity.

Many depositors, bankers say, have adopted the Christmas club as an easy method of systematically accumulating funds in small weekly deposits for constructive uses. They minimize the 12 per cent decline in membership this year.

In the distribution of Christmas club payments New York State led again this year with $94,710,000, while Pennsylvania was second with $53,922,000 and New Jersey third with $35,088,000. In the New York City metropolitan district depositors will receive $62,000,000.

The Bank of America National Trust & Savings Association, through its 395 branches in California, will distribute about $5,000,000. The Bank of Manhattan Trust Co. has more than $3,000,000 ready for its 80,000 members, and the First National Bank of Detroit has $2,900,000 available for 73,000 persons.

Estimated total distributions by districts throughout the country follow:

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London—Trading was quiet and prices moved irregularly during most of the session on the stock exchange. Early firmness in gilt-edged securities was not maintained although sterling exchange was steadier on foreign buying. Gold mining shares were in good demand while other sections yielded on realizing. The closing was easy.

Paris—Trading on the bourse was hesitant pending the French budget terms and the latest events in Germany. Profit-taking caused losses in most sections, but recent gains, however, were partially held. The closing was heavy.

Berlin—Trading was listless on the boerse due to the political uncertainty. The market closed weaker.

U. S. TREASURY RECEIPTS.

(Associated Press.)

Treasury receipts for November 11 were $3,626,685.68; expenditures, $13,855,913.15; balance —$674,965,899.41. Customs duties for eleven days of November were $9,970,442.83.

GOLD MOVEMENT.

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The only change in the gold holdings of the New York Federal Reserve Bank was an importation of $9,600 from Mexico. There were no exports or change in earmarked stock.

CURB PRICES DOWN ON SELLING DRIVES

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The curb market encountered a backwash of selling today, sending prices of leading shares down from fractions to several points. Transfers totaled 210,000 shares, against 280,000 on Friday.

Electric Bond & Share, which had advanced late last week in fairly heavy trading, was the principal selling target. The common stock gave up nearly 5 points. Its weakness was attributed to reports of probable unfavorable dividend action by some of its affiliated companies, although nothing official on this point was available until after the market closed.

After the close, however, United Gas Co. cut its $1.75 quarterly preferred dividend in half, such action having been foreshadowed by a break of 8 points in the stock. General Power & Light, which controls United Gas, holds a dividend meeting next week, and there was some discussion of possible reduction or omission of that company's second preferred dividend. Directors of Electric Bond & Share, which controls Electric Power & Light, meet next Wednesday. The company is currently paying a common dividend of 6 per cent, payable in common stock.

Other utilities were reasonably steady. American Gas & Electric yielded about 3 points, but American Superpower, Cities Service, Niagara Hudson Power and United Light & Power A confined their losses to fractions.

The oils were steady in light trading. Standard of Indiana and Gulf were unchanged. Among industrials, Aluminum Co. gave up 5 points. Swift Internacional encountered a flurry of selling which erased more than a point from that stock's recent gains.

Deere & Co. and Newmont Mining two unusually active stocks, each lost more than a point.

Autumn Furniture Sales At Jamestown Increase

Jamestown, N. Y., Nov. 14 (A.P.). More business was placed in the first four days of the fall Jamestown furniture market than in the entire two weeks of the spring showing, market officials announced today.

The market opened last Wednesday. Buyers from sixteen States and Canada were reported optimistic as to business conditions. Seventy manufacturers are showing.

This is the first of the major markets to open since an upward trend was noted in business and the furniture trade was reported watching it for signs of business revival.

WHEAT VALUES RISE ON EASTERN BUYING

Heaviest Gains in 2 Months Trimmed in Trading; Other Gains Up.

Chicago, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Aggressive buying largely on Eastern orders jumped wheat values today to the topmost point reached in more than two months, but later the gains crumbled.

Influenced by New York stock market downturns, many wheat operators who earlier had espoused the purchase side turned sellers. The transient advance of wheat was associated in great degree with a statement, issued by one of the biggest houses in the trade, that definite European steps for readjusting of war debts were a distinctly favorable move toward settlement of the world economic crisis.

Following late reactions, wheat closed unsettled at the same as Saturday's finish to ¾ higher; corn, also unchanged to ¾ up; oats, unchanged to ⅛ advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 20 cents.

Setbacks in Values.

Late setbacks of wheat values were in the face of predictions by eminent authorities that thrashing returns would show United States 1932 spring wheat yields had been officially overestimated 30,000,000 bushels. Bearish behavior of securities both early and late formed a decided handicap to wheat bulls, and 2 points upturn in British exchange rates failed to act as an offset. Nevertheless the bullish construction placed on developments regarding war debts lifted wheat prices temporarily almost 2 cents a bushel from the day's bottom level.

A feature of bullish statements about war debts was that the international situation had been an element of uncertainty checking any effort at general world relief, but that the problem now came forward in such shape that it must be weighed in the light of reason instead of emotion, and not hidden and avoided. Severe winter weather curtailing wheat receipts north and south of the Canadian boundary were also emphasized together with reports of persistent drought in United States winter crop territory southwest. One private report indicated 9,000,000 acres were affected by the drought.

Corn and oats swayed with wheat. Shipping and export demand for corn failed to follow price upturns.

COCA COLA WILL PAY REGULAR DIVIDENDS

Extra 25 Cents on Common Is Omitted; Advertising to Be Increased.

Atlanta, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The board of directors of the Coca Cola Co. here today declared the regular quarterly dividend and announced plans to continue advertising activities for 1933 at the highest level in the history of the company.

The directors said the 1933 advertising appropriation had been materially increased over the 1932 expenditure, which was the largest in the concern's history.

The directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 per share on the common stock and the regular semiannual dividend of $1.50 per share on the class "A" stock. The extra dividend of 25 cents a share paid on the common stock for several past quarters was omitted.

Chapman J. Root, of Terre Haute, Ind., head of the Root Glass Co. and one of the large factors in the Coca Cola bottling industry, was elected a director.

It was announced that for the first nine months of 1932 earnings on the common stock amounted to $7.30 per share, after payment of taxes and dividends on the class "A" stock, compared to $9.23 per share for the same period of 1931.

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp. reports for the quarter ended September 30 a net loss of $212,013 after taxes, depreciation, depletion and other charges. This compared with a net loss of $1,252,908 in the same quarter last year.

For the first three quarters of 1932, the company had a net loss of $943,097, against $4,154,730 in the corresponding 1931 period. The balance sheet on September 30 disclosed current assets of $17,701,000 against current liabilities of $1,925,000.

Columbian Carbon Co. today reported net income of $869,363 for the nine months ended September 30, equal to $1.24 a share, compared with $1,406,015, or $2.61 a share in the same period of 1931.

Directors of the United Gas Corp. today ordered a quarterly dividend of 87½ cents on the $7 cumulative preferred stock.

This is only one-half the regular quarterly payment of $1.75, and since the stock is cumulative, will be credited to dividend arrearage on the stock, which must be paid before payments may be made on junior issues.

Canadian Wheat Pools Given Government Aid

Ottawa, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett informed the House of Commons today that the federal government has made guarantees to the banks to permit Canadian cooperative wheat pools to continue hedging operations.

If hedging had been discontinued, Mr. Bennett said, the Canadian crop could not be marketed.

AUBURN TOPS TEAMS IN SOUTH

Defeat Would Put 6 Other Teams in Running.

By DILLON GRAHAM.

ATLANTA, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Those gridiron experts whose fancy runs to figures were busy today recalculating the mathematical changes of six teams to win the Southern Conference football championship should Auburn falter.

The Auburn Plainsmen from Alabama Poly are out in front now with five victories and no defeats, but they must yet face Georgia and South Carolina with a possibility of losing one of these engagements.

Auburn's big test comes Saturday against Georgia at Columbus, Ga. Most sportsmen expect Auburn to win, but Georgia has improved rapidly in recent weeks. The South Carolina game should come as an anticlimax.

Auburn Loss Would Jumble Race.

A defeat for Auburn would leave the race a thoroughly jumbled-up affair, with any one of several teams likely to claim a share of the spoils. Tennessee, Vanderbilt, Louisiana State, Virginia Poly, North Carolina State and Tulane would still have an outside chance.

Vanderbilt and Tennessee are unbeaten, but both have tie games against their records. Should Vanderbilt beat Alabama and Tennessee win from Kentucky and Florida, these teams would finish without defeat.

One loss for Vanderbilt and one for Tennessee would leave the Commodores a season's average of .800 and the Volunteers one of .857. Vanderbilt will be hard pressed to beat Alabama, but Tennessee will be favored over Kentucky and Florida, although Kentucky may exercise its annual jinx and ruin Tennessee's alim hopes.

In the event Auburn loses to Georgia and wins from South Carolina, the Plainsmen would have an average of .857. Supposing that Tennessee also suffered one lacing, this would place Auburn in a deadlock with Virginia Poly and a step ahead of Tennessee. The Plainsmen and the Gobblers would have six wins and one loss against Tennessee's one tie and the same number of victories and defeats. Virginia Poly, of course, must play Virginia Military, but the Blacksburg aggregation is expected to take this contest under wraps.

Louisiana State Unbeaten In Conference.

Louisiana State, unbeaten and with three wins, plays Tulane on November 26. A decision here would allow the Tigers a perfect conference season. However, L. S. U. has been beaten twice and tied once outside the conference, and, as the Loop championship is purely a newspaper award, few experts would vote the title to the Baton Rouge squad on its comparatively short and weak schedule.

Virginia Poly, Auburn, Tennessee and Vanderbilt must all go haywire for North Carolina State or Tulane to have a chance. N. C. State plays South Carolina and Tulane opposes Sewanee and L. S. U.

Should Auburn win both its last games, there would be no doubt as to where the title would rest.

excused from practice today to view a game between the freshmen and the reserves.

None of the Buckeyes was hurt seriously in the Pennsylvania game Saturday except Bert Nasman, who injured his knee and probably will be out for the rest of the year. All the others will be ready for action tomorrow when the Bucks start preparations for the final game of the season with Illinois at Champaign next Saturday.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—A light Monday drill and a census of the injured made up the Purdue football squad's preparation today for the annual game with Indiana. Jim Carteg and Doxie Moore, injured half backs, were not expected to see further duty this season.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Coach E. C. Hayes started today to build a defensive back field, for use when his Indiana football team meets Purdue Saturday. Dauer was named a probable starter. Trainers announced Rehm, regular left tackle for the Hoosiers, sustained injuries at Illinois that probably will keep him out of the Purdue battle.

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Still weary from their bruising battle at Notre Dame Saturday, Northwestern's regulars were excused from practice today. Coach Dick Hanley said Harry Leeper, Fort Wayne, Ind., sophomore, will take Pug Rentner's place in the Wildcat back field. Rentner suffered two fractured ribs Saturday and will be out of the final game of the season against Iowa this week.

Champaign, Ill. (A.P.).—A light drill on new formations started Illinois' preparation for the Ohio State game Saturday, the final contest of the season. Chuck Bennis, reserve center, was sent to guard on the first string, replacing Jack Bodman, who suffered aggravation of a shoulder injury in the Indiana game.

Chicago (A.P.).—Members of the University of Chicago squad who played against Michigan Saturday were given a day of rest by Coach A. A. Stagg. The Maroons came out of the battle in good physical condition and expect to be at top strength against Wisconsin this week.

Madison, Wis. (A.P.)—Wisconsin's varsity was given a rest as a reward for its good performance against Minnesota. Whether Dave Tobias, tackle, and Hal Smith, full back, who were injured Saturday, will be able to play against Chicago, was still undecided.

Iowa City (A.P.)—Coach Ossie Solem spent half of the University of Iowa practice period in giving the Hawkeyes a combined blackboard demonstration of Northwestern plays and pep talk in pointing for the Wildcat game Saturday.

Minneapolis (A.P.).—A snowstorm and cold snap kept Minnesota's gridders indoors as the first preparation for the Michigan game found the Gophers polishing up their offensive against the Wolverines' style of defense. Francis (Pug) Lund was laid off duty and underwent another X-ray of a rib injury.

MOUNT RAINIER IS ACTION.

Mount Rainier's 130-pound basket ball representatives will meet the Swann Service five tomorrow night at Mount Rainier in the opening game of the season for both teams. The 115-pound Mount Rainier Club is seeking a game. Call Manager Carson Meyers at Greenwood 1881.

Brunelle Signed As Celtics' Coach

Will Prep Eleven for Second Game Sunday Against Hawks.

Lou Brunelle, trainer of the Catholic University football team, yesterday signed to coach St. Mary's Celtics, it was announced by Manager Buck Grier. Brunelle will assume his new duties immediately. He has called a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Vic's Sport Shop for a blackboard drill.

A tackle on the All-Marine eleven of 1923-24, Brunelle is well versed in the intricacies of the modern game. He has long been a keen student of football.

Grier plans to sign several new players for Sunday's big game with the Mohawks in an attempt to give the Celtics a second victory over their rivals for the District pre crown. St. Mary's won the first game, 12 to 6, scoring both touchdowns in the final period.

The Mohawks rested last night, but Coach Artie Wondracek has issued a call for practice tonight on the Seamen Gunners field, and the squad will work the remainder of the week. Wondracek was well pleased with the team's showing against the Senators.

Pepco Barry, who was a Celtic in the team's first game with the Hawks, will play against his former teammates Sunday. Barry and Pee Colliere give the Indians a decided advantage over their opponents in the back field.

Chicago Cheer Leader Suffers Head Injury

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The business of leading cheers for college football teams is becoming more and more hazardous.

Today's example was Claude Miller, University of Illinois varsity cheer leader. He was in a hospital recovering from the effects of a head injury suffered during the Indiana-Illinois game Saturday.

Miller attempted a back flip during one of his maneuvers, but his timing was a bit off and he fell, striking his head on the ground. A slight concussion was the diagnosis.

Hitting the Headpin

JACK TALBURT rolled 453 and tied the all-time set record for the District League, which was established earlier in the season by Earl McPhillomy. Talburt, nevertheless, bowled with a losing team, for the champion Northeast Temple quintet won all three games.

Talburt's games were 140, 166 and 147. In equaling the record, the Georgetown ace scored sixteen strikes and four spares. Ollie Pacini was high for Temple with a 137 game and 369 set. The match was rolled at Georgetown.

Nell Anderson hung up a new season record in the District Government League at Arcadia, when he massacred the maples for an even 400 pins. But Anderson's teammates went him two better, and when the last box had been tabulated the Fire Department team was the proud possessor of two all-time league records, a 638 game and 1,801 set.

With Joe Priest showing the way, Colonial Ice Cream won all three from B. & O. Passenger Department in the National Capital League at Lucky Strike. Nothing unusual about that, although the Railroaders scored over 500 in each of their games. Priest's 149 game and 406 set were high. Buck Miller, of B. & O., who also rolls in the leading league of Baltimore, led his team with 135 and 381.

Edgar Heimer and Jack Gooding tied at 136 for high game honors in the Typothetae loop at Lucky Strike, but Gooding continued on to take the set honors with 377. Big Print Shop won the team honors, as usual, with its 575 game and 1,718 total for three.

Lord Baltimore and Standard ran a dead heat for the high-game prize in the Petroleum League at Columbia, each rolling 548, but Standard proved to be the better of the two over a longer distance and came home in front with 1,600 for the set laurels. Phipps' 381 set and 137 game led the individual pinspulling.

Edna Johnson's 133 and 318 scores outdistanced all rivals for the individual honors in the Ladies Eastern Star League at Lucky Strike. Washington Centennial No. 1 bumped the bottles for 837, high game, and 1,473, high set.

In the Ladies Commerce League, also at Lucky Strike, Mabel Harris was high with 120 and 311. Bureau of Mines toppled 469 sticks for the best team game of the evening, and 1,364 pins for the high set.

Rendesvous white-washed Meyer Davis in a Ladies District League match at King Pin, as Margaret Lehman lambasted the lumber for a game of 123, which culminated in a 335 set. Rendesvous' high game was 537, and its set, 1,479.

Silver Spring rolled 1,617 for high set, and Langdon Office, 564, high game in Section 1, North of Washington League, at Silver Spring. Jack Shanklin stacked enough wood for a 279 set, and Frank Hollis breezed through to 138 for the best game.

"Luke" Lucas stole the show in the King Pin Business Men's League with his 141 game and 346 set. Mayer Co. went to the head of the class as a result of its 1,593 set and 564 game.

Wally Burton and Freddy Moore shared high game honors in the Men's Federal League at Arcadia, each rolling 151. Day Boston, however, went on to bigger and better pinspilling and finished with a 363 set. Post Office took the game prize with 621, and G. P. O. led in sets with 1,766.

COLORADO GRIDMAN HURT.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 14 (A.P.).—Ralph McClure, half back on the Colorado College eleven, was in a critical condition at a hospital here today with a fractured and dislocated vertebrae in his neck.

BRENTWOOD HAWKS DRILL.

Held to a scoreless tie by the Meridians last Sunday, the Brentwood Hawks will practice tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at Brentwood, in hopes of turning in a victory over the Hopkins Furniture eleven when the two meet Sunday at Alexandria. All players are requested to report promptly.

SHOLL'S QUINTET READY.

Sholl's quintet will open its season Thursday night at Central High School, providing a suitable opponent can be obtained for the date. The club had originally scheduled its opening. Sholl's won the A. A. U. unlimited championship under the Saks banner last season, and has high hopes of repeating its triumph this year. For games call Manager Dick Mothershead between 6 and 7 p. m. at Decatur 0032.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

C. W. "CHIP" GRAFTON won two football games for Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., in 1927, without playing in either one of them, under the old rule that a kick for an extra point after the touchdown was not part of the playing time.

In the Oglethorpe game, with the score 6-0 against Presbyterian College, the Presbyterians scored a touchdown, tying the game. Grafton was called from the bench to kick goal for the extra and winning point. Under the rules then prevailing time was out while the attempt was made for the extra point, thus Grafton did not play while the game was in progress. The same circumstances arose in the Erskine game of the same year, and Grafton again kicked for the winning point without taking part in the playing.

The kilt and the plaid, universally associated with Scotland, are not of Scotch origin. The well-dressed Irish nobleman of the seventh century wore this style of dress, which later became popular in Scotland, and finally the world-wide brand of the Scotchman.

THE ONCE OVER

H. I. PHILLIPS

THE LANDSLIDE
(In the Ogden Nash Manner.)

MR. HOOVER, despite his fund of knowledge,
Barely got into the Electoral College;
He carried the State of Pennsylvania
Which apparently has a curious mania
For wanting to be decidedly exclusive
When the rest of the country is feeling abusive.
He also carried Vermont and New Hampshire
Where the residents evidently don't give a damshire
How the other sections of the country are voting
Nor what the Literary Digest straw votes are denoting.

* * * *

The control of both houses will now be Democratic
Which assures plenty of conduct very erratic;
The total vote for Mr. Roosevelt was somewhat surprising
As very few people anticipated that sort of uprising;
Everybody had an idea the voters were pretty weary
But didn't realize they were so anti-engineery.
There were people who felt that somehow Mr. Hoover
Was the best man to help the country recoover,
When they found the G. O. P. had carried only Ogden Mills.

* * * *

Millions of voters were influenced by the Brown Derby;
They wanted to sock somebody and felt it might as well be Herbie.

* * * *

Herbert also carried the State of Connecticut
Where to defeat J. Henry Roraback is a breach of etticut;
But Gov. Cross managed to win by a couple of noses
Which was most disconcerting to his Republican foeses.
Senator Bingham was literally hurled through the transom
Which 'a too bad because th- Senate needs men who are handsome.

* * * *

Senator Reed Smoot, to his surprise, was defeated in Utah
And naturally it left him very black and blue-tah;
Senator Moses was whipped and will make no more passes
For a long time at Sons of the Wild Jackasses;
They gave Jim Watson the gate out in Indiana
And did it in what might be called a very rough manna.

* * * *

One of the big surprises came from the State of Ohio
Which went Democratic completely, oh me, oh my-o!
The donkey had no trouble at all cleaning up in Nebraska;
In fact it wa, pretty much the same story from Mexico to Alaska;
Seldom in history have so many Republicans been given the gate
And there is a very general feeling it must have been something they ate.

* * * *

In New York State and city Roosevelt's choice was so unanimous
That Mr. Curry is now regretting he showed so much June animus;
At the Democratic convention Curry was so cold to Franklin
That in the breast of the Democratic winner it must still be ranklin'.

* * * *

Looking over the Nation today and broadly speaking
It looks very much like a keg with the seams all leaking;
The Noble Experiment seems to have a bad case of jitters
And the people may soon get something to drink besides bad gin and bitters;
The overwhelming revolt would seem to indicate Prohibition's fall,
But Mrs. Ella Boole says that it doesn't mean anything like that at all;
And that keen interpreter of events, Mr. Deets Pickett,
Says all it means is that the people are satisfied with a wine bricket.

* * * *

Even Bishop Cannon
Can't understannon
How anybody can be so silly as to think for a minute
That so far as repeal is concerned there is anything in it.

* * * *

Anyhow it is all over and it is up to us to see if we can Convince Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt we are the Forgotten Man.

A COMPLETE SWAP.

The country not only changed horses in midstream but changed streams.

CLAIMING DUE CREDIT.

We always said it was only a matter of time before synthetic gin drove the American public to a revolt.

Damage Suit Is Filed As Result of Injuries

Speros Mantalvanos, 42 B street southwest, yesterday filed suit against Marie J. Hyndman, Brooklyn, N. Y., for $10,000 damages.

The suit, filed by Attorney Alvin L. Newmyer in District Supreme Court, charged the New Yorker with failing to observe a stop sign at Thirteenth and Q streets northwest, with the result that she drove her car into the plaintiff.

6 Police Cars Speed to Row At Roadhouse

The Blue Pelican roadhouse at 5840 Conduit road was the scene of much excitement late last night.

Policeman E. C. Darby, who chanced to visit the place, arrived just in time to see a man fighting with a woman and flourishing a gun. The policeman started toward the man and shouted for assistance.

A short while later radio cars 31, 32, 72 and 82, a patrol wagon and a car load of plain clothes men arrived on the scene.

As a result Darby had the assistance of 15 policemen in arresting Charles Berger, 24, 1929 Calvert street northwest, and Irene Boswell, 29, 300 C street northwest, the principals in the disturbance which halted the dance.

LITTLE GIRL KILLED WHEN HIT BY TRUCK IN CROSSING STREET

TRAFFIC TOLL
To Date

Protect children while they are playing. Instruct them not to cross intersections by themselves, or to play in the streets, as a large percentage of fatalities and traffic injuries involving children are caused by playing in the street or running across an intersection without adult supervision.

The death count to date has increased to 41 more fatalities than during the corresponding period of 1931, and 209 more injuries have been recorded. The total number of accidents has decreased by 425. The figures are:

	1931	1932
Deaths	69	110
Injuries	3,115	3,324

"Be Careful!"

Three-year-old Harriet Monashkin, youngest of the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Monashkin, of 2410 Nichols avenue southeast, was instantly killed when she was crushed between the wheels of a truck in front of her home last night.

The truck was operated by William C. Lane, 40, of Baltimore, Md., who was arrested by Eleventh Precinct police and held for the coroner. He was later released on bond to appear at an inquest.

Harriet, who was with the child of a neighbor, started to run across the street when she was struck by the truck. Witnesses said that she darted into the busy thoroughfare from behind a trolley pole.

Both front and rear wheels passed over the child, crushing her body. Bystanders pulled her from beneath the vehicle, but she was dead when examined by an ambulance physician. Policemen tested the brakes of the truck and found them in good condition.

The child's mother was prostrated when she learned of the accident. The father was in New York. He was immediately notified by telephone. The other children are Ethel, 18; Leonard, 16, Seymour, 8, and Albert, 6.

Mesny Is Elected By Kalorama Body

Crowded School Is Topic Discussed at Meeting of Association.

Arthur B. LeP. Mesny was elected president of the Kalorama Citizens Association last night at the annual meeting in the John Quincy Adams School, Nineteenth and California streets northwest.

George W. Hodgkins was named first vice president; Miss Eleanor M. Hough, second vice president; John L. Haynes, secretary, and B. Tracy Ansell, treasurer. Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley and Joseph FitzGerald, jr., were selected as delegates to the Federation of Citizens Associations.

E. C. Babcock addressed the association in behalf of the Community Chest. The crowded conditions at the Western High School were discussed, and the matter was referred to the committee on education.

$25,000 Asked in Suit On Auto Crash Injuries

Paul G. Hogan, 7701 Georgia avenue northwest, yesterday, in the District Supreme Court, instituted suit for $25,000 damages against Alvin W. Marshall, 1237 Sixth street southwest, for injuries in an automobile accident at First street and Constitution avenue last month.

Mr. Hogan, through Attorneys Frank F. Nesbit and Charles E. Pledger, jr., claimed that an automobile he was driving was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. Marshall.

Barber Pleads Guilty In Slaying of Another

Ervin McFadden, a colored barber, yesterday entered a plea of guilty to murder in the second degree in connection with the slaying of James C. Havenner, a white barber.

McFadden said he cut Havenner's throat with a razor in the rear yard of 320 C street southwest while both were drinking. The slaying occurred on May 17, and McFadden had been indicted for first-degree murder. Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue remanded McFadden for sentence next week.

Left to right—Mihill, Junior Mihill and Lee Thew, who accompanied him on the trip. Others in the party were Vernon and Roy Mihill, Arthur Myers and Ed and Paul Hazleton.

STEWARD PRAISES U. S. DEPARTMENTS

Speaker Hits 'Outside Talk' Favoring Abolition of Federal Units.

Interests "outside of Washington" advocating the abolition of three Government departments were scored last night by Luther C. Steward, national president of the Federation of Federal Employes, at ceremonies attending installation of new officers of Federal Employes' Union, No. 262.

The meeting, held at 710 Fourteenth street northwest, was addressed by Mr. Steward, following the installation exercises.

Mr. Steward pointed to a movement now under way "outside of Washington" whereby the departments of Agriculture, Commerce and Labor would be abolished. This interest, Mr. Steward declared, suggested that any necessary part of these departments could be established in one bureau in the Department of Interior.

Following a brief outline of the movement, Mr. Steward urged members of the local union to lend their efforts toward discouraging any such "propaganda." He declared that the public at large would suffer if the three departments were altered in any way.

New officers of the union were J. O. Burnham, president; Edgar Graham, first vice president; W. E. Perry, second vice president; Mrs. Ola G. King, third vice president; E. C. Hooper, financial secretary and treasurer, and R. O. Hundley, recording secretary.

Wilfred Offutt was appointed chairman of the membership committee and A. D. Sartwell chairman of the ways and means committee. W. H. Clark was made trustee.

Man Stops Policeman To Beg Money for Oil

Apparently stranded here without gasoline for his sedan, Albert Seastrom, 27, of New York, chose the wrong man to stop for money when he drove his car alongside one being driven by Policeman J. R. Birch.

After he had asked Birch for a dime, he was placed under arrest. Yesterday his personal bonds were taken when he was tried in Police Court. As a condition of letting the man go, Judge Ralph Given told him to leave town. "Yes, sir, just as soon as I get the money for gasoline, I'm going," Seastrom said.

Georgetown Is Facing Ousted Teacher's Suit

The president and directors of Georgetown University were named defendants in a suit for $25,000, filed in District Supreme Court yesterday by Jacob Markowitz, a former professor of physiology in the Georgetown Medical School.

Mr. Markowitz, through Attorney Charles L. Frailey, charged he had been discharged from his position without cause last August. He said that as a result of the discharge, he will lose his salary of $4,500 a year and will be prevented from obtaining a position with any other school because of the custom of the schools in banning professors who have been discharged from other schools.

POLICEMAN ADOPTS HUNGRY LITTLE GIRL

But Two Small Sisters and Baby Brother Face Stern Winter.

Two small sisters and a baby brother will envy little Edna when she leaves them to romp through the home of Policeman George Greenip, of the Eleventh Precinct, who lives in Mount Rainier, Md. The child, who made friends with Greenip and gradually won his heart, knows that when she goes to live with her trusted friend that the days of bread crusts will be over, and that her life will be a sheltered one as she plays in the rural section.

Her only concern will be the fate of her brother and sisters, who have been left in care of their mother. Unable to support her flock, the mother, who grew to know Policeman Greenip, as he patroled his beat, appealed to him for aid and he decided that he would take the child to his home and adopt her. Edna, who is 4, will find a new mother in Mrs. Stella Greenip, and in this way will help her own mother, who is recovering from three major operations performed last year.

The child will go to her new home December 1, but the little faces she knows so well are facing a winter of hunger and cold. Officer Greenip said yesterday that any one who can provide the children with a good home and were interested in adopting one of Edna's little relatives, could make arrangements with him to get acquainted with the youngsters.

Man With $6 Gets Jail Sentence for Begging

Raymond Blackman, 25, was sent to jail for 10 days yesterday when Judge Ralph Given found he had $6 in his pockets when he was arrested Saturday for begging on F street.

Policeman W. A. Schotter said he watched Blackman accept coins from several persons before he arrested him. The man had all his money in small pieces when he was arrested.

Traction Company Is Sued for $45,000

Auto-Trolley Collision and Fall From Street Car Basis of 3 Actions.

Three suits totaling $45,000 were filed against the Capital Traction Co. yesterday in District Supreme Court.

Two of them were filed by Mrs. Esther Siegal and her husband, Adolph, of 4707 Georgia avenue northwest, as a result of a collision between their automobile and a street car at Seventh and T streets northwest, on September 10. Mrs. Siegal asked for $25,000 damages, and her husband seeks $10,000. Attorney Alvin L. Newmyer and Jacob Sandler filed the papers.

The third suit was filed by Annie Ketonen, of 1515 Park road northwest, who, through Attorney Michael J. Lane, demanded $10,000 for injuries suffered when she fell from a street car at Fourteneth and H streets northwest, on September 23.

Alumnae Will Present Pianist.

The International Federation of Catholic Alumnae will present Dr. Edward P. Donovan, pianist, as guest artist tonight at 8 o'clock at the Sears, Roebuck & Co. Art Galleries, 1108 Connecticut avenue. Mrs. James E. Colliflower, president of the St. Cecelia's Alumnae Association, is chairman of the reception committee.

BRAVERY OF WOMAN MAY FIX BLAME FOR WAVE OF ROBBERIES

Holds on to One of Men and Gets Good Description to Give to Police.

The bravery of Mrs. Minnie C Weaver, of 3100 Wisconsin avenue northwest, in trying to hold one of the men she discovered looting her apartment yesterday, may result in the arrest of men believed to be responsible for several housebreakings in fashionable sections of the city, police believe.

When Mrs. Weaver returned home, accompanied by a friend, her apartment was found in disorder and two men were surprised in the act of ransacking trunks and bureau drawers. When Mrs. Weaver screamed the men fled, but she grabbed the coat of one man and held on until he reached the bottom of the stairs. Attracted by the commotion, other persons joined in the chase, but the men escaped.

Police said the descriptions given by Mrs. Weaver and witnesses was identical to those given of two suave and well-dressed men who have been calling at fashionable apartments under the pretext of renting apartments and gaining information evidently needed for burglaries later committed in the houses.

$1,000 Losses Reported

Clothing, jewelry and other articles, aggregating more than $1,000 in value, were reported yesterday as having been stolen in housebreakings and thefts from automobiles.

Thieves who entered the home of Commander Greene W. Dugger, U. S. N., at 3436 Thirty-fourth street northwest, took a radio, sewing machine, a Latin Bible printed in 1630 and other articles. No value was placed on the Bible, but the other articles were valued at $118. Commander Dugger told police the theft occurred during his absence from home since April.

Miss Nellie M. Marshall, of 2714 Quarry road northwest, reported burglars who jimmied a lock to the door of her apartment yesterday stole a 48-piece sterling silverware set, valued at $250, together with a sewing machine, a radio, clothing and jewelry, valued at $255.

Cleaning Shop Robbed.

Harry Cohen, of 224 East Capitol street, reported that $5 in cash, an overcoat valued at $25, and other clothing were stolen from his cleaning shop Sunday night.

Two traveling salesmen were the victims yesterday of thieves preying on parked automobiles.

Benjamin D. Hubley, of Philadelphia, reported that clothing, jewelry and other articles, valued at $203, were taken from his car while parked at 5068 North Capitol street.

Lester Jaffe, also of Philadelphia, reported his car was looted while parked at 906 Eighth street northwest. Forty dresses valued at $300 were stolen.

Hotel Guest Gets $2,000 for Jewels

Mrs. Mabel Deming Awarded Damage Verdict for Lost Gems.

Mrs. Mabel F. Deming, of the Shoreham Hotel, was given a $2,000 verdict in the District Supreme Court by a jury that heard evidence in her suit against the Wardman Real Estate Properties. Mrs. Deming, while a guest at the Carlton Hotel in 1930, lost several valuable pieces of jewelry, which were stolen from her room.

Through Attorney George W. Offutt and Ross H. Snyder, Mrs. Deming said she had left the jewels in her trunk when she left her room. Both the trunk and the door of the room were locked, she declared.

On her return she found the room had been entered and the trunk broken open. A platinum bracelet, set with 60 diamonds, a string of pearls with a diamond and emerald clasp, and a pear-shaped pendant aquamarine with diamonds were among the articles missing. Justice Joseph W. Cox sat at the trial.

Presbyterians Appoint Youth Budget Group

The monthly meeting of the Washington City Presbytery was held yesterday in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Henry B. Wooding presided.

A committee was appointed to report at the next meeting on the matter of the youth budget, presented by the Rev. Franklin Mack, young people's secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions. The committee included the Rev. F. S. Niles, the Rev. B. Braskamp, the Rev. Freeley Rohrer, the Rev. Paul Schearrer and the Rev. D. Hobart Evans.

Court Admits Practice By Breckenrdige Long

Breckenridge Long, Assistant Secretary of State in the Wilson administration, yesterday was admitted to practice in the District Supreme Court at a general term of that court, presided over by Chief Justice A. A. Wheat.

Mr. Long is a member of the bar of Missouri. His Washington home is at 3224 Sixteenth street northwest. Others who were admitted to practice at the general term were Comer C. Bell, Georgia; Charles H. Fleming, Pennsylvania; Seymour S. Guthman, Illinois; S. Jones Hill, Virginia, and William T. Joyner, of North Carolina.

NEW SAFETY RULE HITS UNFIT AUTOS

All Used Cars Must Pass Traffic Inspection When Sold.

As a measure to eliminate from Washington streets automobiles which are mechanically unfit and unsafe, the District Commissioners yesterday adopted an amendment to traffic regulations providing that after January 1 "no used motor vehicle shall be delivered by a vender or titled or registered in the District" unless it has been inspected by a representative of the traffic director's office or a registered dealer authorized by the traffic director.

Suggested by Traffic Director William A. Van Duzer and approved by the Traffic Advisory Council, the amendment will, in the opinion of the former, "eliminate from the streets a large number of vehicles which are mechanically unfit and that many others will be repaired, so as to be in safe mechanical condition before being operated again."

In addition, the traffic director recommended that the Commissioners ask Congress at its next session "to authorize the inspection of all vehicles at least once a year and to authorize the District government to collect an appropriate fee to cover the cost of this work, including the purchase of necessary testing apparatus and the employment of competent mechanics to do the work."

At present the District has no ban on motor vehicles, no matter what their mechanical condition, unless it be bad brakes. A yearly inspection of all motor vehicles is made in Maryland prior to the issuance of license tags.

CLASS LACKS HEAT; CITIZENS URGE QUIZ

Blair Kindergarten Pupils' Dismissal Followed by Plea for Inquiry.

Because the kindergarten class of the Blair School at Sixth and I streets northeast had to be dismissed yesterday morning due to lack of required heat, the Northeast Washington Citizens Association, at a meeting last night, adopted a resolution to place immediately the matter before the Board of Education for investigation.

According to Blair School officials the furnace at that institution could not be made to regulate the temperature above 58½ degrees, which mark, they said, was too low to allow children of the kindergarten to remain in class. They were dismissed and sent home.

The association also adopted a resolution requesting traffic lights at Fifth and H streets and Eleventh and H streets northeast, citing recent congestion at those intersections.

G. E. Taylor, of the Speakers Bureau of the Community Chest, delivered a short address on the Chest drive, and Morris Reddy, of the Red Cross, also spoke.

SCHOOL DEDICATED AND TRIBUTE PAID TO PHOEBE HEARST

Senator Copeland Speaker; Aquarium and Flag Are Presented.

Described by Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, in his dedicatory speech, as "a worthy monument to the most public spirited woman of her period," the new Phoebe Apperson Hearst Elementary School at Thirty-seventh and Tilden streets northwest was dedicated last night with a program of music and oratory.

Senator Copeland traced the career of Mrs. Hearst, laying stress on the important work she did while in Washington in laying the foundation for the kindergarten system and launching the parent-teacher movement. As a member of the District committee of the Senate, Senator Copeland pledged the advancement of every possible effort in interest of the local public school system and expressed confidence that his fellow members on the committee entertained similar sentiments.

Aquarium is Given.

The two grandsons of Mrs. Hearst, William Randolph Hearst, jr., and John Hearst, presented an aquarium to the school in behalf of their father, William Randolph Hearst. They took part in the corner stone laying ceremony of the school last year. Miss Catherine Watkins, director of kindergartens in the District, accepted the gift.

An American flag was presented to the school by Mrs. J. Jerome Lightfoot, representing the auxiliary unit of the Henry C. Spengler Post, No. 12, of the American Legion. The flag was accepted by Mrs. Sarah B. Holland, principal of the school.

Keys of School Presented.

The keys of the school were presented to Miss Holland by A. L. Harris, municipal architect, who designed the building. A bronze tablet, a gift from the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, was presented by Mrs. Arthur Birney, and accepted by Mrs. Philip Sydney Smith, of the Board of Education. The tablet bears an inscription from the address of Mrs. Herbert Hoover, delivered at the corner stone laying of the school.

Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of District schools, paid a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Hearst, and pointed to the school built in her name as a realization of the type of school she had in mind when she worked for the establishment of ideal school surroundings for young children.

Mrs. Smith presided at the exercises, which were opened with invocation by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church. Baritone solos were given by Henry Nestor, and soprano solos by Miss Dorothy Reddish.

Dilapidated Gun Resents Doubts as to Efficiency

It is only a little rusty .22-caliber pistol, held together with an elastic, but it will shoot, as Joseph Howard, 17, colored, 126 Sixteenth street southeast, learned to his sorrow.

It happened this way: Chester Brown, 17, colored, 1629 East Capitol street southeast, had bought the pistol for 75 cents. He took the pistol with him to the Holy Comforter Bowling alley at Fifteenth and East Capitol streets. His fellow pinman, Joe Howard, didn't think much of the gun.

When the boys left the alley yesterday afternoon, Howard challenged Brown to prove that his pistol was all right, by taking a shot at him from across the street. Brown took him up, raised his pistol and pulled the trigger. Bang! Both boys were surprised. The gun not only fired, but the bullet hit Howard in the leg. He was not seriously hurt, however, so they walked to Casualty Hospital to have the wound treated. On their way they also manufactured a story about Howard being shot by some white boys. Under police questioning they cracked and they told the truth.
